$400,000,000 Offered
Crushing Kurds Not Easy.
Real Estate and Beer.
High School Societies.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Bankers offered $85,000,000 worth of preferred stock in the Dodge Automobile company. Investors, who seem to have a good deal of money, offered to buy $400,000,000 worth. In addition to having money, the people seem to recognize a good thing when it is offered to them.

Suppose Henry Ford offered for sale his business, making 7,000 cars a day? How big a subscription would be offered?

Turkey plans to "crush the Kurds," and that will be a long, slow job.

The Kurds live in small villages, not easy to conquer, and in the summer they drive their sheep to high mountain pastures. With them fighting is a pleasure, other kind of work a bore. They are as proud of their ancestry, running back many centuries, as some New England lady, with an old-fashioned bureau and Mayflower relatives.

These Kurds fought against Xenophon's brave handful, on their way back to Greece. Kurds were fighting and marauding. They have been fighting Turks and Persians for the last thousand years, and will be doing the same thing a thousand years from now.

The earth changes slowly, and wiping out a nation, even a small one, as the Irish have proved, is no easy job.

Across the river from Detroit Canadians will permit real beer with more than 4 per cent of alcohol. The result is a real estate boom in Canadian lands purchased by American citizens. They want houses there, and country clubs.

One earnest Detroit real estate man puts it, "Work and exist by day in the United States, in the evening live in Canada."

A tunnel for commuters would make the situation perfect, although not exactly pleasing to Detroit's suburban real estate owners, or to earnest teetotalers.

High school authorities would like to abolish secret societies among students. But, the cabalistic instinct deeply rooted, is as old as the human race. Savages had their secret meetings and initiations in the forest, and their terrible "hazing." Young boys were supposed to endure cutting with knives, or to hang, suspended from thorns stuck in their flesh without whimpering.

The secret society for men and children satisfies man's desire to seem to know something that others do not know. Only real knowledge can drive that out.

A United States circuit court says radio stations may not broadcast copyrighted music. The copyright act applies to music by radio despite the fact that radio wasn't known when the law was written. The decision is wise and just.

Why doesn't the Constitution's provision guaranteeing freedom of the press protect moving pictures from censorship, in spite of the fact that moving pictures were unknown when the constitution was written?

What applies in one case should apply in another. The moving picture is printing, publicity, an improvement on old-fashioned press work. To censor it in advance is as preposterous as it would be to submit newspapers to the censor before allowing them to appear on the street.

Rust costs this country $300,000,000 a year and scientists wonder how they can save that money. One way is to use copper or brass instead of iron, for water pipes, gutters, etc.

You are told that rust is caused by electricity generated by water and air combining. A way may be found to make iron rust-proof. Meanwhile, wherever air and water mix use copper or brass and forget your troubles for 100 years.

CHARLES VAUGHN IS FINED $100

Charles Vaughn, of East Liverpool, was fined $100 and costs by Justice M. K. Zimerman, of Lisbon, Friday afternoon, when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of illegally possessing intoxicating liquors.

Vaughn and a companion were riding along the Lincoln Highway, near Long's Run bridge, when they saw Sheriff Wright and Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter approaching. Vaughn, the authorities claim, tossed three bottles of corn whiskey from his car.

Vaughn said he had given a man $2 at the corner of Fifth and Washington streets here and was told to go to a certain tree along the highway near Long's Run bridge where he would find three bottles of liquor.

He paid his fine.

EDGARLE BLOOR QUITS POLICE FORCE UNDER CRITICS' FIRE

Resignation Follows Shooting Affray Along River Road.

OTHERS ON JOB

Mayor Defends Special Patrolmen; Solons Assail Them.

Edgarle Bloor, "five dollar a month" member of the police force, tendered his resignation to Mayor Charles Brown and Safety Director S. E. Anderson, yesterday, as the result of criticism growing out of the near shooting of two East End youths along the River road last Sunday night.

Bloor turned over his gun, handcuffs, badge and other equipment to the safety director, stating that "there was not enough in the job to stand the criticism." His resignation was immediately accepted.

Resignation Not Requested.

Bloor, who was named a special patrolman about four months ago, is alleged to have fired at five East End boys in an automobile after they had failed to halt on his command near the Harker pottery. The bullet passed through the rear curtain of the car and crashed through the windshield, missing the heads of two passengers in the front seat.

The boys asserted that they did not recognize Bloor as an officer as he was dressed in civilian clothes. Not until later in the evening were they told that he was a policeman.

Bloor was arrested Tuesday evening on complaint of Mrs. M. C. Russell, mother of Evan Russell, driver of the car, who charged him with malicious destruction of property and shooting with intent to wound in Justice P. V. Mackall's court. The charge was with-

KELLOGG ACTS TO CHECK FLOW OF BANNED RUM

Draws Prohibition Net Tighter Around United States.

SIGNS 10 PACTS

Treaties With Canada and Cuba Will be Negotiated.

BY LLOYD LEHBAS.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—In its effort to draw the prohibition net still tighter around the country, the state department expects soon to announce the negotiation of several new rum treaties which authorities believe will go far toward checking the flood of illicit liquor that is still pouring into the United States.

Ten liquor treaties already have been negotiated with foreign governments, including the principal maritime nations of the world, and Secretary of State Kellogg expects shortly to sign a convention with Mexico that will plug up a few of the holes along the southern border.

A treaty with Canada, designed to frustrate the botlegging fraternity along the northern boundary, already has been completed and awaits only royal approval in London.

Cuba, which supplies thousands of cases of liquor to the rum runners is next on the list, and when that is completed the United States, theoretically at least, will be completly ringed by dry safeguards.

Drive on Rum Runners.

At the same time the coast guard is making final plans for the most highly concentrated drive against foreign rum runners ever undertaken, three hundred speed boats, twenty naval destroyers and 3,000 men comprise the dry navy. By the middle of June

DOUMERGUE ACTS

Overthrow of Socialist Causes Another Crisis in France.

PARIS, April 11.—A temporary cabinet until the municipal council elections in May reveal the trend of the country's political thought, may be the solution of the cabinet crisis brought about by the overthrow of Premied Edouard Herriot. President Doumergue was in conference with party leaders today in an effort to reach a decision as to Herriot's successor.

Paul Painleve, president of the chamber of deputies, and mentioned as a possible premier, only smiled when he was shown the Paris Midi's announcement of the "tentative Painleve cabinet" as he was leaving Elysees palace after a talk with President Doumergue.

The "tentative cabinet" named Aristide Brian, minister of foreign affairs; Anatole De Monzie, minister of finance; M. Nollet, minister of war; M. Loucher, minister of commerce, and Louis Marin, minister of the interior.

Expect Prolonged Crisis.

"I can only say I believe we have reached an agreement which may enable a satisfactory settlement of the cabinet crisis," Painieve told the press as he left the palace.

Doumergue also was in conference today with President of the Senate Doselves, Millies-La-Croix, president of the senate finance committee, and Vincent Auriol, president of the chamber finance committee.

MARION STAR LAUDS DONAHEYS

MARION, Ohio, April 11.—"All honor to the Donaheys' is the caption of a long editorial appearing in today's Marion Star, local newspaper made famous through the ownership of the late President Harding.

"We would feel that we were denying ourselves a privilege did we not voice our admiration of the course pursued by Victor Donahey—alike as the executive and the father—in connection with the escapade of his son Hal," the editorial says.

"We would feel that we were lost to a proper appreciation of the finer things in life, of all that is best and noblest in human nature, did we not sympathize from the bottom of our heart with Mrs. Donahey, who has not only shown herself a true mother throughout but also a high minded, noble hearted, sympathetic woman. She has made herself the central figure in the case and won for herself the admiration and love and esteem of the people of Ohio."

CITY SOLONS MAY ABOLISH SEALER'S JOB

Action Hinted as Grocers and Butchers Complain.

RATES TOO HIGH

Suggest Work be Turned Over to County Official.

The office of city sealer of weights and measures may be abolished and the work in East Liverpool turned over to the county sealer, as the result of complaints filed before the solons last night by a delegation of grocers and butchers.

A committee, headed by A. H. Kountz, Market street butcher, told members of the municipal legislative body, that exorbitant fees were charged by the city sealer for testing scales, while no charges were made for this work by the county sealer. He asserted that he had been forced to pay $7 for the testing of four sets of scales which required not more than 20 minutes' work.

Decide to Investigate

E. S. Donahey, St. Clair avenue butcher, inquired where the money collected by the city sealer went. Solicitor Brokaw replied that the fees were turned over to the board of health to help pay the salary of the sealer. Brokaw asserted that about $1,000 had been collected last year. Donahey declared at the rate charged this year, that more htan $2,500 would be derived from the source.

James Brown, Third street grocer, stated that W. R. Barr, county sealer

CONDUCTOR IS FATALLY BURNED IN FIRE AFTER COLLISION AT COLUMBUS

HEAVY FOG WHICH ENVELOPED CITY EARLY TODAY BLAMED FOR SMASH-UP

Motorman on Limited Jumps to Safety as he Realizes Danger—Both Cars Take Fire and One is Practically Destroyed Before Fire Department Arrives—Property Loss Heavy.

COLUMBUS, April 11.—Charles Kruck, Delaware, conductor, was burned to death and five passengers injured here early today when a special car on the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Interurban line ran into a regular car at Weber Road crossing, North Columbus.

The injured include:

GEORGE W. WILSON, Delaware, and Ohio State university student, broken legs and other injuries.

MISS MERCEDES LYONS, Columbus, cuts and bruises.

MRS. J. NOEL and BELLE WILLIAMS, both of Columbus, cut about their faces.

A. G. WINNETT, Westerville, lacerations on hands.

Kruck was pinned beneath the rear control arm where he was burned to death.

Limited Motorman Unhurt.

The heavy fog which enveloped Columbus and vicinity this morning is believed responsible for the wreck which occurred when the Capital Limited hit the rear of the regular C. D. and M. car due here at 7 a. m.

Both cars caught fire. The regular car was practically destroyed before the Columbus fire department arrived.

The crash took place just as the regular car stopped at the Weber road crossing to take on about a half dozen passengers, including Miss Lyons.

Kruck was the motorman on the regular car. His conductor was Ross Swearagin, also of Delaware. Pearl Flaker, Delaware, motorman on the rear car, jumped to safety. He was not hurt. The second car, was "deadheading" to Columbus from Delaware for its first run north, scheduled to start at 7:30 a. m.

Property Loss Is $55,000.

Wilson was taken to University hospital.

It was nearly two hours after the collision occurred before Kruck's body was removed from the wreckage and taken to the Shaw-Davis undertaking establishment. The remains were viewed by Coroner Murphy.

Announcing that a probe to fix responsibility for the accident would be launched at once, C. C. Mayer, superintendent of the C. D. & M. estimated that estimated property loss at approximately $55,000, both cars being regarded as totally destroyed. The limited car was valued at $30,000 and the regular at $25,000.

Auto Driver Held After Car Crash; Gives $156 Bond

Peter Sinicropi, Midland, will face Mayor Charles Brown at 3 o'clock this afternoon on charges of fast and reckless driving and carrying concealed weapons as the aftermath of a crash near the Fisher bakery, Pennsylvania avenue, at 10:15 o'clock this morning.

Sinicropi was arrested by Chief of Police McDermott, after his car is alleged to have collided with another machine. A revolver was found in his possession, police say. The police took charge of his car, which was placed in a garage, and also demanded a $156.60 cash bond, which he posted.

DONAHEY HITS STOCK FRAUDS

Tallentire and Stevens Bills Signed by Governor.

COLUMBUS, April 11.—Drastic curbs against stock frauds, by which investors have lost millions, are written into the Ohio criminal code by the Tallentier bill, which was signed today by Governor Donahey.

Stiff penalties are provided for publication of "wash sales" for bucketing and for insolvent brokers convicted of receiving securities from the customers, other than in payment of obligations. Every member of a brokerage firm and every employe who either commits knowingly assents to the commission of any of the prescribed acts is held to be guilty.

The governor also signed the Stevens bill authorizing leasing state canal land between Middletown and Defiance to Municipalities. The measure permits Dayton to acquire canal land within that municipality for boulevard purposes.

The act is believed by its backers to be one of the most stringent legislative curbs against stock frauds enacted by any state. Briefly its provisions are:

Any broker who, knowing that he is insolvent, accepts from a customer securities, except in payment of an obligation, and who thereby causes the customer to lose all or part, shall be imprisoned for a maximum of five years, fined up $10,000 or both.

Penalties of imprisonment up to 10 years, fine up to $10,000, or both, are provided for any broker convicted of:

Pledging, selling or disposing in

"I AM THE RESURRECTION AND THE LIFE"-EASTER SUNDAY SERMONETTE

By Rev. Frank G. Fowler, D. D., Pastor of First Methodist Episcopal Church.

"I Am the Resurrection and the life."

We wonder how near the heart of things the resurrection lies? We are constrained to say it does not lie near the heart, but it is the heart. Jesus was not the creation of the first century. He was the timely manifestation of God which was necessary to enable the human mind to grasp the significance of all truth, power and life. The "truth" that, "came by Jesus Christ," was the truth of God. When he said "All power is given to me in heaven and earth," He meant the power of God. The words which He spake as "words of life" were the words of God. The purpose of Jesus' coming was to get this truth, power and life over to men, that they might be redeemed from the errors of their ways. There is only one thing wrong with the world, and that wrong is in the heart of mankind. If that wrong can be righted, the "desert will bloom as the rose" and "the trees of the field" will again, "clap their hands for joy."

The work Jesus came to do is still in progress. It is a long process. It works like the "leaven." He is engaged now in restoring to men their lost, or unrealized estate. His work is to bring his children back to the Father, and they are coming in great numbers. We are far in advance of the days of the past. We as no other people, "think the thoughts of God over after Him." Ambitions stir in our hearts as never before to render human service. Visions stand out before us of a peaceful world under God. "How can these things be?" We do not know, but we know that the resurrection is a mighty fact. In stands out in bold relief against the background of the past. It stirs the present and inspires the future. It opens up to man the secret of a resurrection from within which will enable him to have dominion over, subdue and replenish the earth. The power of Jesus' resurrection was a perfect life. "The grave could not beholden of Him." Easter day ought to inspire every one to bring to every problem for its solution, a perfect life. And let every one remember that a perfect life is to be reached only by faith in God through Jesus Christ.

The conclusion of the whole matter is, Jesus Christ is the solution of every problem whether it be personal, social, industrial, political, ecclesiastic or what not. Easter day presages a wonderful future, here and a glorious life beyond. "Before Him every knee shall bow and tongue confess." Jesus Christ is America's hope. Before the might of his presence, slavery bowed and is no more. Before the might of his presence the legalized saloon has become only a fact of history. Before the might of His presence Mars now trembles, and will soon take his place among the discards of the past and be known only as a relic of a barbarism that dwelt all too long among men.

Prayer: "O God, may the spirit of the resurrection so grip the hearts and minds of men in all walks of life, so that all men and institutions may speedily crown Him King and Lord of Lords. Amen."

EPIDEMIC OF INSANITY SWEEPS HUNGARY; DOCTORS ARE PUZZLED

BUDAPEST, April — An epidemic of madness is sweeping over Hungary, and extraordinary numbers of people are going mad.

Medical men confess themselves at a loss to explain the cause of this unusual phenomenon, which apparently commenced in the town of Arad, where in one week there were numerous cases of people going suddenly mad.

The largest number of cases occur in the streets, where both young and old people, without any previous warning, suddenly lose their reason and have to be taken to mental institutions and asylums.

The most common form of the epidemic is for the person to try and dash his or her head against a wall, a street lampost, or even against the stone flags of the sidewalks. Six cases of this description were reported in one day in the streets of Arad, two of the victims being girls in their teens.

One of the girls was accompanying her mother when she suddenly dropped on the sidewalk and repeatedly struck her head on the ground. The other girl was with her father and uncle when she suddenly dashed against a lampost. In both cases the girls were seriously injured.

Another case was that of a man who declared he was the queen of Hungary, while another well-to-do man declared he was a clown.

Void Child Marriage Performed at Gypsy Fete in Slavonia

ESSEG, Slavonia, April — The heavy hand of the law marred the youthful romance of Alexander Miladic, thirteen-year-old son of a gypsy voyvoda, and the twelve-year-old daughter of the gypsy violinist Philippovic.

The children were married in the midst of a great gypsy fete, after the bridegroom's father had paid 2,000 dinars for the bride. Then the police intervened and carried the child-bride and the bridegroom off to the town hall, where they were informed the marriage was illegal because of the money paid.

The police magistrate eventually sentenced the parents of the children to fifteen days' imprisonment.

Uses "Lodometer."

BUCYRUS, April.—Sheriff Umer, using a "loadameter," stopped a truck at Chatfield, measured the load and found it weighed 13½ tons. Mayor Topper at Chatfield fined the truck driver $25 and costs. The load limit on country pike roads is 7½ tons and in state roads 10 tons.

FROCKS

The frock may be straight or flared. The unbroken line is always smart, but there is also great charm in a skirt that is gracefully flared by pleats or godets. Many silken frocks are enhanced by lace trimming, and the jabot front is also good. The values and the qualities are so exceptional that every woman who reads this should respond.

$400,000,000 Offered
Crushing Kurds Not Easy.
Real Estate and Beer.
High School Societies.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Bankers offered $85,000,000 worth of preferred stock in the Dodge Automobile company. Investors, who seem to have a good deal of money, offered to buy $400,000,000 worth. In addition to having money, the people seem to recognize a good thing when it is offered to them.

Suppose Henry Ford offered for sale his business, making 7,000 cars a day? How big a subscription would be offered?

Turkey plans to "crush the Kurds," and that will be a long, slow job.

The Kurds live in small villages, not easy to conquer, and in the summer they drive their sheep to high mountain pastures. With them fighting is a pleasure, other kind of work a bore. They are as proud of their ancestry, running back many centuries, as some New England lady, with an old-fashioned bureau and Mayflower relatives.

These Kurds fought against Xenophon's brave handful, on their way back to Greece. Kurds were fighting and marauding. They have been fighting Turks and Persians for the last thousand years, and will be doing the same thing a thousand years from now.

The earth changes slowly, and wiping out a nation, even a small one, as the Irish have proved, is no easy job.

Across the river from Detroit Canadians will permit real beer with more than 4 per cent of alcohol. The result is a real estate boom in Canadian lands purchased by American citizens. They want houses there, and country clubs.

One earnest Detroit real estate man puts it, "Work and exist by day in the United States, in the evening live in Canada."

A tunnel for commuters would make the situation perfect, although not exactly pleasing to Detroit's suburban real estate owners, or to earnest teetotalers.

High school authorities would like to abolish secret societies among students. But, the cabalistic instinct deeply rooted, is as old as the human race. Savages had their secret meetings and initiations in the forest, and their terrible "hazing." Young boys were supposed to endure cutting with knives, or to hang, suspended from thorns stuck in their flesh without whimpering.

The secret society for men and children satisfies man's desire to seem to know something that others do not know. Only real knowledge can drive that out.

A United States circuit court says radio stations may not broadcast copyrighted music. The copyright act applies to music by radio despite the fact that radio wasn't known when the law was written. The decision is wise and just.

Why doesn't the Constitution's provision guaranteeing freedom of the press protect moving pictures from censorship, in spite of the fact that moving pictures were unknown when the constitution was written?

What applies in one case should apply in another. The moving picture is printing, publicity, an improvement on old-fashioned press work. To censor it in advance is as preposterous as it would be to submit newspapers to the censor before allowing them to appear on the street.

Rust costs this country $300,000,000 a year and scientists wonder how they can save that money. One way is to use copper or brass instead of iron, for water pipes, gutters, etc.

You are told that rust is caused by electricity generated by water and air combining. A way may be found to make iron rust-proof. Meanwhile, wherever air and water mix use copper or brass and forget your troubles for 100 years.

CHARLES VAUGHN IS FINED $100

Charles Vaughn, of East Liverpool, was fined $100 and costs by Justice M. K. Zimerman, of Lisbon, Friday afternoon, when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of illegally possessing intoxicating liquors.

Vaughn and a companion were riding along the Lincoln Highway, near Long's Run bridge, when they saw Sheriff Wright and Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter approaching. Vaughn, the authorities claim, tossed three bottles of corn whiskey from his car.

Vaughn said he had given a man $2 at the corner of Fifth and Washington streets here and was told to go to a certain tree along the highway near Long's Run bridge where he would find three bottles of liquor.

He paid his fine.

Mayor Defends Special Patrolmen; Solons Assail Them.

Edgarle Bloor, "five dollar a month" member of the police force, tendered his resignation to Mayor Charles Brown and Safety Director S. E. Anderson, yesterday, as the result of criticism growing out of the near shooting of two East End youths along the River road last Sunday night.

Bloor turned over his gun, handcuffs, badge and other equipment to the safety director, stating that "there was not enough in the job to stand the criticism." His resignation was immediately accepted.

Resignation Not Requested.

Bloor, who was named a special patrolman about four months ago, is alleged to have fired at five East End boys in an automobile after they had failed to halt on his command near the Harker pottery. The bullet passed through the rear curtain of the car and crashed through the windshield, missing the heads of two passengers in the front seat.

The boys asserted that they did not recognize Bloor as an officer as he was dressed in civilian clothes. Not until later in the evening were they told that he was a policeman.

Bloor was arrested Tuesday evening on complaint of Mrs. M. C. Russell, mother of Evan Russell, driver of the car, who charged him with malicious destruction of property and shooting with intent to wound in Justice P. V. Mackall's court. The charge was with-

KELLOGG ACTS TO CHECK FLOW OF BANNED RUM

Draws Prohibition Net Tighter Around United States.

Treaties With Canada and Cuba Will be Negotiated.

BY LLOYD LEHBAS.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—In its effort to draw the prohibition net still tighter around the country, the state department expects soon to announce the negotiation of several new rum treaties which authorities believe will go far toward checking the flood of illicit liquor that is still pouring into the United States.

Ten liquor treaties already have been negotiated with foreign governments, including the principal maritime nations of the world, and Secretary of State Kellogg expects shortly to sign a convention with Mexico that will plug up a few of the holes along the southern border.

A treaty with Canada, designed to frustrate the botlegging fraternity along the northern boundary, already has been completed and awaits only royal approval in London.

Cuba, which supplies thousands of cases of liquor to the rum runners is next on the list, and when that is completed the United States, theoretically at least, will be completly ringed by dry safeguards.

MARION STAR LAUDS DONAHEYS

MARION, Ohio, April 11.—"All honor to the Donaheys' is the caption of a long editorial appearing in today's Marion Star, local newspaper made famous through the ownership of the late President Harding.

"We would feel that we were denying ourselves a privilege did we not voice our admiration of the course pursued by Victor Donahey—alike as the executive and the father—in connection with the escapade of his son Hal," the editorial says.

"We would feel that we were lost to a proper appreciation of the finer things in life, of all that is best and noblest in human nature, did we not sympathize from the bottom of our heart with Mrs. Donahey, who has not only shown herself a true mother throughout but also a high minded, noble hearted, sympathetic woman. She has made herself the central figure in the case and won for herself the admiration and love and esteem of the people of Ohio."

CITY SOLONS MAY ABOLISH SEALER'S JOB

Suggest Work be Turned Over to County Official.

The office of city sealer of weights and measures may be abolished and the work in East Liverpool turned over to the county sealer, as the result of complaints filed before the solons last night by a delegation of grocers and butchers.

A committee, headed by A. H. Kountz, Market street butcher, told members of the municipal legislative body, that exorbitant fees were charged by the city sealer for testing scales, while no charges were made for this work by the county sealer. He asserted that he had been forced to pay $7 for the testing of four sets of scales which required not more than 20 minutes' work.

Decide to Investigate

E. S. Donahey, St. Clair avenue butcher, inquired where the money collected by the city sealer went. Solicitor Brokaw replied that the fees were turned over to the board of health to help pay the salary of the sealer. Brokaw asserted that about $1,000 had been collected last year. Donahey declared at the rate charged this year, that more htan $2,500 would be derived from the source.

James Brown, Third street grocer, stated that W. R. Barr, county sealer

Motorman on Limited Jumps to Safety as he Realizes Danger—Both Cars Take Fire and One is Practically Destroyed Before Fire Department Arrives—Property Loss Heavy.

COLUMBUS, April 11.—Charles Kruck, Delaware, conductor, was burned to death and five passengers injured here early today when a special car on the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Interurban line ran into a regular car at Weber Road crossing, North Columbus.

The injured include:

GEORGE W. WILSON, Delaware, and Ohio State university student, broken legs and other injuries.

MISS MERCEDES LYONS, Columbus, cuts and bruises.

MRS. J. NOEL and BELLE WILLIAMS, both of Columbus, cut about their faces.

A. G. WINNETT, Westerville, lacerations on hands.

Kruck was pinned beneath the rear control arm where he was burned to death.

Limited Motorman Unhurt.

The heavy fog which enveloped Columbus and vicinity this morning is believed responsible for the wreck which occurred when the Capital Limited hit the rear of the regular C. D. and M. car due here at 7 a. m.

Both cars caught fire. The regular car was practically destroyed before the Columbus fire department arrived.

The crash took place just as the regular car stopped at the Weber road crossing to take on about a half dozen passengers, including Miss Lyons.

Kruck was the motorman on the regular car. His conductor was Ross Swearagin, also of Delaware. Pearl Flaker, Delaware, motorman on the rear car, jumped to safety. He was not hurt. The second car, was "deadheading" to Columbus from Delaware for its first run north, scheduled to start at 7:30 a. m.

Property Loss Is $55,000.

Wilson was taken to University hospital.

It was nearly two hours after the collision occurred before Kruck's body was removed from the wreckage and taken to the Shaw-Davis undertaking establishment. The remains were viewed by Coroner Murphy.

Announcing that a probe to fix responsibility for the accident would be launched at once, C. C. Mayer, superintendent of the C. D. & M. estimated that estimated property loss at approximately $55,000, both cars being regarded as totally destroyed. The limited car was valued at $30,000 and the regular at $25,000.

DONAHEY HITS STOCK FRAUDS

Tallentire and Stevens Bills Signed by Governor.

COLUMBUS, April 11.—Drastic curbs against stock frauds, by which investors have lost millions, are written into the Ohio criminal code by the Tallentier bill, which was signed today by Governor Donahey.

Stiff penalties are provided for publication of "wash sales" for bucketing and for insolvent brokers convicted of receiving securities from the customers, other than in payment of obligations. Every member of a brokerage firm and every employe who either commits knowingly assents to the commission of any of the prescribed acts is held to be guilty.

The governor also signed the Stevens bill authorizing leasing state canal land between Middletown and Defiance to Municipalities. The measure permits Dayton to acquire canal land within that municipality for boulevard purposes.

The act is believed by its backers to be one of the most stringent legislative curbs against stock frauds enacted by any state. Briefly its provisions are:

Any broker who, knowing that he is insolvent, accepts from a customer securities, except in payment of an obligation, and who thereby causes the customer to lose all or part, shall be imprisoned for a maximum of five years, fined up $10,000 or both.

Penalties of imprisonment up to 10 years, fine up to $10,000, or both, are provided for any broker convicted of:

"I AM THE RESURRECTION AND THE LIFE"-EASTER SUNDAY SERMONETTE

By Rev. Frank G. Fowler, D. D., Pastor of First Methodist Episcopal Church.

"I Am the Resurrection and the life."

We wonder how near the heart of things the resurrection lies? We are constrained to say it does not lie near the heart, but it is the heart. Jesus was not the creation of the first century. He was the timely manifestation of God which was necessary to enable the human mind to grasp the significance of all truth, power and life. The "truth" that, "came by Jesus Christ," was the truth of God. When he said "All power is given to me in heaven and earth," He meant the power of God. The words which He spake as "words of life" were the words of God. The purpose of Jesus' coming was to get this truth, power and life over to men, that they might be redeemed from the errors of their ways. There is only one thing wrong with the world, and that wrong is in the heart of mankind. If that wrong can be righted, the "desert will bloom as the rose" and "the trees of the field" will again, "clap their hands for joy."

The work Jesus came to do is still in progress. It is a long process. It works like the "leaven." He is engaged now in restoring to men their lost, or unrealized estate. His work is to bring his children back to the Father, and they are coming in great numbers. We are far in advance of the days of the past. We as no other people, "think the thoughts of God over after Him." Ambitions stir in our hearts as never before to render human service. Visions stand out before us of a peaceful world under God. "How can these things be?" We do not know, but we know that the resurrection is a mighty fact. In stands out in bold relief against the background of the past. It stirs the present and inspires the future. It opens up to man the secret of a resurrection from within which will enable him to have dominion over, subdue and replenish the earth. The power of Jesus' resurrection was a perfect life. "The grave could not beholden of Him." Easter day ought to inspire every one to bring to every problem for its solution, a perfect life. And let every one remember that a perfect life is to be reached only by faith in God through Jesus Christ.

The conclusion of the whole matter is, Jesus Christ is the solution of every problem whether it be personal, social, industrial, political, ecclesiastic or what not. Easter day presages a wonderful future, here and a glorious life beyond. "Before Him every knee shall bow and tongue confess." Jesus Christ is America's hope. Before the might of his presence, slavery bowed and is no more. Before the might of his presence the legalized saloon has become only a fact of history. Before the might of His presence Mars now trembles, and will soon take his place among the discards of the past and be known only as a relic of a barbarism that dwelt all too long among men.

Prayer: "O God, may the spirit of the resurrection so grip the hearts and minds of men in all walks of life, so that all men and institutions may speedily crown Him King and Lord of Lords. Amen."

MARION STAR LAUDS DONAHEYS

MARION, Ohio, April 11.—"All honor to the Donaheys' is the caption of a long editorial appearing in today's Marion Star, local newspaper made famous through the ownership of the late President Harding.

"We would feel that we were denying ourselves a privilege did we not voice our admiration of the course pursued by Victor Donahey—alike as the executive and the father—in connection with the escapade of his son Hal," the editorial says.

"We would feel that we were lost to a proper appreciation of the finer things in life, of all that is best and noblest in human nature, did we not sympathize from the bottom of our heart with Mrs. Donahey, who has not only shown herself a true mother throughout but also a high minded, noble hearted, sympathetic woman. She has made herself the central figure in the case and won for herself the admiration and love and esteem of the people of Ohio."

CITY SOLONS MAY ABOLISH SEALER'S JOB

Action Hinted as Grocers and Butchers Complain.

RATES TOO HIGH

Suggest Work be Turned Over to County Official.

The office of city sealer of weights and measures may be abolished and the work in East Liverpool turned over to the county sealer, as the result of complaints filed before the solons last night by a delegation of grocers and butchers.

A committee, headed by A. H. Kountz, Market street butcher, told members of the municipal legislative body, that exorbitant fees were charged by the city sealer for testing scales, while no charges were made for this work by the county sealer. He asserted that he had been forced to pay $7 for the testing of four sets of scales which required not more than 20 minutes' work.

Decide to Investigate

E. S. Donahey, St. Clair avenue butcher, inquired where the money collected by the city sealer went. Solicitor Brokaw replied that the fees were turned over to the board of health to help pay the salary of the sealer. Brokaw asserted that about $1,000 had been collected last year. Donahey declared at the rate charged this year, that more htan $2,500 would be derived from the source.

James Brown, Third street grocer, stated that W. R. Barr, county sealer

CONDUCTOR IS FATALLY BURNED IN FIRE AFTER COLLISION AT COLUMBUS

HEAVY FOG WHICH ENVELOPED CITY EARLY TODAY BLAMED FOR SMASH-UP.

Motorman on Limited Jumps to Safety as he Realizes Danger—Both Cars Take Fire and One is Practically Destroyed Before Fire Department Arrives—Property Loss Heavy.

COLUMBUS, April 11.—Charles Kruck, Delaware, conductor, was burned to death and five passengers injured here early today when a special car on the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Interurban line ran into a regular car at Weber Road crossing, North Columbus.

The injured include:

GEORGE W. WILSON, Delaware, and Ohio State university student, broken legs and other injuries.

MISS MERCEDES LYONS, Columbus, cuts and bruises.

MRS. J. NOEL and BELLE WILLIAMS, both of Columbus, cut about their faces.

A. G. WINNETT, Westerville, lacerations on hands.

Kruck was pinned beneath the rear control arm where he was burned to death.

Limited Motorman Unhurt.

The heavy fog which enveloped Columbus and vicinity this morning is believed responsible for the wreck which occurred when the Capital Limited hit the rear of the regular C. D. and M. car due here at 7 a. m.

Both cars caught fire. The regular car was practically destroyed before the Columbus fire department arrived.

The crash took place just as the regular car stopped at the Weber road crossing to take on about a half dozen passengers, including Miss Lyons.

Kruck was the motorman on the regular car. His conductor was Ross Swearagin, also of Delaware. Pearl Flaker, Delaware, motorman on the rear car, jumped to safety. He was not hurt. The second car, was "deadheading" to Columbus from Delaware for its first run north, scheduled to start at 7:30 a. m.

Property Loss Is $55,000.

Wilson was taken to University hospital.

It was nearly two hours after the collision occurred before Kruck's body was removed from the wreckage and taken to the Shaw-Davis undertaking establishment. The remains were viewed by Coroner Murphy.

Announcing that a probe to fix responsibility for the accident would be launched at once, C. C. Mayer, superintendent of the C. D. & M. estimated that estimated property loss at approximately $55,000, both cars being regarded as totally destroyed. The limited car was valued at $30,000 and the regular at $25,000.

Auto Driver Held After Car Crash; Gives $156 Bond

Peter Sinicropi, Midland, will face Mayor Charles Brown at 3 o'clock this afternoon on charges of fast and reckless driving and carrying concealed weapons as the aftermath of a crash near the Fisher bakery, Pennsylvania avenue, at 10:15 o'clock this morning.

Sinicropi was arrested by Chief of Police McDermott, after his car is alleged to have collided with another machine. A revolver was found in his possession, police say. The police took charge of his car, which was placed in a garage, and also demanded a $156.60 cash bond, which he posted.

DONAHEY HITS STOCK FRAUDS

Tallentire and Stevens Bills Signed by Governor.

COLUMBUS, April 11.—Drastic curbs against stock frauds, by which investors have lost millions, are written into the Ohio criminal code by the Tallentier bill, which was signed today by Governor Donahey.

Stiff penalties are provided for publication of "wash sales" for bucketing and for insolvent brokers convicted of receiving securities from the customers, other than in payment of obligations. Every member of a brokerage firm and every employe who either commits knowingly assents to the commission of any of the prescribed acts is held to be guilty.

The governor also signed the Stevens bill authorizing leasing state canal land between Middletown and Defiance to Municipalities. The measure permits Dayton to acquire canal land within that municipality for boulevard purposes.

The act is believed by its backers to be one of the most stringent legislative curbs against stock frauds enacted by any state. Briefly its provisions are:

Any broker who, knowing that he is insolvent, accepts from a customer securities, except in payment of an obligation, and who thereby causes the customer to lose all or part, shall be imprisoned for a maximum of five years, fined up $10,000 or both.

Penalties of imprisonment up to 10 years, fine up to $10,000, or both, are provided for any broker convicted of:

Plans were being made to send icebreaking steamers to its aid.

"I AM THE RESURRECTION AND THE LIFE"-EASTER SUNDAY SERMONETTE

By Rev. Frank G. Fowler, D. D., Pastor of First Methodist Episcopal Church.

"I Am the Resurrection and the life."

We wonder how near the heart of things the resurrection lies? We are constrained to say it does not lie near the heart, but it is the heart. Jesus was not the creation of the first century. He was the timely manifestation of God which was necessary to enable the human mind to grasp the significance of all truth, power and life. The "truth" that, "came by Jesus Christ," was the truth of God. When he said "All power is given to me in heaven and earth," He meant the power of God. The words which He spake as "words of life" were the words of God. The purpose of Jesus' coming was to get this truth, power and life over to men, that they might be redeemed from the errors of their ways. There is only one thing wrong with the world, and that wrong is in the heart of mankind. If that wrong can be righted, the "desert will bloom as the rose" and "the trees of the field" will again, "clap their hands for joy."

The work Jesus came to do is still in progress. It is a long process. It works like the "leaven." He is engaged now in restoring to men their lost, or unrealized estate. His work is to bring his children back to the Father, and they are coming in great numbers. We are far in advance of the days of the past. We as no other people, "think the thoughts of God over after Him." Ambitions stir in our hearts as never before to render human service. Visions stand out before us of a peaceful world under God. "How can these things be?" We do not know, but we know that the resurrection is a mighty fact. In stands out in bold relief against the background of the past. It stirs the present and inspires the future. It opens up to man the secret of a resurrection from within which will enable him to have dominion over, subdue and replenish the earth. The power of Jesus' resurrection was a perfect life. "The grave could not beholden of Him." Easter day ought to inspire every one to bring to every problem for its solution, a perfect life. And let every one remember that a perfect life is to be reached only by faith in God through Jesus Christ.

The conclusion of the whole matter is, Jesus Christ is the solution of every problem whether it be personal, social, industrial, political, ecclesiastic or what not. Easter day presages a wonderful future, here and a glorious life beyond. "Before Him every knee shall bow and tongue confess." Jesus Christ is America's hope. Before the might of his presence, slavery bowed and is no more. Before the might of his presence the legalized saloon has become only a fact of history. Before the might of His presence Mars now trembles, and will soon take his place among the discards of the past and be known only as a relic of a barbarism that dwelt all too long among men.

Prayer: "O God, may the spirit of the resurrection so grip the hearts and minds of men in all walks of life, so that all men and institutions may speedily crown Him King and Lord of Lords. Amen."

OHIO LIQUOR QUIZ RESUMED

Youngstown Man Tells Story to Federal Officials.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 11.—Ohio's prize liquor scandal is not closed. Out of the bulky knot that state and federal experts made from a wealth of loose strings picked up as a result of the recent probe into the leakage of liquor from the Hayner distillery at Troy, there today was found a jagged edge that remains to be sealed.

Today United States District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen, after a lengthy conference yesterday and last night with Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, reviewed the work of the recent federal grand jury which probed the Buckeye state's liquor affairs and the 10 indictments that resulted, and intimated that out of the unfinished evidence left over he intends to weave a web that will enmesh a pretentious list of prominent names and unloose a scathing investigation that will overshadow the first.

With the appearance of Peter J. Higgins, reputed Youngstown millionaire and ex-brewer, who was indicted for conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition laws with nine others in the opening probe, it was revealed that finis has not been written to the booze leakage tale. Mrs. Willebrandt, who made an unhearalded appearance and who left last night with equal lack of ceremony, was in conference with Bernsteen and other attaches of the district office here. It was understood that Higgins made revelations concerning the leakage that overshadowed even the far reaching testimony of Abe Ungerleider, Columbus financier, whose testimony it was that paved the way for the original 10 indictments in the grand jury investigation.

This morning Attorney Bernsteen made a request for the appearance in his office of Pat Scanlon, another Youngstown man, who is under indictment as a result of the first probe.

DANCING GIRL MURDER VICTIM

Background of East Indian Romance in London Crime.

LONDON, April 11.—A love murder with a background of East Indian romance, excited all London today when Grace Blackaller, a pretty 16-year-old dancing girl was found on her own doorstep with her throat cut.

As she died, she gasped:

"A boy did it."

Scotland Yard detectives learned she had among her admirers several East Indian students.

Detectives immediately began search for an East Indian youth to question him. The porter of the apartment house where the murder occurred was held for questioning as to the girl's callers.

Mystery deepened when the ambulance surgeon, who took the dying girl to a hospital, said she added to her first remark about a boy doing it, by declaring.

"An Indian boy did it, but don't make any inquiries."

Revival Campaign Opens Sunday in Anderson Church

He also conducted a campaign in the First Methodist Episcopal church five years ago and has preached at Sebring and Hollow Rock camp meetings.

Misses Helen Cornell and Pearl Wilcox, of the Cleveland Bible Institute, will have charge of the music and young people's meetings during the campaign. They play stringed instruments and are capable song leaders.

Misses Cornell and Wilcox will take part in the Sunday school service tomorrow. Preaching services will be held at 10:45 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Services will be held each evening next week at 7:30 o'clock.

drawn when Bloor agreed to pay for the damage done to the car and settle the court costs. Young Russell was arrested later in the evening on a charge of fast and reckless driving filed by Bloor, but was dismissed by Mayor Brown.

Because of the shooting, Bloor, during the last few days, has been subject to considerable criticism. Mayor Brown denied that Bloor's resignation had been requested, asserting that the patrolman had acted on his own initiative in severing his relations with the department.

Councilmen Open Fire.

The incident drew fire from members of the city council last evening.

"A few days ago a near tragedy occurred along the River road when one of the special police fired at a passing automobile," said Councilman Kerr. "The bullet passed through the rear curtain in the car, grazing the heads of one of the passengers by an inch or two and then out the windshield.

"A gun is a dangerous thing. Judgment should be used in the handling of firearms by a policeman. A man in plain clothes has no right to do traffic duty, and there is not a man here who would stop along the River Road at night if someone in plain clothes attempted to stop him.

"We should counsel with the safety director in this matter and urge that he appoint responsible men to the police force. I believe this body should take some action in this matter and halt the practice of plain clothes men doing traffic duty, if possible."

Chambers Defends Specials.

Councilman Thomas Farrall also voiced his opposition to the special policemen, whom he termed "cheap policemen." "The so-called 'five-dollar-a-month men' are a disgrace to the police force," he charged. "You can't blame those boys for speeding up. This officer thought the machine carried bootleggers, and he wanted to get them, no matter if it did cost a life or two. This affair is a disgrace to our city."

Councilman Chambers, in defending the special policemen, asserted that recently one of the regular members of the police department opened fire on a passing automobilist along Pennsylvania avenue after he had failed to halt at his command. Solon Hayes also announced his opposition to "cheap policemen," but declared that plainclothes operators were needed to enforce some laws. Councilman Eardley refuted Kerr's claim that all traffic officers are uniformed, citing a case in Pittsburgh where traffic officers work in civilian dress.

Mayor's Statement.

Mayor Brown today issued a statement defending the specials.

"If we had a police force here of 20 men, I would gladly dismiss my specials," the mayor asserted. "But with a force of nine men, which includes two desk men, a chief and a captain, this city is in bad shape for police protection.

"When we get a call at night, we cannot send the Diamond man to investigate. The specials are on duty at the city hall every night and answer many of the complaints which we receive. Last night we had a dozen or more requests for investigations in various parts of the city and had no one to send except the specials.

"In East Liverpool we have approximately 25,000 people. There is not another city of a similar size in the state, I'll venture to say, which is getting along with a police department the size of ours."

With Bloor's resignation the city at the present time has but three special policemen. They are James Malone, George Dawson and Walter Torrence. No one will be appointed in Bloor's place for the time being, the mayor said.

Long, Peaceful Work Cure for Germany, Says Von Hindenburg

BERLIN, April 11.—"Long, peaceful work," as the only cure for Germany's ills, was counselled today by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, 77-year-old Nationalist candidate for the presidency, in his "Easter message" to the nation. It will be his only formal communication of the campaign, according to his previous declarations.

He stated in his proclamation that he had accepted the candidacy "on the basis of the constitution."

"Nobody will expect me to give up my political convictions," the proclamation read. "Not the form, but the spirit of the state is what matters."

"I am not young enough to believe in sudden change," it continued. "No war and no revolt from within can free our nation, which is chained and torn by strife. Long, peaceful work is necessary."

of the preceding government which is a policy of energy, of action, of truth."

Further conferences were expected this afternoon.

Parliamentary circles today expected a prolonged cabinet crisis. The chamber adjourned to Wednesday after the left block caucas had voted a resolution thanking former Premier Herriot and deciding to maintain the policies he followed.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Any prospects of early negotiations for funding the $4,000,000,000 French war debt have been dispelled by the downfall of the Herriot ministry in France, according to the views expressed by the treasury officials today who are cognizance of the state of French finances.

Herriot's resignation, following on the heels of the financial crisis, has served to create a suitation, they say, that can only result in further and indefinite delay in any adjustment of the French debt, and because the other principal debtors, Italy and Belgium, look to France for leadership in adjustication of their debts to the United States, administration officials also envisioned long delay on those debts.

Kellogg Acts

the greatest law enforcement campaign in prohibition history will be in full swing.

Since the first anti-rum ship treaty was signed with Great Britain similar treaties have been negotiated with Germany, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Italy, Panama, France, and Netherlands. The treaty with France has not yet been ratified by the chamber of deputies. Under these treaties the United States has authority to sieze rum ships flying the flags of those nations within a distance than can be traversed in one hour by the vessel carrying the liquor. More than 6,000,000 cases of liquor were smuggled into the United States last year, according to unofficial estimates, and the coast guard seized only 156,000 cases. But with the increased "dry navy" and the 10 treaties in full effect smuggling is expected to be reduced to the minimum and seizuers materially increased.

332 Ships Visit Rum Row

During the past year department of justice investigations show that 332 foreign ocean-going vessels have been visitors to "rum row," 63 being anchored there at the same time. Of the rum ships spotted during the year 307 flew the British flag and the effective operation of the British treaty is therefore of the greatest importance to the prohibition enforcement unit and the coast guard. Norway was represented by 10 ships and France by four.

The treaties make ocean bootlegging to smaller speed boats vastly more difficult as they force the rum ships to stay 30 to 40 miles off the American coast, and as the smaller American speed boats can be seized anywhere captures are easier in ratio as the rum ships are forced to anchor farther from shore.

The "dry navy" has seized 23 foreign rum runners since the first treaty became effective in May, 1924, most of which were British. All yielded rich seizures of liquor, the cargo on the British steamer Quadra, seized off San Francisco, being worth $1,000,000.

Most of the smugglers have operated from British bases—Halifax, Lunenberg, Sydney and Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, St. Johns, N. F., Bermuda, Nassau and the islands of Bimini and Gun Cay in the British West Indies, and Victoria, Vancouver, Windsor and Belleville, Canada.

of weights and measures, had refused to come into East Liverpool to test scales, fearing this step might be resented by local authorities.

Councilmen Farrall, Kerr and Chambers asserted that the scale testing fee charged local merchants was an injustice inasmuch as merchants in Wellsville, Salem, Lisbon and other county towns were not required to pay anything.

"If the county pays a man for this work, why should we employ another for the same job and authorize him to collect a fee for the work?" asked Councilman Kerr. Council finally decided to inquire into the complaints, the investigation to be in charge of Councilmen Larcombe, Kerr and Eardley, assisted by Solicitor Brokaw.

Nine Ordinances Adopted

Nine ordinances, eight of which provided for the collection of special assessments for street and sewer improvements completed last summer, were passed on three readings under suspension of the rules. The other measure provided for the "safety and convenience of pedestrians while passing buildings being torn down, erected or altered" in the business district. Under the terms of the ordinance the safety director is authorized to compel contractors, working in the business district, to erect temporary sidewalks with covered roofs for the protection of pedestrians.

The street improvement ordinance provided for the levying of special assessments for the improvement of McKinnon avenue, Monroe street, Broadway, West Eighth and Lisbon streets, Jefferson street, Rural Lane, Franklin and Riverview streets and the River road.

An ordinance, providing for the resurfacing of St. Clair avenue, north of Young's alley, was passed on second reading by a vote of five to one, Councilman Kerr objecting. Councilman Farrall also voted against the measure when an effort was made to suspend the rules and pass the measure on third and final reading. Service Director Ellis, who attended the meeting, urged the enactment of this legislation to complete the improvement north to Calcutta.

Rural Lane Complaint

Council refused to take action looking toward appointment of Thomas Beabont as dumpmaster at Patterson field, holding that this appointment was one for the school board to shoulder inasmuch as they controlled the athletic field.

A petition was received from 70 residents of Sunnyside, asking that Carpenter's Run be sewered from West Eighth to West Ninth street, the cost to be borne jointly by the city and the property holders. The petition was laid over until the next meeting.

Councilman Farrall and Eardley reported that they had investigated the request from the Liverpool Produce company to lay a railroad switch across Crook Alley. Permission was granted for the improvement with the understanding that the alley was to be blocked at no time by railroad cars.

Councilman Kerr charged that the concrete used in the Rural lane improvement was crumbling and that the work was not up to specifications. The street committee and engineer were instructed to make an investigation.

The solicitor was requested to draw up a deed, accepting from James Kirkham, a plot of ground near Waterloo street for street purposes. Kirkham attended the meeting and expressed his willingness to deed his ground to the city without cost.

Protest Dredge Boat Noise.

The street commissioner was instructed to widen the alley leading off Dewey avenue, between Pennsylvania avenue and Erie street, East End, after council had received a petition from East End property holders.

Mrs. John Costello asked council to sewer Garfield street, appearing in behalf of a petition signed by 16 property holders of the street. Council voted to consider the request at the next meeting.

A petition signed by 71 property owners in the vicinity of Third and Monroe streets was received, complaining against the noise made at night by the dredge boat operated by the East Liverpool Sand and Gravel company. The petitioners also requested that the company be required to use higher smoke stacks on its dredge boat to eliminate the smoke nuisance. The complaint will be investigated by a committee consisting of Councilman Farrall, Kerr and Eardley.

Council discussed the proposed purchase of a motor-driven road scraper for the service department. Solicitor Brokaw was instructed to prepare legislation transferring money from the general fund to the service fund to provide for this transaction before the next meeting of the solons.

PRICE ON HEADS OF AUTO THIEVES

In an effort to curb automobile thieves, who have been unusually active here during the last three months, E. M. Diehl, secretary of the Columbiana County Motor Club, today offered a reward of $50 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty for car stealing.

The machine of John Davis, East End, stolen while parked in front of his home, Monday evening, was destroyed by fire on the Ohioville hill. It was announced today. A Hudson sedan, belonging to F. W. Miller, stolen from Dresden Avenue early Thursday morning, has not been recovered.

OHIO LIQUOR QUIZ RESUMED

Youngstown Man Tells Story to Federal Officials.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 11.—Ohio's prize liquor scandal is not closed. Out of the bulky knot that state and federal experts made from a wealth of loose strings picked up as a result of the recent probe into the leakage of liquor from the Hayner distillery at Troy, there today was found a jagged edge that remains to be sealed.

Today United States District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen, after a lengthy conference yesterday and last night with Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, reviewed the work of the recent federal grand jury which probed the Buckeye state's liquor affairs and the 10 indictments that resulted, and intimated that out of the unfinished evidence left over he intends to weave a web that will enmesh a pretentious list of prominent names and unloose a scathing investigation that will overshadow the first.

With the appearance of Peter J. Higgins, reputed Youngstown millionaire and ex-brewer, who was indicted for conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition laws with nine others in the opening probe, it was revealed that finis has not been written to the booze leakage tale. Mrs. Willebrandt, who made an unheralded appearance and who left last night with equal lack of ceremony, was in conference with Bernsteen and other attaches of the district office here. It was understood that Higgins made revelations concerning the leakage that overshadowed even the far reaching testimony of Abe Ungerleider, Columbus financier, whose testimony it was that paved the way for the original 10 indictments in the grand jury investigation.

This morning Attorney Bernsteen made a request for the appearance in his office of Pat Scanlon, another Youngstown man, who is under indictment as a result of the first probe.

DANCING GIRL MURDER VICTIM

Background of East Indian Romance in London Crime.

LONDON, April 11.—A love murder with a background of East Indian romance, excited all London today when Grace Blackaller, a pretty 16-year-old dancing girl was found on her own doorstep with her throat cut.

As she died, she gasped:

"A boy did it."

Scotland Yard detectives learned she had among her admirers several East Indian students.

Detectives immediately began search for an East Indian youth to question him. The porter of the apartment house where the murder occurred was held for questioning as to the girl's callers.

Mystery deepened when the ambulance surgeon, who took the dying girl to a hospital, said she added to her first remark about a boy doing it, by declaring.

"An Indian boy did it, but don't make any inquiries."

Revival Campaign Opens Sunday in Anderson Church

Revivals will open in the Anderson Methodist Episcopal church, West Ninth street, tomorrow.

The services will be in charge of Rev. T. M. Anderson of Wiltmore, Ky. Rev. Mr. Anderson, several years ago, was a member of the coast-to-coast evangelistic party which stopped off in East Liverpool for a short series of meetings in the Methodist tabernacle. He also conducted a campaign in the First Methodist Episcopal church five years ago and has preached at Sebring and Hollow Rock camp meetings.

Misses Helen Cornell and Pearl Wilcox, of the Cleveland Bible Institute, will have charge of the music and young people's meetings during the campaign. They play stringed instruments and are capable song leaders.

Misses Cornell and Wilcox will take part in the Sunday school service tomorrow. Preaching services will be held at 10:45 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Services will be held each evening next week at 7:30 o'clock.

drawn when Bloor agreed to pay for the damage done to the car and settle the court costs. Young Russell was arrested later in the evening on a charge of fast and reckless driving filed by Bloor, but was dismissed by Mayor Brown.

Because of the shooting, Bloor, during the last few days, has been subject to considerable criticism. Mayor Brown denied that Bloor's resignation had been requested, asserting that the patrolman had acted on his own initiative in severing his relations with the department.

Councilmen Open Fire.

The incident drew fire from members of the city council last evening.

"A few days ago a near tragedy occurred along the River road when one of the special police fired at a passing automobile," said Councilman Kerr. "The bullet passed through the rear curtain in the car, grazing the heads of one of the passengers by an inch or two and then out the windshield.

"A gun is a dangerous thing. Judgment should be used in the handling of firearms by a policeman. A man in plain clothes has no right to do traffic duty, and there is not a man here who would stop along the River Road at night if someone in plain clothes attempted to stop him.

"We should counsel with the safety director in this matter and urge that he appoint responsible men to the police force. I believe this body should take some action in this matter and halt the practice of plain clothes men doing traffic duty, if possible."

Chambers Defends Specials.

Councilman Thomas Farrall also voiced his opposition to the special policemen, whom he termed "cheap policemen." "The so-called 'five-dollar-a-month men' are a disgrace to the police force," he charged. "You can't blame those boys for speeding up. This officer thought the machine carried bootleggers, and he wanted to get them, no matter if it did cost a life or two. This affair is a disgrace to our city."

Councilman Chambers, in defending the special policemen, asserted that recently one of the regular members of the police department opened fire on a passing automobilist along Pennsylvania avenue after he had failed to halt at his command. Solon Hayes also announced his opposition to "cheap policemen," but declared that plainclothes operators were needed to enforce some laws. Councilman Eardley refuted Kerr's claim that all traffic officers are uniformed, citing a case in Pittsburgh where traffic officers work in civilian dress.

Mayor's Statement.

Mayor Brown today issued a statement defending the specials.

"If we had a police force here of 20 men, I would gladly dismiss my specials," the mayor asserted. "But with a force of nine men, which includes two desk men, a chief and a captain, this city is in bad shape for police protection.

"When we get a call at night, we cannot send the Diamond man to investigate. The specials are on duty at the city hall every night and answer many of the complaints which we receive. Last night we had a dozen or more requests for investigations in various parts of the city and had no one to send except the specials.

"In East Liverpool we have approximately 25,000 people. There is not another city of a similar size in the state, I'll venture to say, which is getting along with a police department the size of ours."

With Bloor's resignation the city at the present time has but three special policemen. They are James Malone, George Dawson and Walter Torrence. No one will be appointed in Bloor's place for the time being, the mayor said.

Long, Peaceful Work Cure for Germany, Says Von Hindenburg

BERLIN, April 11.—"Long, peaceful work," as the only cure for Germany's ills, was counselled today by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, 77-year-old Nationalist candidate for the presidency, in his "Easter message" to the nation. It will be his only formal communication of the campaign, according to his previous declarations.

He stated in his proclamation that he had accepted the candidacy "on the basis of the constitution."

"Nobody will expect me to give up my political convictions," the proclamation read. "Not the form, but the spirit of the state is what matters."

"I am not young enough to believe in sudden change," it continued. "No war and no revolt from within can free our nation, which is chained and torn by strife. Long, peaceful work is necessary."

of the preceding government which is a policy of energy, of action, of truth."

Further conferences were expected this afternoon.

Parliamentary circles today expected a prolonged cabinet crisis. The chamber adjourned to Wednesday after the left block caucas had voted a resolution thanking former Premier Herriot and deciding to maintain the policies he followed.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Any prospects of early negotiations for funding the $4,000,000,000 French war debt have been dispelled by the downfall of the Herriot ministry in France, according to the views expressed by the treasury officials today who are cognizance of the state of French finances.

Herriot's resignation, following on the heels of the financial crisis, has served to create a suitation, they say, that can only result in further and indefinite delay in any adjustment of the French debt, and because the other principal debtors, Italy and Belgium, look to France for leadership in adjustication of their debts to the United States, administration officials also envisioned long delay on those debts.

the greatest law enforcement campaign in prohibition history will be in full swing.

Since the first anti-rum ship treaty was signed with Great Britain similar treaties have been negotiated with Germany, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Italy, Panama, France, and Netherlands. The treaty with France has not yet been ratified by the chamber of Deputies. Under these treaties the United States has authority to sieze rum ships flying the flags of those nations within a distance than can be traversed in one hour by the vessel carrying the liquor. More than 6,000,000 cases of liquor were smuggled into the United States last year, according to unofficial estimates, and the coast guard seized only 150,000 cases. But with the increased "dry navy" and the 10 treaties in full effect smuggling is expected to be reduced to the minimum and seizuers materially increased.

332 Ships Visit Rum Row

During the past year department of justice investigations show that 332 foreign ocean-going vessels have been visitors to "rum row," 63 being anchored there at the same time. Of the rum ships spotted during the year 307 flew the British flag and the effective operation of the British treaty is therefore of the greatest importance to the prohibition enforcement unit and the coast guard. Norway was represented by 10 ships and France by four.

The treaties make ocean bootlegging to smaller speed boats vastly more difficult as they force the rum ships to stay 30 to 40 miles off the American coast, and as the smaller American speed boats can be seized anywhere captures are easier in ratio as the rum ships are forced to anchor farther from shore.

The "dry navy" has seized 23 foreign rum runners since the first treaty became effective in May, 1924, most of which were British. All yielded rich seizures of liquor, the cargo on the British steamer Quadra, seized off San Francisco, being worth $1,000,000.

Most of the smugglers have operated from British bases—Halifax, Lunenberg, Sydney and Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, St. Johns, N. F., Bermuda, Nassau and the islands of Bimini and Gun Cay in the British West Indies, and Victoria, Vancouver, Windsor and Belleville, Canada.

of weights and measures, had refused to come into East Liverpool to test scales, fearing this step might be resented by local authorities.

Councilmen Farrall, Kerr and Chambers asserted that the scale testing fee charged local merchants was an injustice inasmuch as merchants in Wellsville, Salem, Lisbon and other county towns were not required to pay anything.

"If the county pays a man for this work, why should we employ another for the same job and authorize him to collect a fee for the work?" asked Councilman Kerr. Council finally decided to inquire into the complaints, the investigation to be in charge of Councilmen Larcombe, Kerr and Eardley, assisted by Solicitor Brokaw.

Nine Ordinances Adopted

Nine ordinances, eight of which provided for the collection of special assessments for street and sewer improvements completed last summer, were passed on three readings under suspension of the rules. The other measure provided for the "safety and convenience of pedestrians while passing buildings being torn down, erected or altered" in the business district. Under the terms of the ordinance the safety director is authorized to compel contractors, working in the business district, to erect temporary sidewalks with covered roofs for the protection of pedestrians.

The street improvement ordinance provided for the levying of special assessments for the improvement of McKinnon avenue, Monroe street, Broadway, West Eighth and Lisbon streets, Jefferson street, Rural Lane, Franklin and Riverview streets and the River road.

An ordinance, providing for the resurfacing of St. Clair avenue, north of Young's alley, was passed on second reading by a vote of five to one, Councilman Kerr objecting. Councilman Farrall also voted against the measure when an effort was made to suspend the rules and pass the measure on third and final reading. Service Director Ellis, who attended the meeting, urged the enactment of this legislation to complete the improvement north to Calcutta.

Rural Lane Complaint

Council refused to take action looking toward appointment of Thomas Beabont as dumpmaster at Patterson field, holding that this appointment was one for the school board to shoulder inasmuch as they controlled the athletic field.

A petition was received from 50 residents of Sunnyside, asking that Carpenter's Run be sewered from West Eighth to West Ninth street, the cost to be borne jointly by the city and the property holders. The petition was laid over until the next meeting.

Councilman Farrall and Eardley reported that they had investigated the request from the Liverpool Produce company to lay a railroad switch across Crook Alley. Permission was granted for the improvement with the understanding that the alley was to be blocked at no time by railroad cars.

Councilman Kerr charged that the concrete used in the Rural lane improvement was crumbling and that the work was not up to specifications. The street committee and engineer were instructed to make an investigation.

The solicitor was requested to draw up a deed, accepting from James Kirkham, a plot of ground near Waterloo street for street purposes. Kirkham attended the meeting and expressed his willingness to deed his ground to the city without cost.

Protest Dredge Boat Noise.

The street commissioner was instructed to widen the alley leading off Dewey avenue, between Pennsylvania avenue and Erie street, East End, after council had received a petition from East End property holders.

Mrs. John Costello asked council to sewer Garfield street, appearing in behalf of a petition signed by 16 property holders of the street. Council voted to consider the request at the next meeting.

A petition signed by 71 property owners in the vicinity of Third and Monroe streets was received, complaining against the noise made at night by the dredge boat operated by the East Liverpool Sand and Gravel company. The petitioners also requested that the company be required to use higher smoke stacks on its dredge boat to eliminate the smoke nuisance. The complaint will be investigated by a committee consisting of Councilman Farrall, Kerr and Eardley.

Council discussed the proposed purchase of a motor-driven road scraper for the service department. Solicitor Brokaw was instructed to prepare legislation transferring money from the general fund to the service fund to provide for this transaction before the next meeting of the solons.

PRICE ON HEADS OF AUTO THIEVES

In an effort to curb automobile thieves, who have been unusually active here during the last three months, E. M. Diehl, secretary of the Columbiana County Motor Club, today offered a reward of $50 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty for car stealing.

The machine of John Davis, East End, stolen while parked in front of his home, Monday evening, was destroyed by fire on the Ohioville hill. It was announced today. A Hudson sedan, belonging to F. W. Miller, stolen from Dresden Avenue early Thursday morning, has not been recovered.

RIPPER WINS TRACK HONORS

Former High Student in Meet With World's Champs.

From high school athletics to the standard of competition furnished by world's champions is a jump of no mean proportions for any young athlete, but this is the leap which Clarence Ripper, of Wellsville, former local high school lad, has made, and, according to his performances in indoor meets during the later winter, he has made a good landing.

After spending a week's vacation with his parents in Wellsville, young Ripper this week returned to Michigan State Agricultural college, where he is a student, grabbed his running togs and hopped over to Detroit, where he competed with and watched the class of the running game in the United States at the present time. Accompanying Ripper were his athletic director, track captain and two sprinters who qualified for the Olympic finals last summer at Harvard.

The proportions of the meet can be estimated by the number of great runners of the day who performed at the meet. There were, first of all, Paavo Nurmi, the Finnish flash, who has topped records with a consistency and decisiveness that has never before been equalled; Willie Ritola, another Finlander, who probably ranks second to the great Nurmi; Schultz of Boston, sprinter; Hester and Coaffee, Canadian Olympic athletes; Joie Ray, world's mile champion; Hahn of Boston, Dodge of the Illinois A. C., Connelly of Georgetown, Granville of New York, the world's walking champion; Willie Plant of New York, and Italy's walking king, Frigerio, besides a host of other stars in all events.

The decorations, thousand of spectators, ceremonies such as a parade of athletes around the track, music, flag raising and costume dancing by Detroit girls made a wonderful setting for such a gathering of athletes.

Nurmi, Ritola, Frigerio, Hann, Ray, Dodge and such athletes brought applause after applause. They were easily the stars of the meet. There were other thrills and one came in the invitational half-mile when Ripper of Wellsville high, now at Michigan state, led the field which started from scratch for five of the six laps. After about four attempts, each attempt bringing the crowd to its feet with yells, Ray Dodge, Olympic champ, of the I. A. C., who set a new Canadian 600 yard record last week while touring with Nurmi, broke the tape, taking first place. Freyurg, U. of Michigan, placing second and Ripper, third. Beautiful medals, portraying Nurmi in full stride were given to first, second and third place men. Ripper has been leading his school entries in both the half and the mile in all the indoor meets this winter and never came in behind third place except once when he placed fourth in the half after having run the mile. He was third in the Michigan 1,000 yards A. A. U. championship this winter at Detroit and in one meet was second in the mile, while the Michigan collegiate mile champ was third.

Ripper, with the Aggies', two Olympic sprint candidate, ran in the Illinois Relay carnival this winter, running the 1,000 yards with such men as Marsters and Holden of Georgetown's world's champion relay team. Seven hundred athletes from all over the U. S. were there, and five events were won by world's champions.

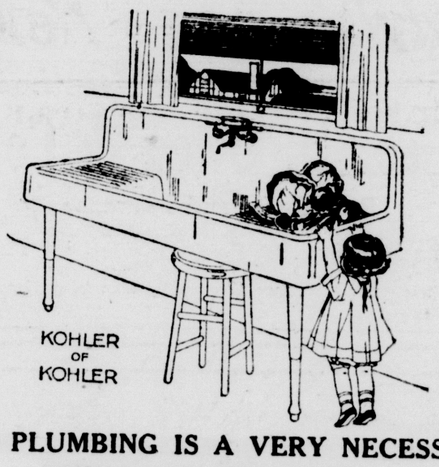

The Aggies will now prepare for a heavy spring track schedule. Ripper has been elected by the students to manage the Michigan state horticultural show at the college next winter in which fruit from all parts of the United States will be exhibited. Ripper is a member of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity and also of the honorary athletic fraternity of Michigan state.

ROAD GRADING WORK NEAR END

Grading on the Yellow creek township section of the Wellsville-Salineville road will be finished within a few weeks, according to announcement by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

Contractor Harry Brown has finished all steam shovel grading and the grade is now being "trimmed."

Yellow creek trustees are interested in having this road surfaced as early as possible. With the grading finished, it is likely that traffic will use this road between Wellsville and Salineville, thereby avoiding the present road.

Pouring of concrete on the Salineville section of this road in Washington township will begin as soon as the weather permits and additional material can be delivered on the job. The contract for this part of the concrete road was awarded last year.

SMITHFIELD DRY AGENTS LET OUT

Commissions of 10 prohibition officers working as deputy marshals out of the court of Mayor W. G. Parks of Smithfield, Jefferson county, several of whom participated in the series of liquor raids made here in January, have been revoked by Mayor Parks.

The commissions of the following deputies were revoked: Harry Webster, Ferd Eoff, Harry Ragle, A. E. Wild, Chauncey Brafford, W. M. McCoy, B. F. Deem, J. C. McCoy, R. M. Goudy and D. F. Kestusen.

Webster, Eoff, Deem and the McCoys are under indictment in Jefferson county common pleas court.

Mayor Parks declared that his action in revoking the appointments of the agents had no connection with the conference which he and other dry court mayors had recently with Prohibition Commissioner B. F. McDonald in Columbus. He said that he had been contemplating the action for more than a month.

British Soldier Wins Major's Wife; Letters Found by Husband

LONDON, April.—Major Gerald Hughes has been granted a divorce from his wife, Daphne, because a private won her love.

Major Hughes testified that while on duty in India his suspicions were aroused; and his wife confessed that she had a lover, that she was not ashamed of him, and said that he was a soldier in the Black Watch. The Major found a number of love letters to his wife from the soldier; and his wife became hysterical and said she wanted her freedom so that she might marry her lover. The Major said his wife was a woman of independent means.

Captain Noel Willis testified that, while staying at a hotel in Chakatra, he saw a private of the Black Watch enter Mrs. Hughes' rooms on several occasions.

CLEAR RUINS OF FIRE-SWEPT ZONE FOR WORK ON BUILDINGS

Construction Will be Under Way Within Two Weeks.

ANNOUNCE PLANS

T. V. Milligan and Paul Hune in Property Transfer.

Actual work on the rebuilding of nthe three Fifth street blocks, razed by fire Sunday, February 22, will be under way in the next two or three weeks.

Work of clearing away debris of the six-story Milligan building, on the northwest corner of Fifth street and Crook alley, is being rushed. Workmen are also devoting attention to the Leland Thompson building, formerly occupied by the Lewis Brothers' store, and the site probably will be cleared by the middle of next week.

Peter Milliron has the contract for clearing the ruins of the Wasbutzky building, adjoining the Milligan property. Because of the mass of concrete, steel and wire reinforcement, the work is progressing slowly. The first and second floors of the front wall will be allowed to stand.

The Milligan Hardware & Supply company has announced plans for a three-story brick, steel and concrete fireproof building on the site of the destroyed six-story structure. A two story fire proof building will occupy the site of the old three-story Wasbutzky building. Leland Thompson has not determined the size of the structure which he will erect on the site of the former Lewis Brothers' store home.

To Erect Warehouse.

As the result of a deal completed this week, T. V. Milligan becomes the owner of the Paul Hune structure in Diamond alley. Milligan has transferred to Hune, wholesale confectioner, the adjoining building, which he recently purchased from James McGarry. Hune is now occupying this building, which he will remodel.

Milligan will erect a two-story brick fireproof warehouse on the site of the two frame buildings at the corner of Diamond and Crook alleys. This warehouse will have a frontage of 45 feet on Diamond alley and extend 48 feet along Crook alley.

Work of clearing away ruins of the two frame buildings, which were badly damaged when caught beneath the falling back wall of the Milligan structure during the fire, will be started within the next few days. The Milligan Hardware and Supply company will maintain temporary headquarters in the warehouse building, upon its completion, pending rebuilding of the Fifth street business block.

RIPPER WINS TRACK HONORS

Former High Student in Meet With World's Champs.

From high school athletics to the standard of competition furnished by world's champions is a jump of no mean proportions for any young athlete, but this is the leap which Clarence Ripper, of Wellsville, former local high school lad, has made, and, according to his performances in indoor meets during the later winter, he has made a good landing.

After spending a week's vacation with his parents in Wellsville, young Ripper this week returned to Michigan State Agricultural college, where he is a student, grabbed his running togs and hopped over to Detroit, where he competed with and watched the class of the running game in the United States at the present time. Accompanying Ripper were his athletic director, track captain and two sprinters who qualified for the Olympic finals last summer at Harvard.

The proportions of the meet can be estimated by the number of great runners of the day who performed at the meet. There were, first of all, Paavo Nurmi, the Finnish flash, who has topped records with a consistency and decisiveness that has never before been equalled; Willie Ritola, another Finlander, who probably ranks second to the great Nurmi; Schultz of Boston, sprinter; Hester and Coaffee, Canadian Olympic athletes; Joie Ray, world's mile champion; Hahn of Boston, Dodge of the Illinois A. C., Connelly of Georgetown, Granville of New York, the world's walking champion; Willie Plant of New York, and Italy's walking king, Frigerio, besides a host of other stars in all events.

The decorations, thousand of spectators, ceremonies such as a parade of athletes around the track, music, flag raising and costume dancing by Detroit girls made a wonderful setting for such a gathering of athletes.

Nurmi, Ritola, Frigerio, Hann, Ray, Dodge and such athletes brought applause after applause. They were easily the stars of the meet. There were other thrills and one came in the invitational half-mile when Ripper of Wellsville high, now at Michigan state, led the field which started from scratch for five of the six laps. After about four attempts, each attempt bringing the crowd to its feet with yells, Ray Dodge, Olympic champ, of the I. A. C., who set a new Canadian 600 yard record last week while touring with Nurmi, broke the tape, taking first place. Freyurg, U. of Michigan, placing second and Ripper, third. Beautiful medals, portraying Nurmi in full stride were given to first, second and third place men. Ripper has been leading his school entries in both the half and the mile in all the indoor meets this winter and never came in behind third place except once when he placed fourth in the half after having run the mile. He was third in the Michigan 1,000 yards A. A. U. championship this winter at Detroit and in one meet was second in the mile, while the Michigan collegiate mile champ was third.

Ripper, with the Aggies', two Olympic sprint candidate, ran in the Illinois Relay carnival this winter, running the 1,000 yards with such men as Marsters and Holden of Georgetown's world's champion relay team. Seven hundred athletes from all over the U. S. were there, and five events were won by world's champions.

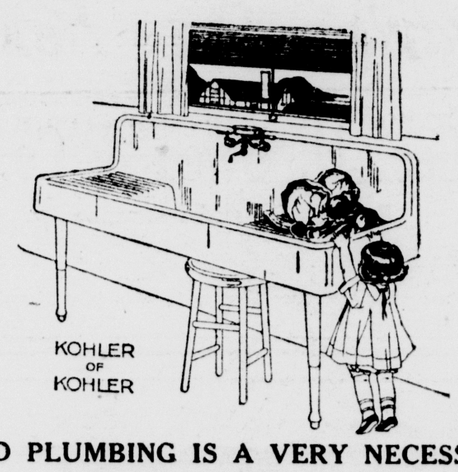

The Aggies will now prepare for a heavy spring track schedule. Ripper has been elected by the students to manage the Michigan state horticultural show at the college next winter in which fruit from all parts of the United States will be exhibited. Ripper is a member of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity and also of the honorary athletic fraternity of Michigan state.

ROAD GRADING WORK NEAR END

Grading on the Yellow creek township section of the Wellsville-Salineville road will be finished within a few weeks, according to announcement by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

Contractor Harry Brown has finished all steam shovel grading and the grade is now being "trimmed."

Yellow creek trustees are interested in having this road surfaced as early as possible. With the grading finished, it is likely that traffic will use this road between Wellsville and Salineville, thereby avoiding the present road.

Pouring of concrete on the Salineville section of this road in Washington township will begin as soon as the weather permits and additional material can be delivered on the job. The contract for this part of the concrete road was awarded last year.

SMITHFIELD DRY AGENTS LET OUT

Commissions of 10 prohibition officers working as deputy marshals out of the court of Mayor W. G. Parks of Smithfield, Jefferson county, several of whom participated in the series of liquor raids made here in January, have been revoked by Mayor Parks.

Webster, Eoff, Deem and the McCoys are under indictment in Jefferson county common pleas court.

Mayor Parks declared that his action in revoking the appointments of the agents had no connection with the conference which he and other dry court mayors had recently with Prohibition Commissioner B. F. McDonald in Columbus. He said that he had been contemplating the action for more than a month.

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1925.

Public Ownership in Chicago

East Liverpool people, who, by reason of facts given the light of day during the 350-day street car tie-up here two years ago, have some knowledge of the expense involved in maintaining a modern transportation system, were not surprised at Chicago's rejection of proposed municipial ownership of its transit lines. Perhaps Chicago is to be congratulated.

The burden would have been tremendous. The capital expenditure involved was $550,000,000. That would have been spread over a period of 40 years, but would have meant a great financial burden from the start. It might have meant a greater burden right along for current expenditure.

Cities generally get along pretty well with such matters as street paving and sewers, waterworks, parks, schools and libraries. In other kinds of business their record in this country is less satisfactory.

If Chicago had really gone into this big transportation game, as owner and operator, it might have led many other cities to do likewise. As matters stand, its adverse decision will confirm the tendency to leave public utilities in private hands, subject to whatever measure of public control experience shows to be necessary.

The Test of Germany

It is probably a good thing that "Iron Hindenburg" has entered the race for the German presidency. Now his friends will come forward, his enemies will be able to take a crack at him, and everybody will find out by the end of the month where Germany stands—whether for democracy, peace and progress or for monarchism, war and reaction.

German democracy has been suspected abroad of being only skin deep, and indeed a device adopted as a "skin game" to fleece allied creditors and fool America, which first raised the demand for democratization of the Fatherland. Recent developments have seemed to belie these suspicions and prove German sincerity. In political contests so far, the militarists have lost. Ludendorff was snowed under in the vote of March 29, and the liberal group of parties polled a good majority of the votes. If they do as well, or better, in the clean-cut fight now coming, the allied and associated powers will have a lot more confidence in German faith and German prospects.

A Profitable Vacation

Of all the young men taking a vacation this year, none will get more benefit from it than the thousands who take "a month's vacation at Uncle Sam's expense."

Opportunity for enrollment at Camp Knox, Ky., which will be open from July 1 to July 30, is offered 36 Columbiana county boys. Dr. John A. Fraser, health commissioner, who is a World war veteran has been named special recruiting officer in the East Liverpool district.

Uncle Sam does not profess to be altogether philanthropic about it. He maintains his summer training camps for good and strategic reasons, to keep alive a healthy spirit of self-defense in the nation and to provide the rudiments of military training to American youth who otherwise would never have had any such training. It is a benefit to the government and the country to have a few score thousand young men undergoing such a dose of instruction and discipline every summer. But it does them more good than it does Uncle Sam.

This is not saying that there is no hardship in the experience. The work and exercise are hard—just as it is hard paddling and carrying a canoe, with its equipment, 40 miles a day in the Canadian woods, or trailing big game over the mountains with a gun. But there is joy and satisfaction in the achievement and there are pleasant compensations along the way.

It is safe to say that the lads choosing this kind of vacation will come back to home and job far better in health, vigor and spirit than nine-tenths of their friends who have preferred the softer and more expensive kinds.

Crime News Inside

The Des Moines Register has been conducting an experiment with crime news, segregating it all on an inside page instead of putting conspicuous crimes on the front page as usual and scattering the rest through the paper. The idea was suggested by the women's clubs of the city, and aims to find how the public likes the change.

"The experiment is made purely as a test," explains the Register. "No effort will be made to curtail or increase the ordinary amount of crime news. The only change is made by the fact that it will be all together on one page."

Results will be awaited with interest by other newspapers. It may please some readers, and disappoint others, to find no crime thrillers on the front page. There will be no trapping of the innocent and unwary into reading about some crime they would rather know nothing about. Those who want the criminal stuff can find it readily enough, just as the devotees of other departments find them.

It seems doubtful whether, on the whole, the desire of the Des Moines women's clubs will be realized, and criminal news will be read less when printed in this fashion. There was a time, as Lord Byron satirically recorded, when school texts of the classics were carefully expurgated, and then the expurgated passages were all printed together at the back of the book. So the students usually turned there first.

Time is whatever we make it. People make hard times, then blame the times.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains — By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

AT QUARANTINE, April 11.—After two months' absence it is pleasant to hear the New York newsboys scampering aboard at Quarantine crying "Morning poipers!" I believe I prefer the "Hully Gee" of the Bowery to the "Qui Monsieur" and "Very good, sir," over there.

I have come back a linguist—speaking English, American and New York. It was refreshing to see Miss Liberty with her torch aloft and the jagged beauty of the skyline. Steaming up the North River to the pier, New York never looked more lovely.

There is always a welcome for returning voyagers. Whistles of factories blow and the river craft siren their shrill greeting. The first touch of spring is coming to Jersey hills. Little whirls of smoke raced from the big stacks like clouds hurrying back to the sky. Activity everywhere.

Crowds pressed to the ships rail to locate friends and relatives amid the blurr of faces and fluter of handkerchiefs on the pier. I heard one little boy megaphone: "Mother, what did you bring me?" Many blew kisses to lover ones while tears streaked down their cheks.

I have always lacked these emotions but I admire them in others. My greeting of affection is usually a placid "How are you?" and a little embarrassment. But is is a very common experience for reunited people to swoon at the pier from mere happiness and excitement.

The battery of news photographers and movie men were at the gang plank to snap with whirring clicks all the celebrities aboard. And when the passengers strike the firm foundation of the pier, following the swaying motion of the boat, they lurch about like drunken folk.

Custom inspection is a dreary procedure. It comes at a time when tired passengers are aching to rush to their homes. Yet they must stand sometimes like cattle for hours in alphabetical array while their baggage is torn up and rummaged.

There is a great deal of talk about drinking orgies on wet ships. I saw nothing approaching an orgy. Many took a cocktail before luncheon or dinner and perhaps a bottle of wine with their meals. The only intoxication I saw was that of a Frenchman who was gloriously soulfed all the way across and was still in that condition on the pier.

I stepped into the smoking lounge where most of the drinking is done at the three mile limit to get first hand evidence of the talked of surging crowds getting the final drink. Outside of two stewards I was the only person in the room. Not a drink was being served.

As the liner was being warped to the pier I noticed the gallant captain on the bridge. He semed a pillar of authority and rightly so, yet the highest officials of a steamship line are on land. It is remindful of the song in the Gilbert-Sullivan opera of "H. M. S. Pinafore."

Stick close to your desks,
And never go to sea,
And you all may be rulers of the Queen's Navee.

A noonday sun was flooding New York as the taxi sped northward. No city seems so brick and colorful. Ancient rumbling London appears mediaeval. Gay Paree drab. I know a New Yorker who now lives in Philadelphia. He often comes to town for a brief vacation. He saunters out to the sidewalk from the Pennsylvania station and then begins to walk rapidly. He doesn't know why, for he usually has no particular objective. But that is the spirit of New York that catches up the stranger and before he knows it he is on the run. Hurry, Hurry. Always hurry. After a tedious, monotonous journey I found myself again inoculated. I began to fret and champ when the taxi was held up for traffic for a short space. "Hurry up," I called to the driver. "What's eatin' you?" he replied. I knew I was again in New York.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Development of State Parks.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11.—The National Conference on State Parks has opened in Washington, D. C., its first permanent headquarters after having been in existence about five years. Miss Beatrice M. Ward, who has been associated with the work of both national and state parks for a number of years, is in charge as secretary.

One of the first things done by this energetic young woman since the opening of the offices here was to issue the first number of a bulletin setting forth the progress and plans of the various states in establishing and maintaining state recreational parks. It is planned to make this bulletin a regular publication and it will be issued from time to time as sufficient valuable information accumulates.

In the first issue of this bulletin Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of the National Conference on State Parks, makes the following statement: "This, the first issue of the bulletin, is presented to you in the hope that you will find it of material value. State park development has increased by leaps and bounds in the past two years and gives promise of becoming of even greater importance as time passes. When the conference was organized many states had no thought of state parks; today practicaly every state is working for their creation. New parks and forests are being continuously established; state park commissions are being created by legislative enactment; associations are being formed; in fact, hardly a day passes that we do not hear of some new activity.

"I call upon all friends to join our ranks and aid us in making our slogan, 'A State Park Every Hundred Miles' an actuality."

More and more are the people of the United States coming to an appreciation of natural recreational grounds. The automobile has resulted in more cross continent travel and a consequent demand for suitable camping sites. A great many automobile tourists carry camping paraphernalia instead of planning to stop at hotels in towns through which they pass. This may be because of lack of funds or because of a preference for outdoor life. In many cases it is being met by the municipality.

Most States Cooperate.

While providing suitable camps for automobilists is not a primary concern of the State Park Conference, the establishment of state parks would surely be a great boon to such travelers. There are only a few states which are not up to this time sufficiently interested in the movement to cooperate. However, it is hoped and believed that sooner or later they will come along.

As the secretary says, "These things move along so rapidly that it is difficult to keep up with them. For instance, Utah for years evinced no interest whatever in establishing state parks. Suddenly she aroused herself and appointed a state park board, consisting of the governor, the president of the state university, the president of the agricultural college, and two persons to be chosen by the above named members. This board is given power to manage and control lands acquired for state parks, to acquire any land within the state designated by a survey and to accept gifts of money or land for state park purposes form any county, municipality, individual or the federal government.'

All this was done before the National conference had any inkling that Utah was in the least interested.

A notable example of state park progress is Texas. In this state, as in most of the southern states, public sentiment and political progress have not reached the point where sufficient appropriations for parks and forests can be obtained from the legislature.

What Texas Is Doing.

However, in 1923, Governor Neff succeeded in having a law passed which provided for the creation of a state park board with authority to solicit and accept for the state donations of land, and to investigate tracts suitable for park purposes. Up to Feruary, 1925, this board had ben offered sixty-five tracts, ranging in area from ten

Hermit's Life Savings of $9,000 Are Lost When His Log Cabin Burns as He Dozes

[redacted], Nov. 23.—[redacted], who lived alone, never had faith in banks, had been saving his money about his log cabin at [redacted] for many years. Every week he put part of his salary away in the hiding place in the kitchen, under the floor near the chimney. As the deposit grew he watched it closer and closer, until it exceeded $9,000. That was last night. Each thousand was in a roll by itself, bound with a rubber band. In a strong canvas bag were the silver and gold coins that he had not changed into bills.

He counted the tenth roll of bills last night and there was $184 in it. That was in addition to the other nine rolls, each totaling $1,000. He put the money back under the floor. He felt drowsy last night, and after fixing the coal fire sat in a chair nearby, to take a nap, but he slept longer than he intended and had neglected to look after the stove, which had become overheated and set fire to the place.

When [redacted], who is more than 60 years of age, was finally awakened it was too late to reach the hiding place, because the flames were there ahead of him. EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

Public Ownership in Chicago

East Liverpool people, who, by reason of facts given the light of day during the 350-day street car tie-up here two years ago, have some knowledge of the expense involved in maintaining a modern transportation system, were not surprised at Chicago's rejection of proposed municipial ownership of its transit lines. Perhaps Chicago is to be congratulated.

The burden would have been tremendous. The capital expenditure involved was $550,000,000. That would have been spread over a period of 40 years, but would have meant a great financial burden from the start. It might have meant a greater burden right along for current expenditure.

Cities generally get along pretty well with such matters as street paving and sewers, waterworks, parks, schools and libraries. In other kinds of business their record in this country is less satisfactory.

If Chicago had really gone into this big transportation game, as owner and operator, it might have led many other cities to do likewise. As matters stand, its adverse decision will confirm the tendency to leave public utilities in private hands, subject to whatever measure of public control experience shows to be necessary.

The Test of Germany

It is probably a good thing that "Iron Hindenburg" has entered the race for the German presidency. Now his friends will come forward, his enemies will be able to take a crack at him, and everybody will find out by the end of the month where Germany stands—whether for democracy, peace and progress or for monarchism, war and reaction.

German democracy has been suspected abroad of being only skin deep, and indeed a device adopted as a "skin game" to fleece allied creditors and fool America, which first raised the demand for democratization of the Fatherland. Recent developments have seemed to belie these suspicions and prove German sincerity. In political contests so far, the militarists have lost. Ludendorff was snowed under in the vote of March 29, and the liberal group of parties polled a good majority of the votes. If they do as well, or better, in the clean-cut fight now coming, the allied and associated powers will have a lot more confidence in German faith and German prospects.

A Profitable Vacation

Of all the young men taking a vacation this year, none will get more benefit from it than the thousands who take "a month's vacation at Uncle Sam's expense."

Opportunity for enrollment at Camp Knox, Ky., which will be open from July 1 to July 30, is offered 36 Columbiana county boys. Dr. John A. Fraser, health commissioner, who is a World war veteran has been named special recruiting officer in the East Liverpool district.

Uncle Sam does not profess to be altogether philanthropic about it. He maintains his summer training camps for good and strategic reasons, to keep alive a healthy spirit of self-defense in the nation and to provide the rudiments of military training to American youth who otherwise would never have had any such training. It is a benefit to the government and the country to have a few score thousand young men undergoing such a dose of instruction and discipline every summer. But it does them more good than it does Uncle Sam.

This is not saying that there is no hardship in the experience. The work and exercise are hard—just as it is hard paddling and carrying a canoe, with its equipment, 40 miles a day in the Canadian woods, or trailing big game over the mountains with a gun. But there is joy and satisfaction in the achievement and there are pleasant compensations along the way.

It is safe to say that the lads choosing this kind of vacation will come back to home and job far better in health, vigor and spirit than nine-tenths of their friends who have preferred the softer and more expensive kinds.

Crime News Inside

The Des Moines Register has been conducting an experiment with crime news, segregating it all on an inside page instead of putting conspicuous crimes on the front page as usual and scattering the rest through the paper. The idea was suggested by the women's clubs of the city, and aims to find how the public likes the change.

"The experiment is made purely as a test," explains the Register. "No effort will be made to curtail or increase the ordinary amount of crime news. The only change is made by the fact that it will be all together on one page."

Results will be awaited with interest by other newspapers. It may please some readers, and disappoint others, to find no crime thrillers on the front page. There will be no trapping of the innocent and unwary into reading about some crime they would rather know nothing about. Those who want the criminal stuff can find it readily enough, just as the devotees of other departments find them.

It seems doubtful whether, on the whole, the desire of the Des Moines women's clubs will be realized, and criminal news will be read less when printed in this fashion. There was a time, as Lord Byron satirically recorded, when school texts of the classics were carefully expurgated, and then the expurgated passages were all printed together at the back of the book. So the students usually turned there first.

Time is whatever we make it. People make hard times, then blame the times.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains — By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

AT QUARANTINE, April 11.—After two months' absence it is pleasant to hear the New York newsboys scampering aboard at Quarantine crying "Morning poipers!" I believe I prefer the "Hully Gee" of the Bowery to the "Qui Monsieur" and "Very good, sir," over there.

I have come back a linguist—speaking English, American and New York. It was refreshing to see Miss Liberty with her torch aloft and the jagged beauty of the skyline. Steaming up the North River to the pier, New York never looked more lovely.

There is always a welcome for returning voyagers. Whistles of factories blow and the river craft siren their shrill greeting. The first touch of spring is coming to Jersey hills. Little whirls of smoke raced from the big stacks like clouds hurrying back to the sky. Activity everywhere.

Crowds pressed to the ships rail to locate friends and relatives amid the blurr of faces and fluter of handkerchiefs on the pier. I heard one little boy megaphone: "Mother, what did you bring me?" Many blew kisses to lover ones while tears streaked down their cheks.

I have always lacked these emotions but I admire them in others. My greeting of affection is usually a placid "How are you?" and a little embarrassment. But is is a very common experience for re-united people to swoon at the pier from mere happiness and excitement.

The battery of news photographers and movie men were at the grang plank to snap with whirring clicks all the celebrities aboard. And when the passengers strike the firm foundation of the pier, following the swaying motion of the boat, they lurch about like drunken folk.

Custom inspection is a dreary procedure. It comes at a time when tired passengers are aching to rush to their homes. Yet they must stand sometimes like cattle for hours in alphabetical array while their baggage is torn up and rummaged.

There is a great deal of talk about drinking origies on wet ships. I saw nothing approaching an orgy. Many took a cocktail before luncheon or dinner and perhaps a bottle of wine with their meals. The only intoxication I saw was that of a Frenchman who was gloriously scuiffed all the way across and was still in that condition on the pier.

I stepped into the smoking lounge where most of the drinking is done at the three mile limit to get first hand evidence of the talked of surging crowds getting the final drink. Outside of two stewards I was the only person in the room. Not a drink was being served.

As the liner was being warped to the pier I noticed the gallant captain on the bridge. He semed a pillar of authority and rightly so, yet the highest officials of a steamship line are on land. It is remindful of the song in the Gilbert-Sullivan opera of "H. M. S. Pinafore."

Stick close to your desks,
And never go to sea,
And you all may be rulers of the Queen's Navee.

A noonday sun was flooding New York as the taxi sped northward. No city seems so brick and colorful. Ancient rumbling London appears mediaeval. Gay Paree drab. I know a New Yorker who now lives in Philadelphia. He often comes to town for a brief vacation. He saunters out to the sidewalk from the Pennsylvania station and then begins to walk rapidly. He doesn't know why, for he usually has no particular objective. But that is the spirit of New York that catches up the stranger and before he knows it he is on the run. Hurry, Hurry. Always hurry. After a tedious, monotonous journey I found myself again inoculated. I began to fret and champ when the taxi was held up for traffic for a short space. "Hurry up," I called to the driver. "What's eatin' you?" he replied. I knew I was again in New York.

OVER 69 YEARS OF SUCCESS

Boy's Suicide Plan Fails; Misjudges Speed of Freight

BALTIMORE, April —By a miraculous quirk of fate sixteen-year-old Leo Lombardi was saved from a cruel death when he attempted to end his life by jumping from North Avenue bridge into the path of an onrushing freight train.

Misjudging the speed of the approaching train, the boy hesitated too long before leaping, landing on top of a boxcar, where he lay stunned. An hour later he was found by a railroad employe, when the boxcar was pushed onto a siding at Mount Winans, seven miles from the place where he made his leap.

Although suffering from concussion of the brain Lombardi is expected to recover. The boy was despondent at his inability to find work.

And another good remedy for insomnia is to listen closely while the radio announcer reads forty or fifty telegrams, all of them beginning with—"Program coming in fine."

MANY TUBERCULAR CASES IN STATE

"There is a real and vital tuberculosis problem to be solved in West Virginia," George C. Rowell, executive secretary of the West Virginia Tuberculosis association, stated in his annual report presented at the convention of the association in Charleston.

"At least 1,404 persons in West Virginia died from tuberculosis during 1924, and there were 1,231 deaths from the same cause in 1923, these facts are recorded with the state health department. It is possible that the apparent increase is due to better reporting of death from tuberculosis, as the number of annual deaths in West Virginia has been estimated to be approximately 2,000.

"The tuberculosis death rate for 1923 in the United States, based on the reports of the 38 states in the registration area, was 93.6. The tuberculosis death rate for 1923 in West Virginia has been estimated by the statistical service of the National Tuberculosis association as 105.3 per 100,000."

BURGLARS LOOT WELLSBURG HOME

Thieves entered the home of Earl Tolbert, Twenty-second street, Wellsburg, last night and made off with jewelry and other small articles whose value was estimated at several hundred dollars. Brooke county authorities and Wellsburg police were working on the case, but up until early this morning had made no arrests.

No marks were found to betray the manner in which the burglars gained entrance to the home. Police believe the entry occurred through use of a skeleton key, during the time in which Mr. Tolbert and members of his family were auto riding.

Boy Scouts Meet.

Members of the Chester Boy Scout troop met last evening in the Welfare house. Number of hikes have been planned for the season by Scoutmaster Whalon.

Committee at Work.

Committee appointed at the last meeting of council to investigate the cost of the proposed new municipal building, will probably make a preliminary report at the next session.

Holding Bake Sale.

Members of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist Episcopal church are conducting a bake sale today in the M. E. Eppley store in Carolina avenue.

Business Men To Meet.

Regular meeting of the Chester Business Men's Association will be held in the rooms of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Monday evening. Routine business will be transacted.

NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

LISBON

M. K. Zimerman, West Park Ave. Phone 319-R. Lisbon, O.

TAX RETURNS MUST BE FILED

Personal Property Blanks Being Received by County Auditor.

Personal tax returns are now being received by County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton although tax listing day does not begin until Monday.

Every person of the age of 21 years is required by law to make a return of his or her personal property, and upon blanks that have been prepared by the County Auditor's office for that purpose.

People who have not received tax listing blanks should make the fact known to the county auditor's office immediately, so that returns may be filed within the legal time limit allowed by law.

It is the duty of County Auditor Hamilton to list any property omitted for the current year, and for five years prior, and to add a penalty of 50 per cent for each year thus admitted. For failure to do this the auditor is subjected to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 for each case of neglect on his part. Every return must be sworn to, and every question on the blanks must be answered.

It is also important that all new buildings be listed on these, also that a report be made of improvements or additions to buildings completed since April 13, 1924.

Under the law automobiles are taxable in addition to the license fee and under the following schedule:

1926 or models prior to that date 10 percent of the list price.

Famous Electrical Engineer Produces Nine Foot Spark

OLDHAM, England, April.—A spark nine and a half feet long has been produced as the result of tests conducted as the result of tests conducted at the works of the distinguished electrical engineer. Dr. S. Z. Ferranti, at Holinwood, near here.

"It was an awe-inspiring thing to get so near a shaft of real lightning," Dr. Ferranti told reporters. "The spark was produced in testing a set of three linked transformers, which were found capable of producing one million volts.

"This was, I believe, the highest voltage or pressure ever attained in England," he added, "and the result of the test is expected to rank as a step toward the achievement of longer transmission of electricity at higher pressure."

A Romance of the Spanish Main

CAPTAIN BLOOD

by RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitagraph picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

"You are no longer that," she said, and strove to smile.

"Yet I owe no thanks to you that I am not," he answered. "I think there's no more to be said, unless it be to add the assurance that Lord Julian Wade has also nothing to apprehend from me. That, no doubt, will be the assurance that your peace of mind requires?"

"For your own sake—yes. But for your own sake only. I would not have you do anything mean or dishonouring."

"Thief and pirate though I be?"

She clenched her hand, and made a little gesture of despair and impatience.

"Will you never forgive me those words?"

"I'm finding it a trifle hard, I confess. But what does it matter, when all is said?"

Her clear hazel eyes considered him a moment wistfully. Then she put out her hand again.

"I am going, Captain Blood. Since you are so generous to my uncle, I shall be returning to Barbados with him. We are not like to meet again—ever. Is it impossible that we should part friends? Once I wronged you, I know. And I have said that I am sorry. Won't you . . . won't you say 'good-bye'?"

He took the hand she proffered. Retaining it, he spoke, his eyes sombrely, wistfully considering her.

"You are returning to Barbados?" he said slowly. "Will Lord Julian be going with you?"

"Why do you ask me that?" she confronted him quite fearlessly.

"Sure, now, didn't he give you my message, or did he bungle it?"

"No. He didn't bungle it. He gave it me in your own words. It touched me very deeply. It made me see clearly my error and my injustice. I owe it to you that I should say this by way of amend. I judged too harshly where it was a presumption to judge at all."

He was still holding her hand. "And Lord Julian, then?" he asked, his eyes watching her, bright as sapphires in the copper-coloured face.

"Lord Julian will no doubt be going home to England. There is nothing more for him to do out here."

"But didn't he ask you to go with him?"

"He did. I forgive you the impertinence."

A wild hope leapt to life within him.

"And you? Glory be, ye'll not be telling me ye refused to become my lady, when . . ."

"Oh! You are insufferable!" She tore her hand free and backed away from him. "I should not have come . . . Good-bye!" She was speeding to the door.

He sprang after her, and caught her. Her face flamed, and her eyes stabbed him like daggers. "These are pirate's ways, I think! Release me!"

"Arabella!" he cried on a note of pleading. "Are ye meaning it? Must I release ye? Must I let ye go and never set eyes on ye again? Or will ye stay and make this exile endurable until we can go home together? Ooh, ye're crying now! What have I said to make ye cry, my dear?"

"I . . . I thought you'd never say it," she mocked him through her tears. "There was never, never anybody but you, Peter."

Governor Blood forgot the duties of his office. He had reached home at last. His odyssey was ended.

"And you? Glory be, ye'll not be telling me ye refused to become 'M. Lady'."

They had, of course, a deal to say thereafter, so much, indeed, that they sat down to say it, whilst time sped on, and Governor Blood forgot the duties of his office. He had reached home at last. His odyssey was ended.

And meanwhile Colonel Bishop's fleet had come to anchor, and the Colonel had landed on the mole, a disgruntled man to be disgruntled further yet. He was accompanied ashore by Lord Julian Wade.

A corporal's guard was drawn up to receive him, and in advance of this stood Major Mallard and two others who were unknown to the Deputy-Governor: one slight and elegant, the other big and brawny.

Major Mallard advanced. "Colonel Bishop, I have orders to arrest you. Your sword, sir!"

Bishop stared, empurling. "What the devil? Arrest me, d'ye say? Arrest me?"

"By order of the Governor of Jamaica," said the elegant little man behind Major Mallard. Bishop swung to him.

"The Governor? You're mad!" He looked from one to the other. "I am the Governor."

"You were," said the little man dryly. "But we've changed that in your absence. You're broke for abandoning your post without due cause and therefore imperiling the settlement over which you had charge. It's a serious matter, Colonel Bishop, as you may find. Considering that you held your office from the Government of King James, it is even possible that a charge of treason may lie against you. It rests with your successor entirely whether ye're hanged or not."

Bishop rapped out an oath, and then, shaken by a sudden fear: "Who the devil may you be?" he asked.

"I am Lord Willoughby, Governor-General of His Majesty's Colonies in the West Indies. You were informed, I think, of my coming."

The remains of Bishop's anger fell from him like a cloak. He broke into a sweat of fear. Behind him Lord Julian looked on, his handsome face suddenly white and drawn.

"But, my Lord—" began the Colonel.

"Sir, I am not concerned to hear your reasons," his Lordship interrupted harshly. "I am on the point of sailing and I have not the time. The Governor will hear you and no doubt deal justly by you." He waved to Major Mallard, and Bishop, a crumpled, broken man, allowed himself to be led away.

To Lord Julian, who went with him, since none deterred him, Bishop expressed himself when presently he had sufficiently recovered.

"This is one more item to the account of that scoundrel Blood," he said through his teeth. "My God, what a reckoning there will be when we meet!"

Major Mallard turned away his face that he might conceal his smile, and without further words led him a prisoner to the Governor's house that so long had been Colonel Bishop's own residence. He was left to wait under guard in the hall, whilst Major Mallard went ahead to announce him.

Miss Bishop was still with Peter Blood when Major Mallard entered. His announcement startled them back to realities.

"You will be merciful with him. You will spare him all you can for my sake, Peter," she pleaded.

"To be sure I will," said Blood, "but I'm afraid the circumstances won't."

She effaced herself, escaping into the garden and Major Mallard fetched the Colonel.

"His Excellency, the Governor, will see you now," said he, and threw wide the door.

Colonel Bishop staggered in and stood waiting.

At the table sat a man of whom nothing was visible but the top of a carefully curled, black head. Then this head was raised, and a pair of blue eyes solemnly regarded the prisoner. Colonel Bishop made a noise in his throat, and, stared into the face of His Excellency, the Deputy-Governor of Jamaica, which was the face of the man he had been hunting in Tortuga to his present undoing.

The situation was best expressed to Lord Willoughby by Van der Kuylen as the pair stepped aboard the Admiral's flagship.

"Id is fery boedigal!" he said, his blue eyes twinkling. "Cabdain Blood is fond of boedry—you remember de abbis blossoms. So? Ha, ha!"

For failure to do this the auditor is subjected to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 for each case of neglect on his part. Every return must be sworn to, and every question on the blanks must be answered.

Famous Electrical Engineer Produces Nine Foot Spark

OLDHAM, England, April.—A spark nine and a half feet long has been produced as the result of tests conducted as the result of tests conducted at the works of the distinguished electrical engineer, Dr. S. Z. Ferranti, at Holinwood, near here.

"It was an awe-inspiring thing to get so near a shaft of real lightning," Dr. Ferranti told reporters. "The spark was produced in testing a set of three linked transformers, which were found capable of producing one million volts.

"This was, I believe, the highest voltage or pressure ever attained in England," he added, "and the result of the test is expected to rank as a step toward the achievement of longer transmission of electricity at higher pressure."

CAPTAIN BLOOD

by RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitagraph picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

"You are no longer that," she said, and strove to smile.

"Yet I owe no thanks to you that I am not," he answered. "I think there's no more to be said, unless it be to add the assurance that Lord Julian Wade has also nothing to apprehend from me. That, no doubt, will be the assurance that your peace of mind requires?"

"For your own sake—yes. But for your own sake only. I would not have you do anything mean or dishonouring."

"Thief and pirate though I be?"

She clenched her hand, and made a little gesture of despair and impatience.

"Will you never forgive me those words?"

"I'm finding it a trifle hard, I confess. But what does it matter, when all is said?"

Her clear hazel eyes considered him a moment wistfully. Then she put out her hand again.

"I am going, Captain Blood. Since you are so generous to my uncle, I shall be returning to Barbados with him. We are not like to meet again—ever. Is it impossible that we should part friends? Once I wronged you, I know. And I have said that I am sorry. Won't you . . . won't you say 'good-bye'?"

He took the hand she proffered. Retaining it, he spoke, his eyes sombrely, wistfully considering her.

"You are returning to Barbados?" he said slowly. "Will Lord Julian be going with you?"

"And you? Glory be, ye'll not be telling me ye refused to become 'M' Lady'."

"Why do you ask me that?" she confronted him quite fearlessly.

"Sure, now, didn't he give you my message, or did he bungle it?"

"No. He didn't bungle it. He gave it me in your own words. It touched me very deeply. It made me see clearly my error and my injustice. I owe it to you that I should say this by way of amend. I judged too harshly where it was a presumption to judge at all."

He was still holding her hand. "And Lord Julian, then?" he asked, his eyes watching her, bright as sapphires in the copper-coloured face.

"Lord Julian will no doubt be going home to England. There is nothing more for him to do out here."

"But didn't he ask you to go with him?"

"He did. I forgive you the impertinence."

A wild hope leapt to life within him.

"And you? Glory be, ye'll not be telling me ye refused to become my lady, when . . ."

"Oh! You are insufferable!" She tore her hand free and backed away from him. "I should not have come . . . Good-bye!" She was speeding to the door.

He sprang after her, and caught her. Her face flamed, and her eyes stabbed him like daggers. "These are pirate's ways, I think! Release me!"

"Arabella!" he cried on a note of pleading. "Are ye meaning it? Must I release ye? Must I let ye go and never set eyes on ye again? Or will ye stay and make this exile endurable until we can go home together? Ooh, ye're crying now! What have I said to make ye cry, my dear?"

"I . . . I thought you'd never say it," she mocked him through her tears. "There was never, never anybody but you, Peter."

Governor Blood forgot the duties of his office. He had reached home at last. His odyssey was ended.

They had, of course, a deal to say thereafter, so much, indeed, that they sat down to say it, whilst time sped on, and Governor Blood forgot the duties of his office. He had reached home at last. His odyssey was ended.

And meanwhile Colonel Bishop's fleet had come to anchor, and the Colonel had landed on the mole, a disgruntled man to be disgruntled further yet. He was accompanied ashore by Lord Julian Wade.

A corporal's guard was drawn up to receive him, and in advance of this stood Major Mallard and two others who were unknown to the Deputy-Governor: one slight and elegant, the other big and brawny.

Major Mallard advanced. "Colonel Bishop, I have orders to arrest you. Your sword, sir!"

Bishop stared, empurling. "What the devil? Arrest me, d'ye say? Arrest me?"

"By order of the Governor of Jamaica," said the elegant little man behind Major Mallard. Bishop swung to him.

"The Governor? You're mad!" He looked from one to the other. "I am the Governor."

"You were," said the little man dryly. "But we've changed that in your absence. You're broke for abandoning your post without due cause and therefore imperiling the settlement over which you had charge. It's a serious matter, Colonel Bishop, as you may find. Considering that you held your office from the Government of King James, it is even possible that a charge of treason may lie against you. It rests with your successor entirely whether ye're hanged or not."

Bishop rapped out an oath, and then, shaken by a sudden fear: "Who the devil may you be?" he asked.

"I am Lord Willoughby, Governor-General of His Majesty's Colonies in the West Indies. You were informed, I think, of my coming."

The remains of Bishop's anger fell from him like a cloak. He broke into a sweat of fear. Behind him Lord Julian looked on, his handsome face suddenly white and drawn.

"But, my Lord—" began the Colonel.

"Sir, I am not concerned to hear your reasons," his Lordship interrupted harshly. "I am on the point of sailing and I have not the time. The Governor will hear you and no doubt deal justly by you." He waved to Major Mallard, and Bishop, a crumpled, broken man, allowed himself to be led away.

To Lord Julian, who went with him, since none deterred him, Bishop expressed himself when presently he had sufficiently recovered.

"This is one more item to the account of that scoundrel Blood," he said through his teeth. "My God, what a reckoning there will be when we meet!"

Major Mallard turned away his face that he might conceal his smile, and without further words led him a prisoner to the Governor's house that so long had been Colonel Bishop's own residence. He was left to wait under guard in the hall, whilst Major Mallard went ahead to announce him.

Miss Bishop was still with Peter Blood when Major Mallard entered. His announcement startled them back to realities.

"You will be merciful with him. You will spare him all you can for my sake, Peter," she pleaded.

"To be sure I will," said Blood, "but I'm afraid the circumstances won't."

She effaced herself, escaping into the garden and Major Mallard fetched the Colonel.

"His Excellency, the Governor, will see you now," said he, and threw wide the door.

Colonel Bishop staggered in and stood waiting.

At the table sat a man of whom nothing was visible but the top of a carefully curled, black head. Then this head was raised, and a pair of blue eyes solemnly regarded the prisoner. Colonel Bishop made a noise in his throat, and, stared into the face of His Excellency, the Deputy-Governor of Jamaica, which was the face of the man he had been hunting in Tortuga to his present undoing.

The situation was best expressed to Lord Willoughby by Van der Kuylen as the pair stepped aboard the Admiral's flagship.

"Id is fery boedigal!" he said, his blue eyes twinkling. "Cabdain Blood is fond of boedry—you remember de abble blossoms. So? Ha, ha!"

Turtle Lake, Wisconsin. — "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness, backache and nervousness. I had these troubles for years and had taken other medicines for them, but I have found no medicine so good as the Vegetable Compound and I recommend it to my friends who have troubles similar to mine. I saw it advertised and thought I would try it and it has helped me in all my troubles. I have had six children and I have taken the Lydia E. Philippine Leper's Paradise Declares British Relief Head

LONDON, April—The Philippine Islands are the leper's paradise, while India is the leper's hell, according to Frank Oldrieve, secretary to the British Leprosy Relief association, who has recently returned from an extensive tour of the world's leper asylums.

Giving some instances of the success which has attended the policy of the compulsory segregation of leprous cases, Oldrieve said::

"Leprosy was prevalent throughout the Philippine islands until the United States health authorities stepped in and enforced compulsory segregation. And so the Culion Island leper colony, which in many ways is the leper's paradise, came into being.

"There is no misery in that colony," Oldrieve said. "In all there are some 6,000 cases at Culion—men, women and children. They lead normal, contented, industrious lives. They dance—some of the younger ones—play games, run their own police force, theatre, electric lighting plant; and they intermarry."

Segregation, plus the new method of the old "injection of oils cure" was working wonders, he said.

India, in Oldrieve's opinion, presented the other side of the picture. He estimated that there were over half a million lepers in the country.

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

CHICAGO, April.—The wife's position in the family hats been fixed officially as that of jailer by Judge Harry Lewis.

Under Judge Lewis' ruling she may judge comings and goings; her duty it is to ply the key in the door and it may be turned so that Friend Husband may or may not enter.

The point arose in the separate maintenance suit of Marion and Adele Pedley.

"Why, your honor," said counsel for Pedley, "she is like a jailer."

"I've been married fr othirty years," the judge interposed, "and my wife has been jailer every minute of the time. If your wife isn't, you should have your picture taken."

The average college student must spend only two hours a week "playing the shiek" if he is to get the most out of his college life, according to a "time budget" of the University of Chicago.

A survey including all the students at the institution upon which the "time budget" was founded disclosed that the average student now spends a five hour a week on social affairs. Many students, mostly women, admitted spending as much as ten hours or more a week on the social side of college life.

The budget also permits only two hours a week for religious activities. Some of the items in the budget are:

Study and class attendance, at least 14 hours.

Serious readings, not connected with college courses, at least four hours.

Physical education, athletics and exercise, not less than seven hours.

Lectures, concerts, theatres, the equivalent of one evening a week.

An alleged partnership of a man and a girl whereby the girl got positions as a maid in exclusive homes and then systematically looted the homes, while the man disposed of the stolen goods, was broken up, police believed, in the arrest of Edward O'Neill.

Ethel Green, the girl accused by the police, was most recently employed in the home of Alfred Person, where she is said to have stolen articles valued at $485. She escaped arrest. Police said she disguised herself and left O'Neill's home by the back way. She is being sought.

O'Neill was arrested when he tried to pass a check reputed to be worthless.

Comes forward a pastor with a plea in favor of divorce.

He is the Rev. Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Chicago temple, who takes sharp issue with the official attitude of his own and other churches.

"If Jesus were alive today I believe he would recognize divorce," Dr. Thompson said. "I do not believe that the church has correctly interpreted Jesus' ideas of marriage and divorce."

Preaching from the text: "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder," Dr. Thompson said that many marriages did not have Divine sanction—that the couple had not been joined by God and could, therefore, be put asunder by lawful divorce.

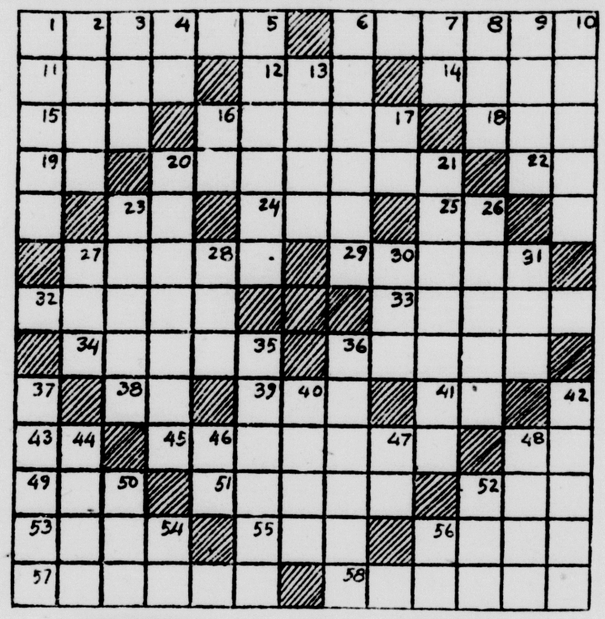

"Conditions have changed greatly in the matter of marriage since the days of Jesus. When Jesus lived and spoke, a Roman could put away his wife at will; and even the Jews could put away their wives by giving them a written statement of the reasons for the step. But nowadays it is not possible unless the justice of the matter has been passed upon by kind and judicially minded judges who first look at all the facts.

"I believe that in these present circumstances Jesus would have spoken differently."

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Haskin's Letter

to eight hundred acres and had formally accepted, subject to the approval of the legislature, fifty-one of them. The total value of this land is estimated at $1,300,00 and the total acreage is 30,000.

Governor Blaine, of Wisconsin, in his message of January 15, 1925, to the legislature caled particular attention to the fact that some time before he had suggested to the conservation commissioner of the state the establishment of a northern lakes park. The specific area he had in mind is nine miles wide and sixteen miles long, embracing 92,00 acres. The state already wons approximately 76,000 acres of this. Governor Blaine emphasizes the fact that this area, which includes forty-two lakes, some of which are among the largest in the northern part of the state, would serve as an excellent fish and game reserve for natural propagation, and also serve in developing state forestry. So far, however, no definite action has been taken on this.

Kansas is another state that has only recently made the first step toward providing for state recreational areas. The present legislature passed a law authorizing the Fish and Game department, through a Forestry, Fish and Gace commission, to acquire property to be used for summer recreation and public fishing grounds, and also as sanctuaries for migratory wild life.

Pennsylvania already owns 1,131,611 acres of forest land which is being managed for water-shed protection, timber protection and recreation, and the citizens are urging the establishment of additional public camps along the highway routes of the state. Toward accomplishing this there is a proposed $25,000,000 bond issue for the acquisition of additional forest land. State oficers say that they believe that the time is not far distant when the commonwealth will own approximately 5,000,00 acres of forest land to be developed for the well-being of citizens and their industries.

These are only a few examples of what is being done by the individual states toward preserving the natural beauty spots so that the people may seek in these health-giving areas surcease from the nerve-straining bustle of the city.

During the last week of May the fifth National conference on state parks will be held at Skyland, Virginia. Skyland is said to be an ideal place for such a meting. It is situated on a high plateau in the Blue Ridge and is in the heart of the proposed Shenandoah National park. These meetings are attended by advocates of state parks and lovers of forests, rivers, lakes, birds and wild flowers. Accredited delegates are apointed by the various governors and the addresses are made by men who have made a study of forests and parks.

Miracle Performed In "Captain Blood," Coming to Ceramic

A miracle was performed before the eyes of the players during the making of scenes for Rafael Sabatini's famous love story, "Captain Blood," which will be shown at the Ceramic theater all next week. One of the big Negroes who act as a bodyguard for Colonel Bishop, a role assumed by Wilfrid North, turned from jet black into a glistening, sprakling white under the direct rays of the sun. No one was more surprised at the transformation than the Negro himself. He looked himself over from head to foot, speechless, frightened, amazed.

"Ah say, what am happened to me?" he inquired. "Am dis mah own self, or is ah somebody else?"

An investigation disclosed the fact that the Negro has a strong desire to become a champion prizefighter. It doesn't make any difference whom he fights, when or where; he loves to fight.

As his nearly nude guard costume was composed mainly of liberal coatings of dense black grease paint smeared over his entire body he decided to toughen his hide by using a mixture of salt in the grease paint. The actor was afraid the grease paint would soften his skin and make him unfit for the ring. Evidently his fear was very great for he used so much salt that when the paint dried in the heat of the sun, the salt crystalized and the Negro like Lot's wife turned into a pillar of salt.

J. Warren Kerrigan has the role of Captain Blood, Jean Paige plays opposite him. James Morrison, Templar Saxe, Wilfrid North, Charlotte Merriam, Joseph Rickson, Bertram Grassby, Allan Forrest, Henry Hebert, Otis Harlan and Otto Matieson head the all-star cast.

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

CHICAGO, April.—The wife's position in the family has been fixed officially as that of jailer by Judge Harry Lewis.

Under Judge Lewis' ruling she may judge comings and goings; her duty it is to ply the key in the door and it may be turned so that Friend Husband may or may not enter.

The point arose in the separate maintenance suit of Marion and Adele Pedley.

"Why, your honor," said counsel for Pedley, "she is like a jailer."

"I've been married fr othirty years," the judge interposed, "and my wife has been jailer every minute of the time. If your wife isn't, you should have your picture taken."

The average college student must spend only two hours a week "playing the shiek" if he is to get the most out of his college life, according to a "time budget" of the University of Chicago.

A survey including all the students at the institution upon which the "time budget" was founded disclosed that the average student now spends a five hour a week on social affairs. Many students, mostly women, admitted spending as much as ten hours or more a week on the social side of college life.

The budget also permits only two hours a week for religious activities. Some of the items in the budget are:

Study and class attendance, at least 14 hours.

Serious readings, not connected with college courses, at least four hours.

Physical education, athletics and exercise, not less than seven hours.

Lectures, concerts, theatres, the equivalent of one evening a week.

An alleged partnership of a man and a girl whereby the girl got positions as a maid in exclusive homes and then systematically looted the homes, while the man disposed of the stolen goods, was broken up, police believed, in the arrest of Edward O'Neill.

Ethel Green, the girl accused by the police, was most recently employed in the home of Alfred Person, where she is said to have stolen articles valued at $485. She escaped arrest. Police said she disguised herself and left O'Neill's home by the back way. She is being sought.

O'Neill was arrested when he tried to pass a check reputed to be worthless.

Comes forward a pastor with a plea in favor of divorce.

He is the Rev. Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Chicago temple, who takes sharp issue with the official attitude of his own and other churches.

"If Jesus were alive today I believe he would recognize divorce," Dr. Thompson said. "I do not believe that the church has correctly interpreted Jesus' ideas of marriage and divorce."

Preaching from the text: "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder," Dr. Thompson said that many marriages did not have Divine sanction—that the couple had not been joined by God and could, therefore, be put asunder by lawful divorce.

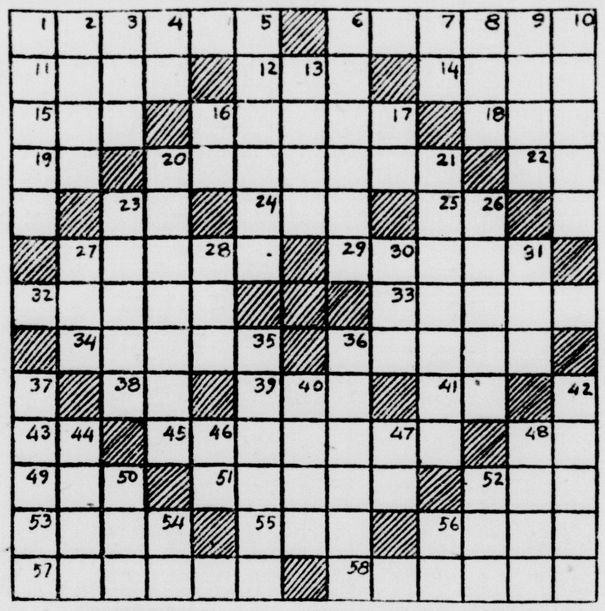

"Conditions have changed greatly in the matter of marriage since the days of Jesus. When Jesus lived and spoke, a Roman could put away his wife at will; and even the Jews could put away their wives by giving them a written statement of the reasons for the step. But nowadays it is not possible unless the justice of the matter has been passed upon by kind and judicially minded judges who first look at all the facts.

"I believe that in these present circumstances Jesus would have spoken differently."

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Haskin's Letter

to eight hundred acres and had formally accepted, subject to the approval of the legislature, fifty-one of them. The total value of this land is estimated at $1,300,00 and the total acreage is 30,000.

Governor Blaine, of Wisconsin, in his message of January 15, 1925, to the legislature caled particular attention to the fact that some time before he had suggested to the conservation commissioner of the state the establishment of a northern lakes park. The specific area he had in mind is nine miles wide and sixteen miles long, embracing 92,00 acres. The state already wons approximately 76,000 acres of this. Governor Blaine emphasizes the fact that this area, which includes forty-two lakes, some of which are among the largest in the northern part of the state, would serve as an excellent fish and game reserve for natural propagation, and also serve in developing state forestry. So far, however, no definite action has been taken on this.

Kansas is another state that has only recently made the first step toward providing for state recreational areas. The present legislature passed a law authorizing the Fish and Game department, through a Forestry, Fish and Gace commission, to acquire property to be used for summer recreation and public fishing grounds, and also as sanctuaries for migratory wild life.

Pennsylvania already owns 1,131,611 acres of forest land which is being managed for water-shed protection, timber protection and recreation, and the citizens are urging the establishment of additional public camps along the highway routes of the state. Toward accomplishing this there is a proposed $25,000,000 bond issue for the acquisition of additional forest land. State oficers say that they believe that the time is not far distant when the commonwealth will own approximately 5,000,00 acres of forest land to be developed for the well-being of citizens and their industries.

These are only a few examples of what is being done by the individual states toward preserving the natural beauty spots so that the people may seek in these health-giving areas surcease from the nerve-straining bustle of the city.

During the last week of May the fifth National conference on state parks will be held at Skyland, Virginia. Skyland is said to be an ideal place for such a meting. It is situated on a high plateau in the Blue Ridge and is in the heart of the proposed Shenandoah National park. These meetings are attended by advocates of state parks and lovers of forests, rivers, lakes, birds and wild flowers. Accredited delegates are apointed by the various governors and the addresses are made by men who have made a study of forests and parks.

509 SCHOOLS IN PENN MEET

Track Carnival April 24-25 Brings Out Record Entry List.

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—With the greatest entry list in thirty-one years, the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival, April 24 and 25, promises to eclipse any track and field meet ever held in the country.

Teams and individuals have been entered from the United States, England, Cuba and Canada, giving the games an international flavor.

The entry list includes 509 colleges, high schools, preparatory schools, grammar and parochial schools, divided as follows; 110 colleges, 214 high schools, 71 preparatory schools, 86 grammar schools and 28 parochial schools.

Nobleman There.

An English nobleman, the first in the history of the game, is slated to compete against the cream of America's college hurdlers. He is Lord Burghley, son of the Marquis of Exeter. The Englishman will be forced to meet Kinsey, of Illinois, Olympic champion in the 120-yard high hurdles; Moore, of Penn State, intercollegiate champion; Snyder and Guthrie, of Ohio State, and Wolf, of Pennsylvania, among others.

A. E. Porritt, who recently broke the Oxford-Cambridge meet record in the 100-yard dash, will also display his ability against the sprinters of this country, as will Orango, the Cuban star, coached by Alvin Kraenzlein, former Olympic champion. Porrit, a Rhodes scholar from New Zealand, ran the century in 9 9-10 seconds and the furlong in 21 2-5. He finished third in the 100 meters run in the Olympic games.

The remarkable records made on indoor tracks this season lead track followers to believe that a number of records will fall at the relay carnival. Georgetown university, which shattered the indoor two-mile relay record a number of times, is the favorite in that event, and also in the mile and a quarter and half-mile relay.

Relay Races.

Yale, Syracuse, Cornell, Chicago and Pennsylvania in the one-mile relay; Boston college in the two miles, along with Yale and Pennsylvania, Chicago and Illinois and Harvard in the sprints, will give the Washington collegians plenty of competition.

The competition in the field events should be more keen than it has ever been. It is safe to say that the winner of the high jump will be forced to leap more than 6 feet 2 inches, the winner in the pole vault well over 13 feet, the winner in the broad jump over 24 feet, and the hever of the shot, to win, must do 48 feet or better.

With such entries as Exeter, Huntington, Mercersburg, Lawrenceville, St. John's Military school in Wisconsin in the preparatory school divisions, records may fall in the preparatory school races.

"Infernal and appalling" were among the terms used by Sir Bruce Porter, the famed physician of London, in regard to rubber corsets.

FOUR PENNANT RIVALS CLASH

NEW YORK, April 11.—Four pennant contending ball clubs will be seen within the limits of Greater New York this afternoon when the New York Giants and Washington Senators, champions both, play at the Polo Grounds, and the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, runners-up in their respective leagues in 1924, meet at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

The Yankees already have won the Brooklyn series with nine victories in 15 games, while the best the Senators can do is a tie, having won four games out of 10 played.

WEINERT READY TO FACE WILLS

"Adonis of Newark" Predicts Victory in June 19 Bout.

NEWARK, N. J., April 13.—"I think I'll conquer Harry Wills in our coming fight because I've finally conquered myself.

"You can't train on champagne and chorus girls and win a championship, I once thought you could.

"Ten years ago they called me a bum, a 'has been,' a down and out.

"Today I'm back in the limelight, one of the leading 'runner ups' to Jack Dempsey.

"I've come back. Now I'm going on, and Wills isn't going to stop me."

Charlie Weinert speaking. The so-called "Adonis of Newark." A good looking, strapping blonde of 29, 6 feet two in height, weight 188, with small blue eyes that almost go into eclipse when he smiles, which he does readily. The chap who will crawl through the ropes at the polo grounds, New York, on June 19 to face Wills. Both fighters of caliber.

Both have whipped Firpo.

It was wine and women that almost knocked Weinert out. When he flashed across the fistic horizon 10 years ago, he had "everything," youth, build speed, skill, strength and dauntless courage. He quickly leaped to fame.

"Then Broadway and the bright lights got me," said Weinert.

He slipped, then sank into pugilistic oblivion.

So he went back where he started, to work in his father's machine shop.

Fame gone. Money gone. Thirty-four thousand dollars in debt.

"Then," said Charlie," I met Helen Canfield."

Helen Canfield, of Newark, became Mrs. Charles Weinert on December 15, 1922.

It was then that Charlie Weinert began his remarkable comeback.

"I was through as a fighter, everybody said—everybody but Helen," Weinert related.

"Why, I could hardly get a fight. Even though I had once beaten Gunboat Smith, Battling Levinsky and other good fighters.

"I was desperate. I offered to fight for almost nothing. I took Harry Greb on short notice, and lost. I fought Bill Miske to a draw. I met others.

"Then I got going. I whipped Ad Stone, Jack Sharkey, Bartley Madden, Romero Rojas and Luis Firpo. And now, at 29, I'm nearer the top than ever before."

The derelict of the prize ring paused.

"I paid off every cent of the $34,000 I owed," he said, soberly.

"Now Helen and I have a nice home of our own. We have a neat little sum in the bank—own our own car."

"How about Broadway and the bright lights?" he was asked.

"Broadway?" he repeated. "Why I don't know there is such a place any more."

Of 2,834 marriages in Endland ending in suits for dissolution and annulment within one year, 1,166 were childless.

With Lefty Groves Out of League Canadian Team Hopes for Flag

Toronto gave Baltimore a merry battle for the pennant in the international league last year. Lefty Groves, now a member of the Athletics, pitched 'em out of the flag. Now, with Groves gone, Toronto hopes to beat Baltimore. Above are four men on whom Manager Dan Howley is counting. They are Pitchers Wallie Stewart, George Englishman, Eric Erickson and George Smith.

New Auto Speed Records Expected On Dallas Track

DALLAS, Tex., April 11.—New world speed records for dirt tracks are expected to be established here this afternoon when the foremost racing stars of America urge their cars over fair park course for a purse of $25,000 in the 100-mile southwest speed classic.

Among the drivers who will circle the mile and a quarter track are Ralph de Palma, Tommy Milton, Earle Devore, Eddie Hearne and "Red" Shafer.

The latter is from Fort Worth and won the Syracuse event in 1924.

Devore will pilot his front wheel drive machine, declared to be the only one of its kind in the world. Milton will drive a Milton special.

De Palma, favorite in betting, will drive his De Palma Special.

MAY HOLD MEET AT GUILFORD

Sportsmen Suggest Park Site for Annual Outing.

Now that Gov. Vic Donahey has affixed his signature to the Guilford state park bill, the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective association will very likely hold its annual field meet at Guilford this year. The date, however, remains to be determined.

Officers of the association have delayed selecting a date for the field meet until the measure becomes a law, and at the next meeting of the association which will be held in Lisbon in May, tentative plans for the outing at Guilford will be considered.

The signing of the bill is taken to mean that work closing the two gaps in the Guilford dam will be undertaken this year. In fact, it is said the big lake will be formed before fall.

CHURCH NINE RE-ORGANIZES

Byron O'Neil to Pilot Christians This Year.

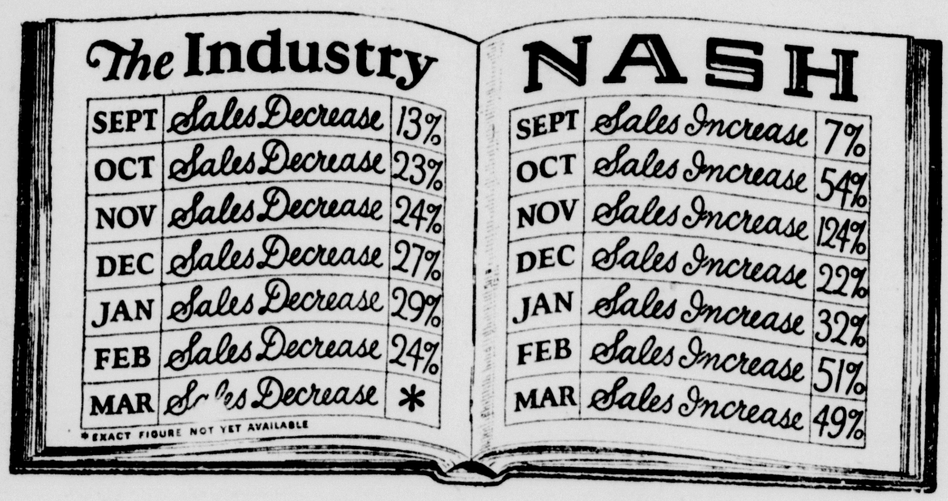

The Christian church baseball squad has organized its forces for the 1925 campaign.

Byron O'Neil, former manager of leading amateur teams of this vicinity, will pilot the team. All old members and others desirous of trying out for places have been asked to get in touch with the manager.

Plans also were laid for the re-organization of the church league. The league's first season, last year, was successful. Six teams were in the circuit. Other clubs interested in the formation of the loop will confer with Manager O'Neil.

KING OF SWAT IS RECOVERING

Babe Ruth's Condition Undergoes Distinct Improvement.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Babe Ruth's condition was announced as having undergone a distinct improvement this morning, following the most comfortable night the noted patient has spent since taken ill at Asheville, N. C., some days ago while on tour with the Yankees and Dodgers. After a visit to the Babe this morning, Dr. Edward King issued a verbal bulletin, declaring that Ruth had rested comfortably and had enjoyed his longest sleep since being taken ill.

The babe, he said, fell into a sound sleep after Mrs. Ruth left him at 11:30 o'clock last night and did not awaken until the physician's visit. He then resumed his slumber until early this morning.

Dr. King added that Ruth still had a slight fever and that his vitality was low, but that his powers of recuperation were so great that he looked for a steady improvement from now on.

Ruth is not expected to leave the hospital for a week, but some believe that it is not altogether an impossibility that he will be on the field for the Yankees' opening game on Tuesday.

KING OF SWAT IS RECOVERING

Babe Ruth's Condition Undergoes Distinct Improvement.

NEW YORK, April 11. — Babe Ruth's condition was announced as having undergone a distinct improvement this morning, following the most comfortable night the noted patient has spent since taken ill at Asheville, N. C., some days ago while on tour with the Yankees and Dodgers. After a visit to the Babe this morning, Dr. Edward King issued a verbal bulletin, declaring that Ruth had rested comfortably and had enjoyed his longest sleep since being taken ill.

The babe, he said, fell into a sound sleep after Mrs. Ruth left him at 11:30 o'clock last night and did not awaken until the physician's visit. He then resumed his slumber until early this morning.

Dr. King added that Ruth still had a slight fever and that his vitality was low, but that his powers of recuperation were so great that he looked for a steady improvement from now on.

Ruth is not expected to leave the hospital for a week, but some believe that it is not altogether an impossibility that he will be on the field for the Yankees' opening game on Tuesday.

ROADS PLACED ON STATE ROUTE

Beaver County Highways in List of Omnibus Measure.

Through the signing of the road bill by Gov. Pinchot, five important Beaver county roads are added to the state system.

Another road begins at New Brighton and goes thence through Daugherty and North Sewickley townships to Ellwood City. This is the main road to Ellwood City and most of it has been improved.

Another road leads through Freedom borough by way of the Big Knob road near the home of C. S. Dean to Knob's store in New Sewickley township.

Another road begins at Hookstown borough, goes thence to Shippingport, thence to a point near McCleary to an intersection at route 115 with the county road on which construction has been started from Woodlawn, New Sheffield and Green Garden to McCleary.

Two Stage Detectives Hissed by Inmates Of Bay State Jail

BOSTON, April. —A detective is about as popular in Charlestown State prison as a bathing suit is in Alaska.

In fact, the sleuth is held in such disdain at the jail that a harmless actor, playing the role of a detective in a stake play, receives nothing but hisses from the prisoners.

The farce comedy, "Three Live Ghosts," was presented for 700 prisoners. It was the first time in the history of the old prison that a theatrical company presented a show within the prison walls.

Everything in the play went along smoothly until two stage detectives appeared before the footlights. The prisoners booed and hissed for several minutes.

Picturization of the serial story "Captain Blood" at the Ceramic all next week.

Rev. W. A. Schrader will preach at the morning and evening services in the First Methodist Episcopal church. The musical program will be given at the latter service.

Two Stage Detectives Hissed by Inmates Of Bay State Jail

BOSTON, April. —A detective is about as popular in Charlestown State prison as a bathing suit is in Alaska.

In fact, the sleuth is held in such disdain at the jail that a harmless actor, playing the role of a detective in a stake play, receives nothing but hisses from the prisoners.

The farce comedy, "Three Live Ghosts," was presented for 700 prisoners. It was the first time in the history of the old prison that a theatrical company presented a show within the prison walls.

Everything in the play went along smoothly until two stage detectives appeared before the footlights. The prisoners booed and hissed for several minutes.

Picturization of the serial story "Captain Blood" at the Ceramic all next week.

$400,000,000 Offered
Crushing Kurds Not Easy.
Real Estate and Beer.
High School Societies.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Bankers offered $85,000,000 worth of preferred stock in the Dodge Automobile company. Investors, who seem to have a good deal of money, offered to buy $400,000,000 worth. In addition to having money, the people seem to recognize a good thing when it is offered to them.

Suppose Henry Ford offered for sale his business, making 7,000 cars a day? How big a subscription would be offered?

Turkey plans to "crush the Kurds," and that will be a long, slow job.

The Kurds live in small villages, not easy to conquer, and in the summer they drive their sheep to high mountain pastures. With them fighting is a pleasure, other kind of work a bore. They are as proud of their ancestry, running back many centuries, as some New England lady, with an old-fashioned bureau and Mayflower relatives.

Those Kurds fought against Xenophon's brave handful, on their way back to Greece. Kurds were fighting and marauding. They have been fighting Turks and Persians for the last thousand years, and will be doing the same thing a thousand years from now.

The earth changes slowly, and wiping out a nation, even a small one, as the Irish have proved, is no easy job.

Across the river from Detroit Canadians will permit real beer with more than 4 per cent of alcohol. The result is a real estate boom in Canadian lands purchased by American citizens. They want houses there, and country clubs.

One earnest Detroit real estate man puts it, "Work and exist by day in the United States, in the evening live in Canada."

A tunnel for commuters would make the situation perfect, although not exactly pleasing to Detroit's suburban real estate owners, or to earnest teetotalers.

High school authorities would like to abolish secret societies among students. But, the cabalistic instinct deeply rooted, is as old as the human race. Savages had their secret meetings and initiations in the forest, and their terrible "hazing." Young boys were supposed to endure cutting with knives, or to hang, suspended from thorns stuck in their flesh without whimpering.

The secret society for men and children satisfies man's desire to seem to know something that others do not know. Only real knowledge can drive that out.

A United States circuit court says radio stations may not broadcast copyrighted music. The copyright act applies to music by radio despite the fact that radio wasn't known when the law was written. The decision is wise and just.

Why doesn't the Constitution's provision guaranteeing freedom of the press protect moving pictures from censorship, in spite of the fact that moving pictures were unknown when the constitution was written?

What applies in one case should apply in another. The moving picture is printing, publicity, an improvement on old-fashioned press work. To censor it in advance is as preposterous as it would be to submit newspapers to the censor before allowing them to appear on the street.

Rust costs this country $300,000,000 a year and scientists wonder how they can save that money. One way is to use copper or brass instead of iron, for water pipes, gutters, etc.

You are told that rust is caused by electricity generated by water and air combining. A way may be found to make iron rust-proof. Meanwhile, wherever air and water mix use copper or brass and forget your troubles for 100 years.

CHARLES VAUGHN IS FINED $100

Charles Vaughn, of East Liverpool, was fined $100 and costs by Justice M. K. Zimerman, of Lisbon, Friday afternoon, when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of illegally possessing intoxicating liquors.

Vaughn and a companion were riding along the Lincoln Highway, near Long's Run bridge, when they saw Sheriff Wright and Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter approaching. Vaughn, the authorities claim, tossed three bottles of corn whiskey from his car.

Vaughn said he had given a man $2 at the corner of Fifth and Washington streets here and was told to go to a certain tree along the highway near Long's Run bridge where he would find three bottles of liquor.

He paid his fine.

EDGARLE BLOOR QUITS POLICE FORCE UNDER CRITICS' FIRE

Resignation Follows Shooting Affray Along River Road.

Mayor Defends Special Patrolmen; Solons Assail Them.

Edgarle Bloor, "five dollar a month" member of the police force, tendered his resignation to Mayor Charles Brown and Safety Director S. E. Anderson, yesterday, as the result of criticism growing out of the near shooting of two East End youths along the River road last Sunday night.

Bloor turned over his gun, handcuffs, badge and other equipment to the safety director, stating that "there was not enough in the job to stand the criticism." His resignation was immediately accepted.

Resignation Not Requested.

Bloor, who was named a special patrolman about four months ago, is alleged to have fired at five East End boys in an automobile after they had failed to halt on his command near the Harker pottery. The bullet passed through the rear curtain of the car and crashed through the windshield, missing the heads of two passengers in the front seat.

The boys asserted that they did not recognize Bloor as an officer as he was dressed in civilian clothes. Not until later in the evening were they told that he was a policeman.

Bloor was arrested Tuesday evening on complaint of Mrs. M. C. Russell, mother of Evan Russell, driver of the car, who charged him with malicious destruction of property and shooting with intent to wound in Justice P. V. Mackall's court. The charge was with-

KELLOGG ACTS TO CHECK FLOW OF BANNED RUM

Draws Prohibition Net Tighter Around United States.

SIGNS 10 PACTS

Treaties With Canada and Cuba Will be Negotiated.

BY LLOYD LEHBAS.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—In its effort to draw the prohibition net still tighter around the country, the state department expects soon to announce the negotiation of several new rum treaties which authorities believe will go far toward checking the flood of illicit liquor that is still pouring into the United States.

Ten liquor treaties already have been negotiated with foreign governments, including the principal maritime nations of the world, and Secretary of State Kellogg expects shortly to sign a convention with Mexico that will plug up a few of the holes along the southern border.

A treaty with Canada, designed to frustrate the botlegging fraternity along the northern boundary, already has been completed and awaits only royal approval in London.

Cuba, which supplies thousands of cases of liquor to the rum runners is next on the list, and when that is completed the United States, theoretically at least, will be completly ringed by dry safeguards.

DOUMERGUE ACTS

Overthrow of Socialist Causes Another Crisis in France.

PARIS, April 11.—A temporary cabinet until the municipal council elections in May reveal the trend of the country's political thought, may be the solution of the cabinet crisis brought about by the overthrow of Premied Edouard Herriot. President Doumergue was in conference with party leaders today in an effort to reach a decision as to Herriot's successor.

Paul Painleve, president of the chamber of deputies, and mentioned as a possible premier, only smiled when he was shown the Paris Midi's announcement of the "tentative Painleve cabinet" as he was leaving Elysees palace after a talk with President Doumergue.

The "tentative cabinet" named Aristide Brian, minister of foreign affairs; Anatole De Monzie, minister of finance; M. Nollet, minister of war; M. Loucher, minister of commerce, and Louis Marin, minister of the interior.

Expect Prolonged Crisis.

"I can only say I believe we have reached an agreement which may enable a satisfactory settlement of the cabinet crisis," Painleve told the press as he left the palace.

Doumergue also was in conference today with President of the Senate Doselves, Millies-La-Croix, president of the senate finance committee, and Vincent Auriol, president of the chamber finance committee.

MARION STAR LAUDS DONAHEYS

MARION, Ohio, April 11.—"All honor to the Donaheys' is the caption of a long editorial appearing in today's Marion Star, local newspaper made famous through the ownership of the late President Harding.

"We would feel that we were denying ourselves a privilege did we not voice our admiration of the course pursued by Victor Donahey—alike as the executive and the father—in connection with the escapade of his son Hal," the editorial says.

"We would feel that we were lost to a proper appreciation of the finer things in life, of all that is best and noblest in human nature, did we not sympathize from the bottom of our heart with Mrs. Donahey, who has not only shown herself a true mother throughout but also a high minded, noble hearted, sympathetic woman. She has made herself the central figure in the case and won for herself the admiration and love and esteem of the people of Ohio."

CITY SOLONS MAY ABOLISH SEALER'S JOB

Action Hinted as Grocers and Butchers Complain.

RATES TOO HIGH

Suggest Work be Turned Over to County Official.

The office of city sealer of weights and measures may be abolished and the work in East Liverpool turned over to the county sealer, as the result of complaints filed before the solons last night by a delegation of grocers and butchers.

A committee, headed by A. H. Kountz, Market street butcher, told members of the municipal legislative body, that exorbitant fees were charged by the city sealer for testing scales, while no charges were made for this work by the county sealer. He asserted that he had been forced to pay $7 for the testing of four sets of scales which required not more than 20 minutes' work.

Decide to Investigate

E. S. Donahey, St. Clair avenue butcher, inquired where the money collected by the city sealer went. Solicitor Brokaw replied that the fees were turned over to the board of health to help pay the salary of the sealer. Brokaw asserted that about $1,000 had been collected last year. Donahey declared at the rate charged this year, that more htan $2,500 would be derived from the source.

James Brown, Third street grocer, stated that W. R. Barr, county sealer

Motorman on Limited Jumps to Safety as he Realizes Danger—Both Cars Take Fire and One is Practically Destroyed Before Fire Department Arrives—Property Loss Heavy.

COLUMBUS, April 11.—Charles Kruck, Delaware, conductor, was burned to death and five passengers injured here early today when a special car on the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Interurban line ran into a regular car at Weber Road crossing, North Columbus.

The injured include:

GEORGE W. WILSON, Delaware, and Ohio State university student, broken legs and other injuries.

MISS MERCEDES LYONS, Columbus, cuts and bruises.

MRS. J. NOEL and BELLE WILLIAMS, both of Columbus, cut about their faces.

A. G. WINNETT, Westerville, lacerations on hands.

Kruck was pinned beneath the rear control arm where he was burned to death.

Limited Motorman Unhurt.

The heavy fog which enveloped Columbus and vicinity this morning is believed responsible for the wreck which occurred when the Capital Limited hit the rear of the regular C. D. and M. car due here at 7 a. m.

Both cars caught fire. The regular car was practically destroyed before the Columbus fire department arrived.

The crash took place just as the regular car stopped at the Weber road crossing to take on about a half dozen passengers, including Miss Lyons.

Kruck was the motorman on the regular car. His conductor was Ross Swearagin, also of Delaware. Pearl Flaker, Delaware, motorman on the rear car, jumped to safety. He was not hurt. The second car, was "deadheading" to Columbus from Delaware for its first run north, scheduled to start at 7:30 a. m.

Property Loss Is $55,000.

Wilson was taken to University hospital.

It was nearly two hours after the collision occurred before Kruck's body was removed from the wreckage and taken to the Shaw-Davis undertaking establishment. The remains were viewed by Coroner Murphy.

Announcing that a probe to fix responsibility for the accident would be launched at once, C. C. Mayer, superintendent of the C. D. & M. estimated that estimated property loss at approximately $55,000, both cars being regarded as totally destroyed. The limited car was valued at $30,000 and the regular at $25,000.

DONAHEY HITS STOCK FRAUDS

Tallentire and Stevens Bills Signed by Governor.

COLUMBUS, April 11.—Drastic curbs against stock frauds, by which investors have lost millions, are written into the Ohio criminal code by the Tallentier bill, which was signed today by Governor Donahey.

Stiff penalties are provided for publication of "wash sales" for bucketing and for insolvent brokers convicted of receiving securities from the customers, other than in payment of obligations. Every member of a brokerage firm and every employe who either commits knowingly assents to the commission of any of the prescribed acts is held to be guilty.

The governor also signed the Stevens bill authorizing leasing state canal land between Middletown and Defiance to Municipalities. The measure permits Dayton to acquire canal land within that municipality for boulevard purposes.

The act is believed by its backers to be one of the most stringent legislative curbs against stock frauds enacted by any state. Briefly its provisions are:

Any broker who, knowing that he is insolvent, accepts from a customer securities, except in payment of an obligation, and who thereby causes the customer to lose all or part, shall be imprisoned for a maximum of five years, fined up $10,000 or both.

Penalties of imprisonment up to 10 years, fine up to $10,000, or both, are provided for any broker convicted of:

"I AM THE RESURRECTION AND THE LIFE"-EASTER SUNDAY SERMONETTE

By Rev. Frank G. Fowler, D. D., Pastor of First Methodist Episcopal Church.

"I Am the Resurrection and the life."

We wonder how near the heart of things the resurrection lies? We are constrained to say it does not lie near the heart, but it is the heart. Jesus was not the creation of the first century. He was the timely manifestation of God which was necessary to enable the human mind to grasp the significance of all truth, power and life. The "truth" that, "came by Jesus Christ," was the truth of God. When he said "All power is given to me in heaven and earth," He meant the power of God. The words which He spake as "words of life" were the words of God. The purpose of Jesus' coming was to get this truth, power and life over to men, that they might be redeemed from the errors of their ways. There is only one thing wrong with the world, and that wrong is in the heart of mankind. If that wrong can be righted, the "desert will bloom as the rose" and "the trees of the field" will again, "clap their hands for joy."

The work Jesus came to do is still in progress. It is a long process. It works like the "leaven." He is engaged now in restoring to men their lost, or unrealized estate. His work is to bring his children back to the Father, and they are coming in great numbers. We are far in advance of the days of the past. We as no other people, "think the thoughts of God over after Him." Ambitions stir in our hearts as never before to render human service. Visions stand out before us of a peaceful world under God. "How can these things be?" We do not know, but we know that the resurrection is a mighty fact. In stands out in bold relief against the background of the past. It stirs the present and inspires the future. It opens up to man the secret of a resurrection from within which will enable him to have dominion over, subdue and replenish the earth. The power of Jesus' resurrection was a perfect life. "The grave could not beholden of Him." Easter day ought to inspire every one to bring to every problem for its solution, a perfect life. And let every one remember that a perfect life is to be reached only by faith in God through Jesus Christ.

The conclusion of the whole matter is, Jesus Christ is the solution of every problem whether it be personal, social, industrial, political, ecclesiastic or what not. Easter day presages a wonderful future, here and a glorious life beyond. "Before Him every knee shall bow and tongue confess." Jesus Christ is America's hope. Before the might of his presence, slavery bowed and is no more. Before the might of his presence the legalized saloon has become only a fact of history. Before the might of His presence Mars now trembles, and will soon take his place among the discards of the past and be known only as a relic of a barbarism that dwelt all too long among men.

Prayer: "O God, may the spirit of the resurrection so grip the hearts and minds of men in all walks of life, so that all men and institutions may speedily crown Him King and Lord of Lords. Amen."

OHIO LIQUOR QUIZ RESUMED

Youngstown Man Tells Story to Federal Officials.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 11.—Ohio's prize liquor scandal is not closed. Out of the bulky knot that state and federal experts made from a wealth of loose strings picked up as a result of the recent probe into the leakage of liquor from the Hayner distillery at Troy, there today was found a jagged edge that remains to be sealed.

Today United States District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen, after a lengthy conference yesterday and last night with Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, reviewed the work of the recent federal grand jury which probed the Buckeye state's liquor affairs and the 10 indictments that resulted, and intimated that out of the unfinished evidence left over he intends to weave a web that will enmesh a pretentious list of prominent names and unloose a scathing investigation that will overshadow the first.

With the appearance of Peter J. Higgins, reputed Youngstown millionaire and ex-brewer, who was indicted for conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition laws with nine others in the opening probe, it was revealed that finis has not been written to the booze leakage tale. Mrs. Willebrandt, who made an unhearalded appearance and who left last night with equal lack of ceremony, was in conference with Bernsteen and other attaches of the district office here. It was understood that Higgins made revelations concerning the leakage that overshadowed even the far reaching testimony of Abe Ungerleider, Columbus financier, whose testimony it was that paved the way for the original 10 indictments in the grand jury investigation.

This morning Attorney Bernsteen made a request for the appearance in his office of Pat Scanlon, another Youngstown man, who is under indictment as a result of the first probe.

DANCING GIRL MURDER VICTIM

Background of East Indian Romance in London Crime.

LONDON, April 11.—A love murder with a background of East Indian romance, excited all London today when Grace Blackaller, a pretty 16-year-old dancing girl was found on her own doorstep with her throat cut.

As she died, she gasped:

"A boy did it."

Scotland Yard detectives learned she had among her admirers several East Indian students.

Detectives immediately began search for an East Indian youth to question him. The porter of the apartment house where the murder occurred was held for questioning as to the girl's callers.

Mystery deepened when the ambulance surgeon, who took the dying girl to a hospital, said she added to her first remark about a boy doing it, by declaring.

"An Indian boy did it, but don't make any inquiries."

Revival Campaign Opens Sunday in Anderson Church

Revivals will open in the Anderson Methodist Episcopal church, West Ninth street, tomorrow.

The services will be in charge of Rev. T. M. Anderson of Wiltmore, Ky. Rev. Mr. Anderson, several years ago, was a member of the coast-to-coast evangelistic party which stopped off in East Liverpool for a short series of meetings in the Methodist tabernacle. He also conducted a campaign in the First Methodist Episcopal church five years ago and has preached at Sebring and Hollow Rock camp meetings.

Misses Helen Cornell and Pearl Wilcox, of the Cleveland Bible Institute, will have charge of the music and young people's meetings during the campaign. They play stringed instruments and are capable song leaders.

Misses Cornell and Wilcox will take part in the Sunday school service tomorrow. Preaching services will be held at 10:45 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Services will be held each evening next week at 7:30 o'clock.

drawn when Bloor agreed to pay for the damage done to the car and settle the court costs. Young Russell was arrested later in the evening on a charge of fast and reckless driving filed by Bloor, but was dismissed by Mayor Brown.

Because of the shooting, Bloor, during the last few days, has been subject to considerable criticism. Mayor Brown denied that Bloor's resignation had been requested, asserting that the patrolman had acted on his own initiative in severing his relations with the department.

Councilmen Open Fire.

The incident drew fire from members of the city council last evening.

"A few days ago a near tragedy occurred along the River road when one of the special police fired at a passing automobile," said Councilman Kerr. "The bullet passed through the rear curtain in the car, grazing the heads of one of the passengers by an inch or two and then out the windshield.

"A gun is a dangerous thing. Judgment should be used in the handling of firearms by a policeman. A man in plain clothes has no right to do traffic duty, and there is not a man here who would stop along the River Road at night if someone in plain clothes attempted to stop him.

"We should counsel with the safety director in this matter and urge that he appoint responsible men to the police force. I believe this body should take some action in this matter and halt the practice of plain clothes men doing traffic duty, if possible."

Chambers Defends Specials.

Councilman Thomas Farrall also voiced his opposition to the special policemen, whom he termed "cheap policemen." "The so-called 'five-dollar-a-month men' are a disgrace to the police force," he charged. "You can't blame those boys for speeding up. This officer thought the machine carried bootleggers, and he wanted to get them, no matter if it did cost a life or two. This affair is a disgrace to our city."

Councilman Chambers, in defending the special policemen, asserted that recently one of the regular members of the police department opened fire on a passing automobilist along Pennsylvania avenue after he had failed to halt at his command. Solon Hayes also announced his opposition to "cheap policemen," but declared that plainclothes operators were needed to enforce some laws. Councilman Eardley refuted Kerr's claim that all traffic officers are uniformed, citing a case in Pittsburgh where traffic officers work in civilian dress.

Mayor's Statement.

Mayor Brown today issued a statement defending the specials.

"If we had a police force here of 20 men, I would gladly dismiss my specials," the mayor asserted. "But with a force of nine men, which includes two desk men, a chief and a captain, this city is in bad shape for police protection.

"When we get a call at night, we cannot send the Diamond man to investigate. The specials are on duty at the city hall every night and answer many of the complaints which we receive. Last night we had a dozen or more requests for investigations in various parts of the city and had no one to send except the specials.

"In East Liverpool we have approximately 25,000 people. There is not another city of a similar size in the state, I'll venture to say, which is getting along with a police department the size of ours."

With Bloor's resignation the city at the present time has but three special policemen. They are James Malone, George Dawson and Walter Torrence. No one will be appointed in Bloor's place for the time being, the mayor said.

Long, Peaceful Work Cure for Germany, Says Von Hindenburg

BERLIN, April 11.—"Long, peaceful work," as the only cure for Germany's ills, was counselled today by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, 77-year-old Nationalist candidate for the presidency, in his "Easter message" to the nation. It will be his only formal communication of the campaign, according to his previous declarations.

He stated in his proclamation that he had accepted the candidacy "on the basis of the constitution."

"Nobody will expect me to give up my political convictions," the proclamation read. "Not the form, but the spirit of the state is what matters."

"I am not young enough to believe in sudden change," it continued. "No war and no revolt from within can free our nation, which is chained and torn by strife. Long, peaceful work is necessary."

of the preceding government which is a policy of energy, of action, of truth."

Further conferences were expected this afternoon.

Parliamentary circles today expected a prolonged cabinet crisis. The chamber adjourned to Wednesday after the left block caucas had voted a resolution thanking former Premier Herriot and deciding to maintain the policies he followed.

WASHINGTON, April 11. — Any prospects of early negotiations for funding the $4,000,000,000 French war debt have been dispelled by the downfall of the Herriot ministry in France, according to the views expressed by the treasury officials today who are cognizance of the state of French finances.

Herriot's resignation, following on the heels of the financial crisis, has served to create a suitation, they say, that can only result in further and indefinite delay in any adjustment of the French debt, and because the other principal debtors, Italy and Belgium, look to France for leadership in adjustication of their debts to the United States, administration officials also envisioned long delay on those debts.

Kellogg Acts

the greatest law enforcement campaign in prohibition history will be in full swing.

Since the first anti-rum ship treaty was signed with Great Britain similar treaties have been negotiated with Germany, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Italy, Panama, France, and Netherlands. The treaty with France has not yet been ratified by the chamber of deputies. Under these treaties the United States has authority to sieze rum ships flying the flags of those nations within a distance than can be traversed in one hour by the vessel carrying the liquor. More than 6,000,000 cases of liquor were smuggled into the United States last year, according to unofficial estimates, and the coast guard seized only 156,000 cases. But with the increased "dry navy" and the 10 treaties in full effect smuggling is expected to be reduced to the minimum and seizuers materially increased.

332 Ships Visit Rum Row

During the past year department of justice investigations show that 332 foreign ocean-going vessels have been visitors to "rum row," 63 being anchored there at the same time. Of the rum ships spotted during the year 307 flew the British flag and the effective operation of the British treaty is therefore of the greatest importance to the prohibition enforcement unit and the coast guard. Norway was represented by 10 ships and France by four.

The treaties make ocean bootlegging to smaller speed boats vastly more difficult as they force the rum ships to stay 30 to 40 miles off the American coast, and as the smaller American speed boats can be seized anywhere captures are easier in ratio as the rum ships are forced to anchor farther from shore.

The "dry navy" has seized 23 foreign rum runners since the first treaty became effective in May, 1924, most of which were British. All yielded rich seizures of liquor, the cargo on the British steamer Quadra, seized off San Francisco, being worth $1,000,000.

Most of the smugglers have operated from British bases—Halifax, Lunenberg, Sydney and Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, St. Johns, N. F., Bermuda, Nassau and the islands of Bimini and Gun Cay in the British West Indies, and Victoria, Vancouver, Windsor and Belleville, Canada.

of weights and measures, had refused to come into East Liverpool to test scales, fearing this step might be resented by local authorities.

Councilmen Farrall, Kerr and Chambers asserted that the scale testing fee charged local merchants was an injustice inasmuch as merchants in Wellsville, Salem, Lisbon and other county towns were not required to pay anything.

"If the county pays a man for this work, why should we employ another for the same job and authorize him to collect a fee for the work?" asked Councilman Kerr. Council finally decided to inquire into the complaints, the investigation to be in charge of Councilmen Larcombe, Kerr and Eardley, assisted by Solicitor Brokaw.

Nine Ordinances Adopted

Nine ordinances, eight of which provided for the collection of special assessments for street and sewer improvements completed last summer, were passed on three readings under suspension of the rules. The other measure provided for the "safety and convenience of pedestrians while passing buildings being torn down, erected or altered" in the business district. Under the terms of the ordinance the safety director is authorized to compel contractors, working in the business district, to erect temporary sidewalks with covered roofs for the protection of pedestrians.

The street improvement ordinance provided for the levying of special assessments for the imrovement of McKinnon avenue, Monroe street, Broadway, West Eighth and Lisbon streets, Jefferson street, Rural Lane, Franklin and Riverview streets and the River road.

An ordinance, providing for the resurfacing of St. Clair avenue, north of Young's alley, was passed on second reading by a vote of five to one, Councilman Kerr objecting. Councilman Farrall also voted against the measure when an effort was made to suspend the rules and pass the measure on third and final reading. Service Director Ellis, who attended the meeting, urged the enactment of this legislation to complete the improvement north to Calcutta.

Rural Lane Complaint

Council refused to take action looking toward appointment of Thomas Beabont as dumpmaster at Patterson field, holding that this appointment was one for the school board to shoulder inasmuch as they controlled the athletic field.

A petition was received from 50 residents of Sunnyside, asking that Carpenter's Run be sewered from West Eighth to West Ninth street, the cost to be borne jointly by the city and the property holders. The petition was laid over until the next meeting.

Councilman Farrall and Eardley reported that they had investigated the request from the Liverpool Produce company to lay a railroad switch across Crook Alley. Permission was granted for the improvement with the understanding that the alley was to be blocked at no time by railroad cars.

Councilman Kerr charged that the concrete used in the Rural lane improvement was crumbling and that the work was not up to specifications. The street committee and engineer were instructed to make an investigation.

The solicitor was requested to draw up a deed accepting from James Kirkham, a plot of ground near Waterloo street for street purposes. Kirkham attended the meeting and expressed his willingness to deed his ground to the city without cost.

Protest Dredge Boat Noise.

The street commissioner was instructed to widen the alley leading off Dewey avenue, between Pennsylvania avenue and Erie street, East End, after council had received a petition from East End property holders.

Mrs. John Costello asked council to sewer Garfield street, appearing in behalf of a petition signed by 16 property holders of the street. Council voted to consider the request at the next meeting.

A petition signed by 71 property owners in the vicinity of Third and Monroe streets was received, complaining against the noise made at night by the dredge boat operated by the East Liverpool Sand and Gravel company. The petitioners also requested that the company be required to use higher smoke stacks on its dredge boat to eliminate the smoke nuisance. The complaint will be investigated by a committee consisting of Councilman Farrall, Kerr and Eardley.

Council discussed the proposed purchase of a motor-driven road scraper for the service department. Solicitor Brokaw was instructed to prepare legislation transferring money from the general fund to the service fund to provide for this transaction before the next meeting of the solons.

PRICE ON HEADS OF AUTO THIEVES

In an effort to curb automobile thieves, who have been unusually active here during the last three months, E. M. Diehl, secretary of the Columbiana County Motor Club, today offered a reward of $50 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty for car stealing.

The machine of John Davis, East End, stolen while parked in front of his home, Monday evening, was destroyed by fire on the Ohioville hill, it was announced today. A Hudson sedan, belonging to F. W. Miller, stolen from Dresden Avenue early Thursday morning, has not been recovered.

RIPPER WINS TRACK HONORS

Former High Student in Meet With World's Champs.

From high school athletics to the standard of competition furnished by world's champions is a jump of no mean proportions for any young athlete, but this is the leap which Clarence Ripper, of Wellsville, former local high school lad, has made, and, according to his performances in indoor meets during the later winter, he has made a good landing.

After spending a week's vacation with his parents in Wellsville, young Ripper this week returned to Michigan State Agricultural college, where he is a student, grabbed his running togs and hopped over to Detroit, where he competed with and watched the class of the running game in the United States at the present time. Accompanying Ripper were his athletic director, track captain and two sprinters who qualified for the Olympic finals last summer at Harvard.

The proportions of the meet can be estimated by the number of great runners of the day who performed at the meet. There were, first of all, Paavo Nurmi, the Finnish flash, who has topped records with a consistency and decisiveness that has never before been equalled; Willie Ritola, another Finlander, who probably ranks second to the great Nurmi; Schultz of Boston, sprinter; Hester and Coaffee, Canadian Olympic athletes; Joie Ray, world's mile champion; Hahn of Boston, Dodge of the Illinois A. C., Connelly of Georgetown, Granville of New York, the world's walking champion; Willie Plant of New York, and Italy's walking king, Frigerio, besides a host of other stars in all events.

The decorations, thousand of spectators, ceremonies such as a parade of athletes around the track, music, flag raising and costume dancing by Detroit girls made a wonderful setting for such a gathering of athletes.

Nurmi, Ritola, Frigerio, Hann, Ray, Dodge and such athletes brought applause after applause. They were easily the stars of the meet. There were other thrills and one came in the invitational half-mile when Ripper of Wellsville high, now at Michigan state, led the field which started from scratch for five of the six laps. After about four attempts, each attempt bringing the crowd to its feet with yells, Ray Dodge, Olympic champ, of the I. A. C., who set a new Canadian 600 yard record last week while touring with Nurmi, broke the tape, taking first place. Freyurg, U. of Michigan, placing second and Ripper, third. Beautiful medals, portraying Nurmi in full stride were given to first, second and third place men. Ripper has been leading his school entries in both the half and the mile in all the indoor meets this winter and never came in behind third place except once when he placed fourth in the half after having run the mile. He was third in the Michigan 1,000 yards A. A. U. championship this winter at Detroit and in one meet was second in the mile, while the Michigan collegiate mile champ was third.

Ripper, with the Aggies', two Olympic sprint candidate, ran in the Illinois Relay carnival this winter, running the 1,000 yards with such men as Marsters and Holden of Georgetown's world's champion relay team. Seven hundred athletes from all over the U. S. were there, and five events were won by world's champions.

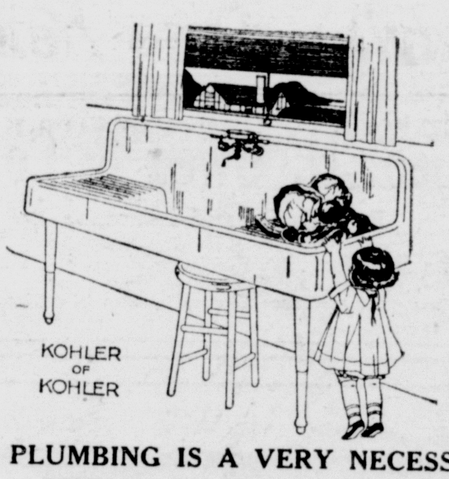

The Aggies will now prepare for a heavy spring track schedule. Ripper has been elected by the students to manage the Michigan state horticultural show at the college next winter in which fruit from all parts of the United States will be exhibited. Ripper is a member of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity and also of the honorary athletic fraternity of Michigan state.

ROAD GRADING WORK NEAR END

Grading on the Yellow creek township section of the Wellsville-Salineville road will be finished within a few weeks, according to announcement by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

Contractor Harry Brown has finished all steam shovel grading and the grade is now being "trimmed."

Yellow creek trustees are interested in having this road surfaced as early as possible. With the grading finished, it is likely that traffic will use this road between Wellsville and Salineville, thereby avoiding the present road.

Pouring of concrete on the Salineville section of this road in Washington township will begin as soon as the weather permits and additional material can be delivered on the job. The contract for this part of the concrete road was awarded last year.

SMITHFIELD DRY AGENTS LET OUT

Commissions of 10 prohibition officers working as deputy marshals out of the court of Mayor W. G. Parks of Smithfield, Jefferson county, several of whom participated in the series of liquor raids made here in January, have been revoked by Mayor Parks.

The commissions of the following deputies were revoked: Harry Webster, Ferd Eoff, Harry Ragle, A. E. Wild, Chauncey Brafford, W. M. McCoy, B. F. Deem, J. C. McCoy, R. M. Goudy and D. F. Kestusen.

Webster, Eoff, Deem and the McCoys are under indictment in Jefferson county common pleas court.

Mayor Parks declared that his action in revoking the appointments of the agents had no connection with the conference which he and other dry court mayors had recently with Prohibition Commissioner B. F. McDonald in Columbus. He said that he had been contemplating the action for more than a month.

Can't Be Stopped From Mining in National Park

Even the government can't dispossess Stark of Kalispell of the one-man gold mine he is operating in a national park. He holds a mining claim to Stark Mountain in Glacier park antedating the act of congress which created the park in 1910, so the U. S. cannot interfere. He is seen emerging from the mine with a push-car load of gold-bearing ore.

British Soldier Wins Major's Wife; Letters Found by Husband

LONDON, April.—Major Gerald Hughes has been granted a divorce from his wife, Daphne, because a private won her love.

Major Hughes testified that while on duty in India his suspicions were aroused; and his wife confessed that she had a lover, that she was not ashamed of him, and said that he was a soldier in the Black Watch. The Major found a number of love letters to his wife from the soldier; and his wife became hysterical and said she wanted her freedom so that she might marry her lover. The Major said his wife was a woman of independent means.

Captain Noel Willis testified that, while staying at a hotel in Chakatra, he saw a private of the Black Watch enter Mrs. Hughes' rooms on several occasions.

CLEAR RUINS OF FIRE-SWEPT ZONE FOR WORK ON BUILDINGS

Construction Will be Under Way Within Two Weeks.

ANNOUNCE PLANS

T. V. Milligan and Paul Hune in Property Transfer.

Actual work on the rebuilding of nthe three Fifth street blocks, razed by fire Sunday, February 22, will be under way in the next two or three weeks.

Work of clearing away debris of the six-story Milligan building, on the northwest corner of Fifth street and Crook alley, is being rushed. Workmen are also devoting attention to the Leland Thompson building, formerly occupied by the Lewis Brothers' store, and the site probably will be cleared by the middle of next week.

Peter Millfron has the contract for clearing the ruins of the Wasbutzky building, adjoining the Milligan property. Because of the mass of concrete, steel and wire reinforcement, the work is progressing slowly. The first and second floors of the front wall will be allowed to stand.

The Milligan Hardware & Supply company has announced plans for a three-story brick, steel and concrete fireproof building on the site of the destroyed six-story structure. A two story fire proof building will occupy the site of the old three-story Wasbutzky building. Leland Thompson has not determined the size of the structure which he will erect on the site of the former Lewis Brothers' store home.

To Erect Warehouse.

As the result of a deal completed this week, T. V. Milligan becomes the owner of the Paul Hune structure in Diamond alley. Milligan has transferred to Hune, wholesale confectioner, the adjoining building, which he recently purchased from James McGarry. Hune is now occupying this building, which he will remodel.

Milligan will erect a two-story brick fireproof warehouse on the site of the two frame buildings at the corner of Diamond and Crook alleys. This warehouse will have a frontage of 45 feet on Diamond alley and extend 48 feet along Crook alley.

Work of clearing away ruins of the two frame buildings, which were badly damaged when caught beneath the falling back wall of the Milligan structure during the fire, will be started within the next few days. The Milligan Hardware and Supply company will maintain temporary headquarters in the warehouse building, upon its completion, pending rebuilding of the Fifth street business block.

Smallpox Reported.

BARNESVILLE—Twenty cases of smallpox were reported in this vicinity by Dr. F. R. Dow, Belmont county health commissioner. Most of these cases, it was stated, were in the district between here and Bailey's Mills, a suburb. The cases were mild forms of the disease.

Public Ownership in Chicago

East Liverpool people, who, by reason of facts given the light of day during the 350-day street car tie-up here two years ago, have some knowledge of the expense involved in maintaining a modern transportation system, were not surprised at Chicago's rejection of proposed municipial ownership of its transit lines. Perhaps Chicago is to be congratulated.

The burden would have been tremendous. The capital expenditure involved was $550,000,000. That would have been spread over a period of 40 years, but would have meant a great financial burden from the start. It might have meant a greater burden right along for current expenditure.

Cities generally get along pretty well with such matters as street paving and sewers, waterworks, parks, schools and libraries. In other kinds of business their record in this country is less satisfactory.

If Chicago had really gone into this big transportation game, as owner and operator, it might have led many other cities to do likewise. As matters stand, its adverse decision will confirm the tendency to leave public utilities in private hands, subject to whatever measure of public control experience shows to be necessary.

The Test of Germany

It is probably a good thing that "Iron Hindenburg" has entered the race for the German presidency. Now his friends will come forward, his enemies will be able to take a crack at him, and everybody will find out by the end of the month where Germany stands—whether for democracy, peace and progress or for monarchism, war and reaction.

German democracy has been suspected abroad of being only skin deep, and indeed a device adopted as a "skin game" to fleece allied creditors and fool America, which first raised the demand for democratization of the Fatherland. Recent developments have seemed to belie these suspicions and prove German sincerity. In political contests so far, the militarists have lost. Ludendorff was snowed under in the vote of March 29, and the liberal group of parties polled a good majority of the votes. If they do as well, or better, in the clean-cut fight now coming, the allied and associated powers will have a lot more confidence in German faith and German prospects.

A Profitable Vacation

Of all the young men taking a vacation this year, none will get more benefit from it than the thousands who take "a month's vacation at Uncle Sam's expense."

Opportunity for enrollment at Camp Knox, Ky., which will be open from July 1 to July 30, is offered 36 Columbiana county boys. Dr. John A. Fraser, health commissioner, who is a World war veteran has been named special recruiting officer in the East Liverpool district.

Uncle Sam does not profess to be altogether philanthropic about it. He maintains his summer training camps for good and strategic reasons, to keep alive a healthy spirit of self-defense in the nation and to provide the rudiments of military training to American youth who otherwise would never have had any such training. It is a benefit to the government and the country to have a few score thousand young men undergoing such a dose of instruction and discipline every summer. But it does them more good than it does Uncle Sam.

This is not saying that there is no hardship in the experience. The work and exercise are hard—just as it is hard paddling and carrying a canoe, with its equipment, 40 miles a day in the Canadian woods, or trailing big game over the mountains with a gun. But there is joy and satisfaction in the achievement and there are pleasant compensations along the way.

It is safe to say that the lads choosing this kind of vacation will come back to home and job far better in health, vigor and spirit than nine-tenths of their friends who have preferred the softer and more expensive kinds.

Crime News Inside

The Des Moines Register has been conducting an experiment with crime news, segregating it all on an inside page instead of putting conspicuous crimes on the front page as usual and scattering the rest through the paper. The idea was suggested by the women's clubs of the city, and aims to find how the public likes the change.

"The experiment is made purely as a test," explains the Register. "No effort will be made to curtail or increase the ordinary amount of crime news. The only change is made by the fact that it will be all together on one page."

Results will be awaited with interest by other newspapers. It may please some readers, and disappoint others, to find no crime thrillers on the front page. There will be no trapping of the innocent and unwary into reading about some crime they would rather know nothing about. Those who want the criminal stuff can find it readily enough, just as the devotees of other departments find them.

It seems doubtful whether, on the whole, the desire of the Des Moines women's clubs will be realized, and criminal news will be read less when printed in this fashion. There was a time, as Lord Byron satirically recorded, when school texts of the classics were carefully expurgated, and then the expurgated passages were all printed together at the back of the book. So the students usually turned there first.

Time is whatever we make it. People make hard times, then blame the times.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains — By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

AT QUARANTINE, April 11.—After two months' absence it is pleasant to hear the New York newsboys scampering aboard at Quarantine crying "Morning poipers!" I believe I prefer the "Hully Gee" of the Bowery to the "Qui Monsieur" and "Very good, sir," over there.

I have come back a linguist—speaking English, American and New York. It was refreshing to see Miss Liberty with her torch aloft and the jagged beauty of the skyline. Steaming up the North River to the pier, New York never looked more lovely.

There is always a welcome for returning voyagers. Whistles of factories blow and the river craft siren their shrill greeting. The first touch of spring is coming to Jersey hills. Little whirls of smoke raced from the big stacks like clouds hurrying back to the sky. Activity everywhere.

Crowds pressed to the ships rail to locate friends and relatives amid the blurr of faces and fluter of handkerchiefs on the pier. I heard one little boy megaphone: "Mother, what did you bring me?" Many blew kisses to lover ones while tears streaked down their cheks.

I have always lacked these emotions but I admire them in others. My greeting of affection is usually a placid "How are you?" and a little embarrassment. But is is a very common experience for re-united people to swoon at the pier from mere happiness and excitement.

The battery of news photographers and movie men were at the grangplank to snap with whirring clicks all the celebrities aboard. And when the passengers strike the firm foundation of the pier, following the swaying motion of the boat, they lurch about like drunken folk.

Custom inspection is a dreary procedure. It comes at a time when tired passengers are aching to rush to their homes. Yet they must stand sometimes like cattle for hours in alphabetical array while their baggage is torn up and rummaged.

There is a great deal of talk about drinking orgies on wet ships. I saw nothing approaching an orgy. Many took a cocktail before luncheon or dinner and perhaps a bottle of wine with their meals. The only intoxication I saw was that of a Frenchman who was gloriously souiffed all the way across and was still in that condition on the pier.

I stepped into the smoking lounge where most of the drinking is done at the three mile limit to get first hand evidence of the talked of surging crowds getting the final drink. Outside of two stewards I was the only person in the room. Not a drink was being served.

As the liner was being warped to the pier I noticed the gallant captain on the bridge. He semed a pillar of authority and rightly so, yet the highest officials of a steamship line are on land. It is remindful of the song in the Gilbert-Sullivan opera of "H. M. S. Pinafore."

Stick close to your desks,
And never go to sea,
And you all may be rulers of the Queen's Navee.

A noonday sun was flooding New York as the taxi sped northward. No city seems so brick and colorful. Ancient rumbling London appears mediaeval. Gay Paree drab. I know a New Yorker who now lives in Philadelphia. He often comes to town for a brief vacation. He saunters out to the sidewalk from the Pennsylvania station and then begins to walk rapidly. He doesn't know why, for he usually has no particular objective. But that is the spirit of New York that catches up the stranger and before he knows it he is on the run. Hurry, Hurry. Always hurry. After a tedious, monotonous journey I found myself again inoculated. I began to fret and champ when the taxi was held up for traffic for a short space. "Hurry up," I called to the driver. "What's eatin' you?" he replied. I knew I was again in New York.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Development of State Parks.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11.—The National Conference on State Parks has opened in Washington, D. C., its first permanent headquarters after having been in existence about five years. Miss Beatrice M. Ward, who has been associated with the work of both national and state parks for a number of years, is in charge as secretary.

One of the first things done by this energetic young woman since the opening of the offices here was to issue the first number of a bulletin setting forth the progress and plans of the various states in establishing and maintaining state recreational parks. It is planned to make this bulletin a regular publication and it will be issued from time to time as sufficient valuable information accumulates.

In the first issue of this bulletin Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of the National Conference on State Parks, makes the following statement: "This, the first issue of the bulletin, is presented to you in the hope that you will find it of material value. State park development has increased by leaps and bounds in the past two years and gives promise of becoming of even greater importance as time passes. When the conference was organized many states had no thought of state parks; today practicaly every state is working for their creation. New parks and forests are being continuously established; state park commissions are being created by legislative enactment; associations are being formed; in fact, hardly a day passes that we do not hear of some new activity.

"I call upon all friends to join our ranks and aid us in making our slogan, 'A State Park Every Hundred Miles' an actuality."

More and more are the people of the United States coming to an appreciation of natural recreational grounds. The automobile has resulted in more cross continent travel and a consequent demand for suitable camping sites. A great many automobile tourists carry camping paraphernalia instead of planning to stop at hotels in towns through which they pass. This may be because of lack of funds or because of a preference for outdoor life. In many cases it is being met by the municipality.

Most States Cooperate.

While providing suitable camps for automobilists is not a primary concern of the State Park Conference, the establishment of state parks would surely be a great boon to such travelers. There are only a few states which are not up to this time sufficiently interested in the movement to cooperate. However, it is hoped and believed that sooner or later they will come along.

As the secretary says, "These things move along so rapidly that it is difficult to keep up with them. For instance, Utah for years evinced no interest whatever in establishing state parks. Suddenly she aroused herself and appointed a state park board, consisting of the governor, the president of the state university, the president of the agricultural college, and two persons to be chosen by the above named members. This board is given power to manage and control lands acquired for state parks, to acquire any land within the state designated by a survey and to accept gifts of money or land for state park purposes form any county, municipality, individual or the federal government.'

All this was done before the National conference had any inkling that Utah was in the least interested.

A notable example of state park progress is Texas. In this state, as in most of the southern states, public sentiment and political progress have not reached the point where sufficient appropriations for parks and forests can be obtained from the legislature.

What Texas Is Doing.

However, in 1923, Governor Neff succeeded in having a law passed which provided for the creation of a state park board with authority to solicit and accept for the state donations of land, and to investigate tracts suitable for park purposes. Up to Feruary, 1925, this board had ben offered sixty-five tracts, ranging in area from ten

Hermit's Life Savings of $9,000 Are Lost When His Log Cabin Burns as He Dozes

...E, Mo., Nov. 23.—... who lived alone, never had faith in banks, had been saving his money about his log cabin at ... for many years. Every week he put part of his salary away in the hiding place in the kitchen, under the floor near the chimney. As the deposit grew he watched it closer and closer, until it exceeded $9,000. That was last night. Each thousand was in a roll by itself, bound with a rubber band. In a strong canvas bag were the silver and gold coins that he had not changed into bills.

He counted the tenth roll of bills last night and there was $184 in it. That was in addition to the other nine rolls, each totaling $1,000. He put the money back under the floor. He felt drowsy last night, and after fixing the coal fire sat in a chair nearby, to take a nap, but he slept longer than he intended and had neglected to look after the stove, which had become overheated and set fire to the place.

OVER 69 YEARS OF SUCCESS

Boy's Suicide Plan Fails; Misjudges Speed of Freight

BALTIMORE, April —By a miraculous quirk of fate sixteen-year-old Leo Lombardi was saved from a cruel death when he attempted to end his life by jumping from North Avenue bridge into the path of an onrushing freight train.

Misjudging the speed of the approaching train, the boy hesitated too long before leaping, landing on top of a boxcar, where he lay stunned. An hour later he was found by a railroad employe, when the boxcar was pushed onto a siding at Mount Winans, seven miles from the place where he made his leap.

Although suffering from concussion of the brain Lombardi is expected to recover. The boy was despondent at his inability to find work.

And another good remedy for insomnia is to listen closely while the radio announcer reads forty or fifty telegrams, all of them beginning with—"Program coming in fine."

MANY TUBERCULAR CASES IN STATE

"There is a real and vital turbercu losis problem to be solved in West Virginia," George C. Rowell, executive secretary of the West Virginia Tuberculosis association, stated in his annual report presented at the convention of the association in Charleston.

"At least 1,404 persons in West Virginia died from tuberculosis during 1924, and there were 1,231 deaths from the same cause in 1923, these facts are recorded with the state health department. It is possible that the apparent increase is due to better reporting of death from tuberculosis, as the number of annual deaths in West Virginia has been estimated to be approximately 2,000.

"The tuberculosis death rate for 1923 in the United States, based on the reports of the 38 states in the registration area, was 93.6. The tuberculosis death rate for 1923 in West Virginia has been estimated by the statistical service of the National Tuberculosis association as 105.3 per 100,000."

BURGLARS LOOT WELLSBURG HOME

Thieves entered the home of Earl Tolbert, Twenty-second street, Wellsburg, last night and made off with jewelry and other small articles whose value was estimated at several hundred dollars. No marks were found to betray the manner in which the burglars gained entrance to the home. Police believe the entry occurred through use of a skeleton key, during the time in which Mr. Tolbert and members of his family were auto riding.

TAX RETURNS MUST BE FILED

Personal Property Blanks Being Received by County Auditor.

Personal tax returns are now being received by County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton although tax listing day does not begin until Monday.

Every person of the age of 21 years is required by law to make a return of his or her personal property, and upon blanks that have been prepared by the County Auditor's office for that purpose.

People who have not received tax listing blanks should make the fact known to the county auditor's office immediately, so that returns may be filed within the legal time limit allowed by law.

It is the duty of County Auditor Hamilton to list any property omitted for the current year, and for five years prior, and to add a penalty of 50 per cent for each year thus admitted. For failure to do this the auditor is subjected to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 for each case of neglect on his part. Every return must be sworn to, and every question on the blanks must be answered.

It is also important that all new buildings be listed on these, also that a report be made of improvements or additions to buildings completed since April 13, 1924.

Under the law automobiles are taxable in addition to the license fee and under the following schedule:

1920 or models prior to that date 10 percent of the list price.

1921 models, 20 percent of the list price.

1922 models 30 percent of the list price.

1923 models 40 percent of list price.

1924 models 50 percent of list price.

1925 models 80 percent of list price.

In listing their cars, owners are required to give the make, style, horse power, model of year and the license number.

Every individual is allowed by law $100 exemptions, this to be deducted from the total of the listing. Debts may be used to offset credits, but cannot be used as an offset against any property.

Returns are to be filed with the County Auditor's office on or before May 1 next.

COUNTY SPELLING CONTEST LISTED

Famous Electrical Engineer Produces Nine Foot Spark

OLDHAM, England, April.—A spark nine and a half feet long has been produced as the result of tests conducted as the result of tests conducted at the works of the distinguished electrical engineer, Dr. S. Z. Ferranti, at Holinwood, near here.

"It was an awe-inspiring thing to get so near a shaft of real lightning," Dr. Ferranti told reporters. "The spark was produced in testing a set of three linked transformers, which were found capable of producing one million volts.

"This was, I believe, the highest voltage or pressure ever attained in England," he added, "and the result of the test is expected to rank as a step toward the achievement of longer transmission of electricity at higher pressure."

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitagraph picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

"You are no longer that," she said, and strove to smile.

"Yet I owe no thanks to you that I am not," he answered. "I think there's no more to be said, unless it be to add the assurance that Lord Julian Wade has also nothing to apprehend from me. That, no doubt, will be the assurance that your peace of mind requires?"

"For your own sake—yes. But for your own sake only. I would not have you do anything mean or dishonouring."

"Thief and pirate though I be?"

She clenched her hand, and made a little gesture of despair and impatience.

"Will you never forgive me those words?"

"I'm finding it a trifle hard, I confess. But what does it matter, when all is said?"

Her clear hazel eyes considered him a moment wistfully. Then she put out her hand again.

"I am going, Captain Blood. Since you are so generous to my uncle, I shall be returning to Barbados with him. We are not like to meet again—ever. Is it impossible that we should part friends? Once I wronged you, I know. And I have said that I am sorry. Won't you . . . won't you say 'good-bye'?"

He took the hand she proffered. Retaining it, he spoke, his eyes sombrely, wistfully considering her.

"You are returning to Barbados?" he said slowly. "Will Lord Julian be going with you?"

"Why do you ask me that?" she confronted him quite fearlessly.

"Sure, now, didn't he give you my message, or did he bungle it?"

"No. He didn't bungle it. He gave it me in your own words. It touched me very deeply. It made me see clearly my error and my injustice. I owe it to you that I should say this by way of amend. I judged too harshly where it was a presumption to judge at all."

He was still holding her hand. "And Lord Julian, then?" he asked, his eyes watching her, bright as sapphires in the copper-coloured face.

"Lord Julian will no doubt be going home to England. There is nothing more for him to do out here."

"But didn't he ask you to go with him?"

"He did. I forgive you the impertinence."

A wild hope leapt to life within him.

"And you? Glory be, ye'll not be telling me ye refused to become my lady, when . . ."

"Oh! You are insufferable!" She tore her hand free and backed away from him. "I should not have come . . . Good-bye!" She was speeding to the door.

He sprang after her, and caught her. Her face flamed, and her eyes stabbed him like daggers. "These are pirate's ways, I think! Release me!"

"Arabella!" he cried on a note of pleading. "Are ye meaning it? Must I release ye? Must I let ye go and never set eyes on ye again? Or will ye stay and make this exile endurable until we can go home together? Ooh, ye're crying now! What have I said to make ye cry, my dear?"

"I . . . I thought you'd never say it," she mocked him through her tears. "There was never, never anybody but you, Peter."

Governor Blood forgot the duties of his office. He had reached home at last. His odyssey was ended.

"And you? Glory be, ye'll not be telling me ye refused to become 'M, Lady'."

They had, of course, a deal to say thereafter, so much, indeed, that they sat down to say it, whilst time sped on, and Governor Blood forgot the duties of his office. He had reached home at last. His odyssey was ended.

And meanwhile Colonel Bishop's fleet had come to anchor, and the Colonel had landed on the mole, a disgruntled man to be disgruntled further yet. He was accompanied ashore by Lord Julian Wade.

A corporal's guard was drawn up to receive him, and in advance of this stood Major Mallard and two others who were unknown to the Deputy-Governor: one slight and elegant, the other big and brawny.

Major Mallard advanced. "Colonel Bishop, I have orders to arrest you. Your sword, sir!"

Bishop stared, empurling. "What the devil? Arrest me, d'ye say? Arrest me?"

"By order of the Governor of Jamaica," said the elegant little man behind Major Mallard. Bishop swung to him.

"The Governor? You're mad!" He looked from one to the other. "I am the Governor."

"You were," said the little man dryly. "But we've changed that in your absence. You're broke for abandoning your post without due cause and therefore imperiling the settlement over which you had charge. It's a serious matter, Colonel Bishop, as you may find. Considering that you held your office from the Government of King James, it is even possible that a charge of treason may lie against you. It rests with your successor entirely whether ye're hanged or not."

Bishop rapped out an oath, and then, shaken by a sudden fear: "Who the devil may you be?" he asked.

"I am Lord Willoughby, Governor-General of His Majesty's Colonies in the West Indies. You were informed, I think, of my coming."

The remains of Bishop's anger fell from him like a cloak. He broke into a sweat of fear. Behind him Lord Julian looked on, his handsome face suddenly white and drawn.

"But, my Lord—" began the Colonel.

"Sir, I am not concerned to hear your reasons," his Lordship interrupted harshly. "I am on the point of sailing and I have not the time. The Governor will hear you and no doubt deal justly by you." He waved to Major Mallard, and Bishop, a crumpled, broken man, allowed himself to be led away.

To Lord Julian, who went with him, since none deterred him, Bishop expressed himself when presently he had sufficiently recovered.

"This is one more item to the account of that scoundrel Blood," he said through his teeth. "My God, what a reckoning there will be when we meet!"

Major Mallard turned away his face that he might conceal his smile, and without further words led him a prisoner to the Governor's house that so long had been Colonel Bishop's own residence. He was left to wait under guard in the hall, whilst Major Mallard went ahead to announce him.

Miss Bishop was still with Peter Blood when Major Mallard entered. His announcement startled them back to realities.

"You will be merciful with him. You will spare him all you can for my sake, Peter," she pleaded.

"To be sure I will," said Blood, "but I'm afraid the circumstances won't."

She effaced herself, escaping into the garden and Major Mallard fetched the Colonel.

"His Excellency, the Governor, will see you now," said he, and threw wide the door.

Colonel Bishop staggered in and stood waiting.

At the table sat a man of whom nothing was visible but the top of a carefully curled, black head. Then this head was raised, and a pair of blue eyes solemnly regarded the prisoner. Colonel Bishop made a noise in his throat, and, stared into the face of His Excellency, the Deputy-Governor of Jamaica, which was the face of the man he had been hunting in Tortuga to his present undoing.

The situation was best expressed to Lord Willoughby by Van der Kuylen as the pair stepped aboard the Admiral's flagship.

"Id is fery boedigal!" he said, his blue eyes twinkling. "Cabdain Blood is fond of boedry—you remember de abble biossoms. So? Ha, ha!"

Philippine Leper's Paradise Declares British Relief Head

LONDON, April—The Philippine Islands are the leper's paradise, while India is the leper's hell, according to Frank Oldrieve, secretary to the British Leprosy Relief association, who has recently returned from an extensive tour of the world's leper asylums.

Giving some instances of the success which has attended the policy of the compulsory segregation of leprous cases, Oldrieve said::

"Leprosy was prevalent throughout the Philippine islands until the United States health authorities stepped in and enforced compulsory segregation. And so the Culion Island leper colony, which in many ways is the leper's paradise, came into being.

"There is no misery in that colony," Oldrieve said. "In all there are some 6,000 cases at Culion—men, women and children. They lead normal, contented, industrious lives. They dance—some of the younger ones—play games, run their own police force, theatre, electric lighting plant; and they intermarry."

Segregation, plus the new method of the old "injection of oils cure" was working wonders, he said.

India, in Oldrieve's opinion, presented the other side of the picture. He estimated that there were over half a million lepers in the country.

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

CHICAGO, April.—The wife's position in the family has been fixed officially as that of jailer by Judge Harry Lewis.

Under Judge Lewis' ruling she may judge comings and goings; her duty it is to ply the key in the door and it may be turned so that Friend Husband may or may not enter.

The point arose in the separate maintenance suit of Marion and Adele Pedley.

"Why, your honor," said counsel for Pedley, "she is like a jailer."

"I've been married fr othirty years," the judge interposed, "and my wife has been jailer every minute of the time. If your wife isn't, you should have your picture taken."

The average college student must spend only two hours a week "playing the shiek" if he is to get the most out of his college life, according to a "time budget" of the University of Chicago.

A survey including all the students at the institution upon which the "time budget" was founded disclosed that the average student now spends a five hour a week on social affairs. Many students, mostly women, admitted spending as much as ten hours or more a week on the social side of college life.

The budget also permits only two hours a week for religious activities. Some of the items in the budget are:

Study and class attendance, at least 14 hours.

Serious readings, not connected with college courses, at least four hours.

Physical education, athletics and exercise, not less than seven hours.

Lectures, concerts, theatres, the equivalent of one evening a week.

An alleged partnership of a man and a girl whereby the girl got positions as a maid in exclusive homes and then systematically looted the homes, while the man disposed of the stolen goods, was broken up, police believed, in the arrest of Edward O'Neill.

Ethel Green, the girl accused by the police, was most recently employed in the home of Alfred Person, where she is said to have stolen articles valued at $485. She escaped arrest. Police said she disguised herself and left O'Neill's home by the back way. She is being sought.

O'Neill was arrested when he tried to pass a check reputed to be worthless.

Comes forward a pastor with a plea in favor of divorce.

He is the Rev. Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Chicago temple, who takes sharp issue with the official attitude of his own and other churches.

"If Jesus were alive today I believe he would recognize divorce," Dr. Thompson said. "I do not believe that the church has correctly interpreted Jesus' ideas of marriage and divorce."

Preaching from the text: "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder," Dr. Thompson said that many marriages did not have Divine sanction—that the couple had not been joined by God and could, therefore, be put asunder by lawful divorce.

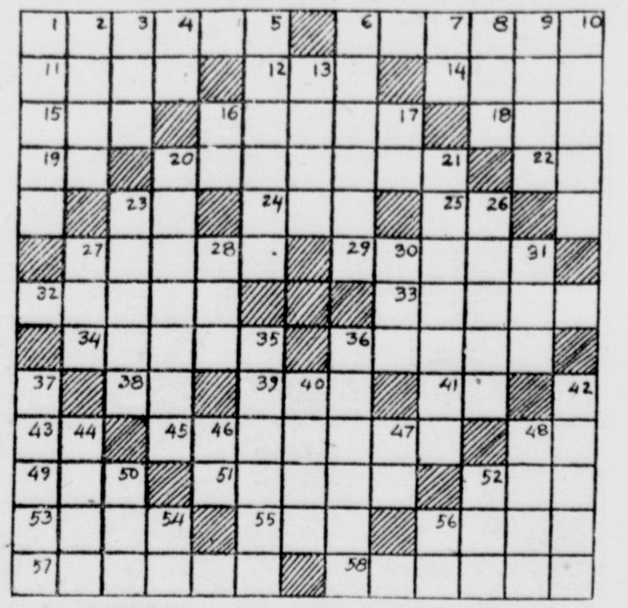

"Conditions have changed greatly in the matter of marriage since the days of Jesus. When Jesus lived and spoke, a Roman could put away his wife at will; and even the Jews could put away their wives by giving them a written statement of the reasons for the step. But nowadays it is not possible unless the justice of the matter has been passed upon by kind and judicially minded judges who first look at all the facts.

"I believe that in these present circumstances Jesus would have spoken differently."

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Haskin's Letter

to eight hundred acres and had formally accepted, subject to the approval of the legislature, fifty-one of them. The total value of this land is estimated at $1,300,00 and the total acreage is 30,000.

Governor Blaine, of Wisconsin, in his message of January 15, 1925, to the legislature caled particular attention to the fact that some time before he had suggested to the conservation commissioner of the state the establishment of a northern lakes park. The specific area he had in mind is nine miles wide and sixteen miles long, embracing 92,00 acres. The state already wons approximately 76,000 acres of this. Governor Blaine emphasizes the fact that this area, which includes forty-two lakes, some of which are among the largest in the northern part of the state, would serve as an excellent fish and game reserve for natural propagation, and also serve in developing state forestry. So far, however, no definite action has been taken on this.

Kansas is another state that has only recently made the first step toward providing for state recreational areas. The present legislature passed a law authorizing the Fish and Game department, through a Forestry, Fish and Gace commission, to acquire property to be used for summer recreation and public fishing grounds, and also as sanctuaries for migratory wild life.

Pennsylvania already owns 1,131,611 acres of forest land which is being managed for water-shed protection, timber protection and recreation, and the citizens are urging the establishment of additional public camps along the highway routes of the state. Toward accomplishing this there is a proposed $25,000,000 bond issue for the acquisition of additional forest land. State oficers say that they believe that the time is not far distant when the commonwealth will own approximately 5,000,00 acres of forest land to be developed for the well-being of citizens and their industries.

These are only a few examples of what is being done by the individual states toward preserving the natural beauty spots so that the people may seek in these health-giving areas surcease from the nerve-straining bustle of the city.

During the last week of May the fifth National conference on state parks will be held at Skyland, Virginia. Skyland is said to be an ideal place for such a meting. It is situated on a high plateau in the Blue Ridge and is in the heart of the proposed Shenandoah National park. These meetings are attended by advocates of state parks and lovers of forests, rivers, lakes, birds and wild flowers. Accredited delegates are apointed by the various governors and the addresses are made by men who have made a study of forests and parks.

Miracle Performed In "Captain Blood," Coming to Ceramic

A miracle was performed before the eyes of the players during the making of scenes for Rafael Sabatini's famous love story, "Captain Blood," which will be shown at the Ceramic theater all next week. One of the big Negroes who act as a bodyguard for Colonel Bishop, a role assumed by Wilfrid North, turned from jet black into a glistening, sprakling white under the direct rays of the sun. No one was more surprised at the transformation than the Negro himself. He looked himself over from head to foot, speechless, frightened, amazed.

"Ah say, what am happened to me?" he inquired. "Am dis mah own self, or is ah somebody else?"

An investigation disclosed the fact that the Negro has a strong desire to become a champion prizefighter. It doesn't make any difference whom he fights, when or where; he loves to fight.

As his nearly nude guard costume was composed mainly of liberal coatings of dense black grease paint smeared over his entire body he decided to toughen his hide by using a mixture of salt in the grease paint. The actor was afraid the grease paint would soften his skin and make him unfit for the ring. Evidently his fear was very great for he used so much salt that when the paint dried in the heat of the sun, the salt crystalized and the Negro like Lot's wife turned into a pillar of salt.

J. Warren Kerrigan has the role of Captain Blood, Jean Paige plays opposite him. James Morrison, Templar Saxe, Wilfrid North, Charlotte Merriam, Joseph Rickson, Bertram Grassby, Allan Forrest, Henry Hebert, Otis Harlan and Otto Matieson head the all-star cast.

New System of Fat Reduction

Here is a new way for all fat people to reduce, a new way to rid yourself easily and quickly of the burdensome fat which makes you miserable. Why should you let yourself go, resigning yourself to being fat, when by using Marmola Prescription Tablets you can become slender again? Thousands of men and women each year regain healthy, slender figures this way. You, too, can take off your excess flesh in this same pleasant manner. No need for violent exercises or starvation diets. Just take one small Marmola Prescription Tablet after each meal and before going to bed. In a very short time your flabby flesh will disappear and you will be the proud possessor of a slender shapely figure. You will never be admired as long as you are fat—for fat people are always being made fun of. But don't let that worry you anymore. One of the foremost physicians of his time discovered the Marmola Prescription for fat reduction and he also conceived the idea of putting it up in the convenient tablet form. All you have to do is to go to your druggist and get a box. Or if you prefer, send the price—one dollar—to the Marmola Company, General Motors Building, Detroit, Mich., and a box will be sent to you postpaid. Start taking these pleasant little tablets now—you will always be glad that you decided to try them. Many of your friends have used them successfully.

Potter Tossers Win Double Victory On High School Court

ALL-STAR TEAM AND POWER FIVE MEET WATERLOO

Tri-state Amateur Champions Play Tournament Brand of Basketball—Honorable Mentioned Cagers Down Third All-Star Outfit.

Potters' basketball passers, tri state amateur champions, played the kind of basketball that won them cage honors at the Wellsburg tournament, captured a double victory in the last games of the season on the high school court last night.

They defeated the Sunday school league All Stars, 28 to 14, in the first contest, and won their second victory when they downed the Power Five, 35 to 20.

Both games were easy victories for the Potters, who outclassed their opponents.

The All Stars, considering that it was the first time that they have played together, put up a nice article of basketball. The Power Five, too, performed in a capable manner.

In the All Star-Potter clash, the Potters, with the exception of Moore, figured in the scoring. English, N. Hamilton and McConville were the Potters' leading scorers, while C. Mackey and Carey set the pace for the All Stars.

In the Potter-Power five game, N. Hamilton, English and Leibschner were the scoring stars for the victors, while Dickey, Bucher and Jester carried off the honors for the vanquished.

In the preliminary game, the Honorable Mentioned team from the third All Star team, 24 to 14. Kilmer was the leading point maker for the Honorable Mentioned five, while Allison did most of the scoring for the Third All Star team.

KRAMER-VERDI AT YOUNGSTOWN

YOUNGSTOWN, April 11.—Danny Kramer, one of the hardest punching featherweights in the business, will take on Phil Verdi, of Rochester, N. Y., in the main bout of Al Zill's next mitt show here on Friday, April 17.

Kramer, who knocked out Eddie Weygant in quick order, will find in Verdi an opponent of sterner caliber.

In the 10-round semi-final Al Gordon, of Philadelphia, a stablemate of Kramer's, will clash with Eddie Bowen, of Washington, D. C., formerly of Sharon, Pa. Two other six rounds batles are also carded.

509 SCHOOLS IN PENN MEET

Track Carnival April 24-25 Brings Out Record Entry List.

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—With the greatest entry list in thirty-one years, the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival, April 24 and 25, promises to eclipse any track and field meet ever held in the country.

Teams and individuals have been entered from the United States, England, Cuba and Canada, giving the games an international flavor.

The entry list includes 509 colleges, high schools, preparatory schools, grammar and parochial schools, divided as follows; 110 colleges, 214 high schools, 71 preparatory schools, 86 grammar schools and 28 parochial schools.

Nobleman There.

An English nobleman, the first in the history of the game, is slated to compete against the cream of America's college hurdlers. He is Lord Burghley, son of the Marquis of Exeter. The Englishman will be forced to meet Kinsey, of Illinois, Olympic champion in the 120-yard high hurdles; Moore, of Penn State, intercollegiate champion; Snyder and Guthrie, of Ohio State, and Wolf, of Pennsylvania, among others.

A. E. Porritt, who recently broke the Oxford-Cambridge meet record in the 100-yard dash, will also display his ability against the sprinters of this country, as will Orango, the Cuban star, coached by Alvin Kraenzlein, former Olympic champion. Porrit, a Rhodes scholar from New Zealand, ran the century in 9 9-10 seconds and the furlong in 21 2-5. He finished third in the 100 meters run in the Olympic games.

The remarkable records made on indoor tracks this season lead track followers to believe that a number of records will fall at the relay carnival. Georgetown university, which shattered the indoor two-mile relay record a number of times, is the favorite in that event, and also in the mile and a quarter and half-mile relay.

Relay Races.

Yale, Syracuse, Cornell, Chicago and Pennsylvania in the one-mile relay; Boston college in the two miles, along with Yale and Pennsylvania, Chicago and Illinois and Harvard in the sprints, will give the Washington collegians plenty of competition.

The competition in the field events should be more keen than it has ever been. It is safe to say that the winner of the high jump will be forced to leap more than 6 feet 2 inches, the winner in the pole vault well over 13 feet, the winner in the broad jump over 24 feet, and the hever of the shot, to win, must do 48 feet or better.

With such entries as Exeter, Huntington, Mercersburg, Lawrenceville, St. John's Military school in Wisconsin in the preparatory school divisions, records may fall in the preparatory school races.

"Infernal and appalling" were among the terms used by Sir Bruce-Porter, the famed physician of London, in regard to rubber corsets.

FOUR PENNANT RIVALS CLASH

NEW YORK, April 11. — Four pennant contending ball clubs will be seen within the limits of Greater New York this afternoon when the New York Giants and Washington Senators, champions both, play at the Polo Grounds, and the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, runners-up in their respective leagues in 1924, meet at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

The Yankees already have won the Brooklyn series with nine victories in 15 games, while the best the Senators can do is a tie, having won four games out of 10 played.

WEINERT READY TO FACE WILLS

"Adonis of Newark" Predicts Victory in June 19 Bout.

NEWARK, N. J., April 13.—"I think I'll conquer Harry Wills in our coming fight because I've finally conquered myself.

"You can't train on champagne and chorus girls and win a championship. I once thought you could.

"Ten years ago they called me a bum, a 'has been,' a down and out.

"Today I'm back in the limelight, one of the leading 'runner ups' to Jack Dempsey.

"I've come back. Now I'm going on, and Wills isn't going to stop me."

Charlie Weinert speaking. The so-called "Adonis of Newark." A good looking, strapping blonde of 29, 6 feet two in height, weight 188, with small blue eyes that almost go into eclipse when he smiles, which he does readily. The chap who will crawl through the ropes at the polo grounds, New York, on June 19 to face Wills. Both fighters of caliber.

Both have whipped Firpo.

It was wine and women that almost knocked Weinert out. When he flashed across the fistic horizon 10 years ago, he had "everything," youth, build speed, skill, strength and dauntless courage. He quickly leaped to fame.

"Then Broadway and the bright lights got me," said Weinert.

He slipped, then sank into pugilistic oblivion.

So he went back where he started, to work in his father's machine shop.

Fame gone. Money gone. Thirty-four thousand dollars in debt.

"Then," said Charlie," I met Helen Canfield."

Helen Canfield, of Newark, became Mrs. Charles Weinert on December 15, 1922.

It was then that Charlie Weinert began his remarkable comeback.

"I was through as a fighter, everybody said—everybody but Helen," Weinert related.

"Why, I could hardly get a fight. Even though I had once beaten Gunboat Smith, Battling Levinsky and other good fighters.

"I was desperate. I offered to fight for almost nothing. I took Harry Greb on short notice, and lost. I fought Bill Miske to a draw. I met others.

"Then I got going. I whipped Ad Stone, Jack Sharkey, Bartley Madden, Romero Rojas and Luis Firpo. And now, at 29, I'm nearer the top than ever before."

The derelict of the prize ring paused.

"I paid off every cent of the $34,000 I owed," he said, soberly.

"Now Helen and I have a nice home of our own. We have a neat little sum in the bank—own our own car."

"How about Broadway and the bright lights?" he was asked.

"Broadway?" he repeated. "Why I don't know there is such a place any more."

Of 2,834 marriages in England ending in suits for dissolution and annulment within one year, 1,166 were childless.

With Lefty Groves Out of League Canadian Team Hopes for Flag

Toronto gave Baltimore a merry battle for the pennant in the international league last year. Lefty Groves, now a member of the Athletics, pitched 'em out of the flag. Now, with Groves gone, Toronto hopes to beat Baltimore. Above are four men on whom Manager Dan Howley is counting. They are Pitchers Wallie Stewart, George Englishman, Eric Erickson and George Smith.

New Auto Speed Records Expected On Dallas Track

DALLAS, Tex., April 11. — New world speed records for dirt tracks are expected to be established here this afternoon when the foremost racing stars of America urge their cars over fair park course for a purse of $25,000 in the 100-mile southwest speed classic.

Among the drivers who will circle the mile and a quarter track are Ralph de Palma, Tommy Milton, Earle Devore, Eddie Hearne and "Red" Shafer.

The latter is from Fort Worth and won the Syracuse event in 1924.

Devore will pilot his front wheel drive machine, declared to be the only one of its kind in the world. Milton will drive a Milton special.

De Palma, favorite in betting, will drive his De Palma Special.

MAY HOLD MEET AT GUILFORD

Sportsmen Suggest Park Site for Annual Outing.

Now that Gov. Vic Donahey has affixed his signature to the Guilford state park bill, the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective association will very likely hold its annual field meet at Guilford this year. The date, however, remains to be determined.

Officers of the association have delayed selecting a date for the field meet until the measure becomes a law, and at the next meeting of the association which will be held in Lisbon in May, tentative plans for the outing at Guilford will be considered.

The signing of the bill is taken to mean that work closing the two gaps in the Guilford dam will be undertaken this year. In fact, it is said the big lake will be formed before fall.

CHURCH NINE RE-ORGANIZES

Byron O'Neil to Pilot Christians This Year.

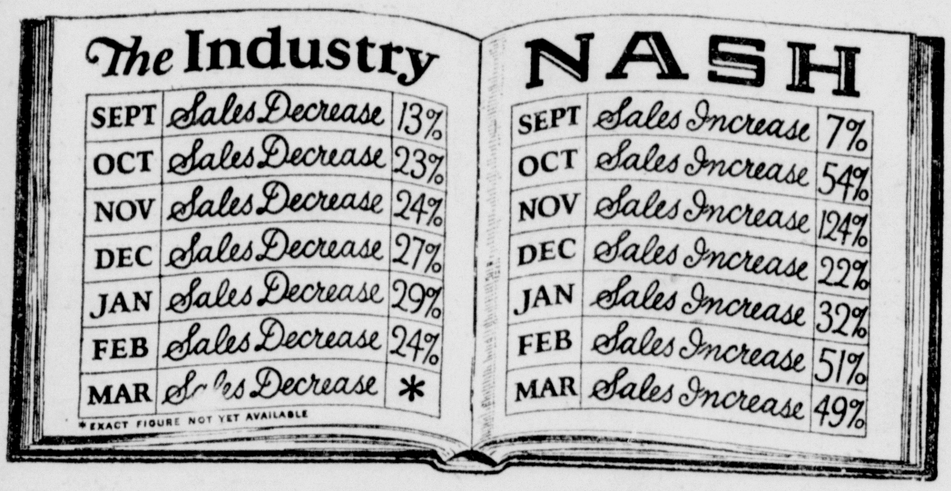

The Christian church baseball squad has organized its forces for the 1925 campaign.

Byron O'Neil, former manager of leading amateur teams of this vicinity, will pilot the team. All old members and others desirous of trying out for places have been asked to get in touch with the manager.

Plans also were laid for the re-organization of the church league. The league's first season, last year, was successful. Six teams were in the circuit. Other clubs interested in the formation of the loop will confer with Manager O'Neil.

On the other hand Nash sales are monthly sweeping far beyond the records for last year.

It is a dramatic and convincing national tribute to the downright superiority in beauty, in performance, and in value of the Nash product.

KING OF SWAT IS RECOVERING

Babe Ruth's Condition Undergoes Distinct Improvement.

NEW YORK, April 11. — Babe Ruth's condition was announced as having undergone a distinct improvement this morning, following the most comfortable night the noted patient has spent since taken ill at Asheville, N. C., some days ago while on tour with the Yankees and Dodgers. After a visit to the Babe this morning, Dr. Edward King issued a verbal bulletin, declaring that Ruth had rested comfortably and had enjoyed his longest sleep since being taken ill.

The babe, he said, fell into a sound sleep after Mrs. Ruth left him at 11:30 o'clock last night and did not awaken until the physician's visit. He then resumed his slumber until early this morning.

Dr. King added that Ruth still had a slight fever and that his vitality was low, but that his powers of recuperation were so great that he looked for a steady improvement from now on.

Ruth is not expected to leave the hospital for a week, but some believe that it is not altogether an impossibility that he will be on the field for the Yankees' opening game on Tuesday.

Two Stage Detectives Hissed by Inmates Of Bay State Jail

BOSTON, April. —A detective is about as popular in Charlestown State prison as a bathing suit is in Alaska.

In fact, the sleuth is held in such disdain at the jail that a harmless actor, playing the role of a detective in a stake play, receives nothing but hisses from the prisoners.

The farce comedy, "Three Live Ghosts," was presented for 700 prisoners. It was the first time in the history of the old prison that a theatrical company presented a show within the prison walls.

Everything in the play went along smoothly until two stage detectives appeared before the footlights. The prisoners booed and hissed for several minutes.

Picturization of the serial story "Captain Blood" at the Ceramic all next week.
